THE BRAINERD DAILY DISPATCH

Volume 29, Number 208 | Full Leased Wire Service of United Press Association | BRAINERD, MINNESOTA, WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 5, 1930 | Printed on Paper Made in Brainerd | Price Three Cents

EACH NATION TO NAME NAVAL TONNAGE NEEDS

SUCH SOVEREIGN RIGHT RECOGNIZED BY THE FRENCH

FRENCH DELEGATION'S QUESTIONNAIRE OF LAST WEEK WENT UNANSWERED

NO DEADLOCK APPARENT ON QUESTION OF LIMITATION BY CATEGORIES

By RAYMOND CLAPPER
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

London, Feb. 5—(U.P.)—The sovereign right of each country to name its naval tonnage requirements is recognized by France, the spokesman for the French delegation at the five-power naval conference said today.

He said that until the conference agrees on the question of how tonnage shall be classified among the various categories of ships, no estimated figures will be given of each country's needs.

The French delegation last week had passed around a questionnaire asking each country to specify its needs, but it met with no response. Italy, seeking parity with France, must first know the French estimate of how much it needs for national security before Italy can state her own needs. Japan, seeking a 70 per cent ratio against Britain and the United States, is in a similar position, while the British and American needs also depend on each other.

The statement by the French spokesman reiterates a principle already affirmed by speakers at the conference—that naval reduction is voluntary and when made, does not nullify the principle that a nation is entitled to such naval strength as it considers necessary for national protection and security.

The French spokesman also said there was no deadlock on the question of limitation by categories, a compromise on which is now being worked out by the delegations.

London, Feb. 5.—With no formal gathering of the "Big Five" delegates to the London naval conference scheduled until tonight, the conferees devoted today to informal discussion of the technicalities raised by France and Great Britain.

There was a growing tendency among the Americans to regard the questions now being discussed as subordinate to the main purpose of the conference.

The United States has no intention, it was learned authoritatively, of entering any preliminary agreement on battleship reduction until a general, definite prgoram has been completed by the conference.

Instead, America can stand pat, with the knowledge that her superior economic position and her ability to build battleships at will gives her a distinct advantage in the bargaining over tonnage that is still to come.

The debate over classifications, therefore, takes on the light of a preliminary skirmish. When the question of cruiser strength comes up for consideration, the American delegation may reveal more of the United States' real policy.

LINDBERGH TINKERS WITH PLANE ON HIS 28TH BIRTHDAY

Los Angeles, Feb. 5.—(U.P.)—After spending his 28th birthday tinkering with his Lockheed Sirius monoplane Col. Charles A. Lindbergh planned today to return to a mountain camp near Sandberg to learn more about gliding in high altitudes. With him will be Hawley Bowlus, former flying companion and owner of the glider in which the two men are conducting experiments in the variable air currents of the mountain region.

WITHDRAWS PROTEST AGAINST SEN. NORRIS

Lincoln, Neb., Feb. 5.—(U.P.)—Leaving the choice of a republican candidate for United States senator from Nebraska to the voters of the state Willard Clapp, Cass county farmer, today withdrew his protest to Sen. George W. Norris, of McCook county, filing for renomination on the republican ticket.

GETS LIFE SENTENCE ON MURDER CHARGE

Chicago, Feb. 5.—(U.P.)—Samuel Howard Dorr, Chicago insurance salesman who was sentenced to life imprisonment for the murder of William O'Brien, and seven other prisoners were held in solitary confinement at the county jail today, as the result of an attempted jail break.

SECOND BOMBING CONVICTION IN COOK COUNTY

Chicago, Feb. 5.—(U.P.)—Conviction of Nathan Vehon, wealthy manufacturer, for engineering the bombing of his brother-in-law's home, was the second bombing conviction in Cook county in eight years although there have been 771 bombs exploded here in that time it was revealed today.

Another Bomb Blast in Chicago Plus Two Murders

HORSE DECIDED THAT AUTOS WERE ONLY SMALL TURNIPS

New York, Feb. 5—(U.P.)—Thomas Downey, 26, is going to have to get a lower geared horse if he plans to continue driving a wagon through the streets of New York.

Downey is serving a two day jail sentence on a charge of driving a horse and wagon in a reckless manner. According to Downey, the horse suddenly decided that automobiles were nothing but small turnips in the transportation world and then began a mad, weaving race through traffic.

WM. HOWARD TAFT IS FIGHTING A GOOD FIGHT AT HOSPITAL

CONDITION AFTER ORDEAL OF LONG TRAIN TRIP DEEMED SERIOUS

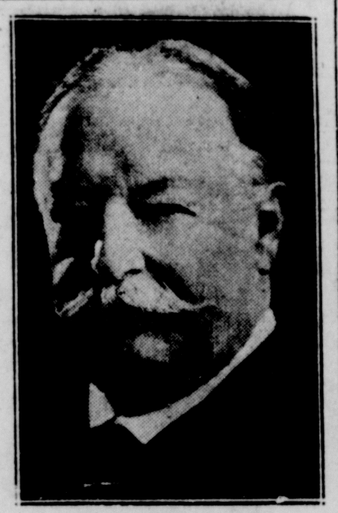

HAS WEAKENING BLOOD SYSTEM, WITH HIS HEART HEAVILY TAXED

By THOMAS L. STOKES
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Washington, Feb. 5.—William Howard Taft was fighting a good fight today against an adversary never encountered in the courts of law.

Reclining among pillows, much against his will, the tired old gentleman who has lived vigorously and fully and has served his country in the highest places in its gift, smiled again his famous smile, courageously, though a bit wanly, and thus denoted his determination to win, if possible.

He is fighting against great odds. His physicians announced his condition soon after the ordeal of a long train trip from Asheville, N. C., as serious. Yet last night he was holding on well, and they announced that he was more alert, and possibly a little better. He slept in the afternoon and his rest appeared to be easy last night.

William Howard Taft

His fight is against a weakening blood system, with a heart heavily taxed by arduous, detailed attention to the supreme court and by grief over the death of his brother, Charles P. Taft. But the heart is still brave.

The former chief justice is suffering no pain and has no fever.

This was announced last night after a special consultation of his physicians—Dr. Francis R. Hagner and Dr. Thomas A. Clayton—with Dr. William S. Thayer, Johns Hopkins University heart specialist. Thayer returned to Baltimore after the consultation.

PRUSSIA TRYING TO STEER MIDDLE COURSE

Berlin, Feb. 5.—(U.P.)—Prussia is attempting to steer a middle course between communism and fascism. By decree of the Prussian minister of the interior, neither fascists nor communists will be permitted to take office if they are elected burgomasters of Prussian towns.

SAO PAULO STREETS RESEMBLING VENICE

Sao Paulo, Brazil, Feb. 5.—(U.P.)—Streets in some sections of this city resembled the canals of Venice in the last 48 hours as a result of heavy rains which flooded the outskirts. Residents were forced to go about in rowboats. The water have receded.

Business Men, Physicians, Scientists and Prison Officials Before House Committee

FEATURE HEARINGS ON PRESENT ANTI PROHIBITION BILL

PLAN ADOPTED BY WETS TO MAKE HEARINGS "EDUCATIONAL" CAMPAIGN

WET SPOKESMEN SUCH AS ALFRED E. SMITH ARE ELIMINATED

By PAUL R. MALLON
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Washington, Feb. 5.—Business men, physicians, scientists and prison officials, rather than famous and outspoken wets, will feature the hearings on anti-prohibition bills to open before the house judiciary committee next week.

This plan was adopted by house wet leaders today in an effort to make the hearings a serious "educational" campaign, instead of just another forum for the worn, familiar arguments the man on the street has heard for ten years.

In making up their lists of witnesses they have eliminated such wet spokesmen as Alfred E. Smith, democratic presidential candidate last year; Dr. Nicholas Butler, president of Columbia University, and others who have made an issue of their views.

Realizing they have absolutely no hope of action on bills proposing repeal of the 18th amendment, wet leaders will attempt to convince the country that the present prohibition laws have failed.

The wet bloc will make a particular effort to include among its witnesses men and women who have changed their views regarding prohibition since it became effective, especially those who voted for the amendment but now favor modification or repeal.

The group has decided to take no stand on the bill proposing transfer of the prohibition bureau from the treasury to the justice department, which comes up in the house tomorrow. Each member will make his own decisions on this measure.

Meanwhile prohibition still was subordinated to the tariff in the senate. Wet and dry leaders, although having difficulty restraining themselves, are working under a gentlemen's agreement to get the tariff bill out of the way before re-opening the popular prohibition controversy.

The senate acted on the last finance committee amendment to the tariff bill yesterday and today began to go through the bill again for consideration of amendments offered by individual senators.

Estimates of the length of time it will take to act on the more than 200 individual amendments vary from two weeks to a month. After they are completed there will be separate votes on sugar, hides, leathers and shoes, and the amendment removing literary censorship by customs agents.

AMERICA IN FIFTH PLACE IN BUILDING COMMERCIAL SHIPS

London, Feb. 5.—(U.P.)—America took fifth place among the nations building commercial ships in 1929, according to Lloyds' annual summary made public today. Out of 2,793,210 tons of shipping built last year, Great Britain and Ireland constructed more than half of the total, or 1,522,623 tons.

American yards turned out a total of 126,063 tons.

San Marino Celebrates Its Independence Day

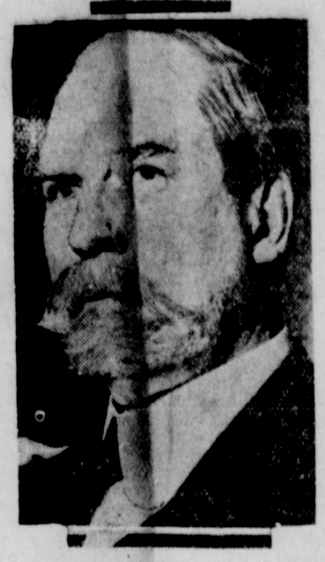

San Marino, Feb. 5.—(U.P.)—Inhabitants of the small republic of San Marino today celebrated the anniversary of their independence. The two regents, who hold office only six months at a time, attended the ceremonies which were witnessed by a number of Italians from the nearby town of Rimini. A few other foreigners came into this projection of the Apennines to observe the festival.

WILLING TO GIVE WIFE ALIMONY IN SHAPE OF LEMONS

Los Angeles, Feb. 5.—(U.P.)—Henrietta McLaren asked for alimony in Superior Judge Walter Guerin's court yesterday and charged that her husband, Alfred McLaren, a lemon grower, was $800 in arrears in alimony payments.

When the husband stated he had no money but owned a lemon crop, the judge said, "Well, Mrs. McLaren can have the lemons until June, as her alimony.

New Chief Justice

Charles Evans Hughes, who has been named by President Hoover as chief justice of the United States supreme court to succeed William Howard Taft, resigned.

MRS. S. A. RASK SPEAKS OF LAW ENFORCEMENT

WOMEN'S CLUB HEAD SAYS EVERY WOMAN IN STATE SHOULD GIVE AID

IS THE OBLIGATION OF EACH TO OBEY ALL THE LAWS OF COMMONWEALTH

Duluth, Feb. 5.—(U.P.) — Mrs. S. A. Rask, Blooming Prairie, president of the State Federation of Women's Clubs, today told delegates to the mid-winter meeting that every woman in the state should aid law enforcement by obeying all the laws.

Mrs. Rask said it was the obligation of every woman to obey a law whether she likes it or not if she approved of the general principle of law enforcement.

The state president also said that the women should exert their influence to see that the Shipstead-Newton,Nolan bill was passed by congress to protect the northern Minnesota forests from despoilation. These forests, she pointed out, are one of the chief attractions that have made this state the Mecca for summer vacationists that it is today.

Other objectives of the federation outlined by Mrs. Rask included support of religious training of children in churches, active participation in the national organization's campaign to raise a $2,000,000 endowment and development of health activities in all communities, especially the teaching of health to children.

STREET FIGHT BETWEEN STUDENTS OVER A CO-ED

DEAN E. E. NICHOLSON INVESTIGATES FRACAS BASED ON CHIVALRY

ONE STUDENT HAD TWO BLACK EYES, SEVERAL OTHERS HAD BATTLE SCARS

Minneapolis, Minn., Feb. 5.—(U.P.)—In a romantic moving picture, the caption read, "Then came the dawn," but on the current playlet on the University of Minnesota campus, it was, "Then came the dean."

Dean E. E. Nicholson, in charge of student affairs, today investigated a street fight between students over a co-ed, which if rumors be correct was based on the highest ideals of chivalry.

One student had two blackened eyes and several others had scars of battle which they said they won, like knights of old, defending their fair ladies and their honor.

One student, an outsider, was said to have invaded a fraternity dance Saturday night and, either by his excessively good looks or persuasive conversation, induced a guest to leave. Her partner announced he had been insulted. His fraternity brothers all agreed. And beside there was the honor of the fraternity.

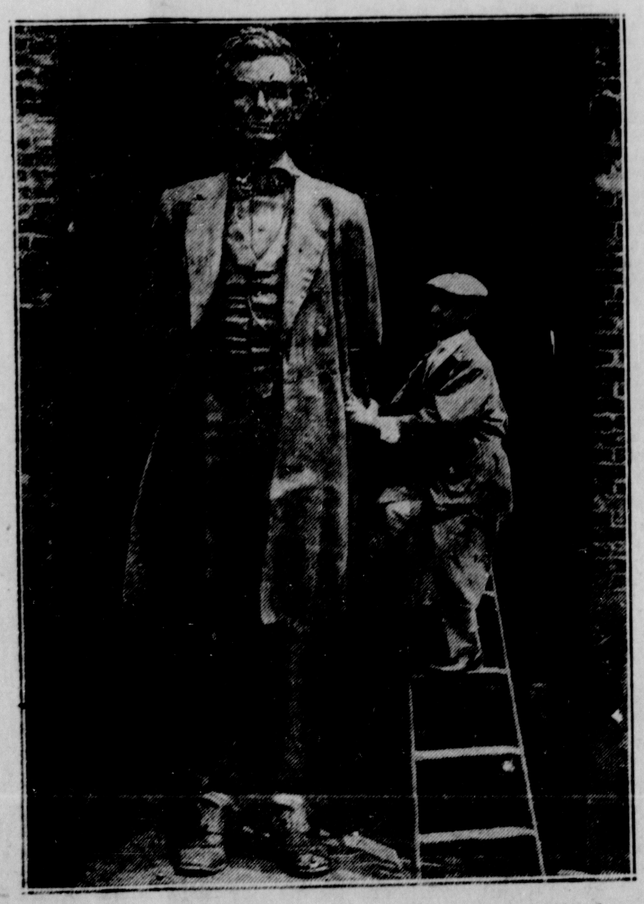

Off they ran on the warpath after the co-ed and the vanishing visitor. Then things happened. And when the fight was over, suggestions prevailed that medical treatment might not be amiss.

Who, if anyone, escorted the co-ed home was not disclosed.

RUSSIAN IMMIGRANTS ON WAY TO BRAZIL

Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, Feb. 5.—(U.P.)—The first group of Russian immigrants of German descent numbering 166 persons en route to Parana state arrived yesterday on the steamer Note Olivia from Hamburg, Germany. The German government negotiated first with the Soviet to get them out of Russia and then with Brazil to gain them permission to settle in this country.

"HONEST ABE"

Leonard Crunelle working on his statue of Abraham Lincoln at Freeport, Ill.

TRUE TO HER NAME, GIRL WINS BEAUTY POSTURE CONTEST

St. Louis, Feb. 5.—(U.P.)—True to her name, Miss Venus Fredickson has found herself selected from 230 Washington university girls as the most perfectly postured.

After a week of elimination tests among freshmen co-eds judges picked Miss Venus, who is 17 and a blonde. She weighs 120, is five feet, four inches in height, likes athletics and according to judges stands and walks with the essence of grace.

GOV. KOHLER OF WISCONSIN IN HIGH SPIRITS

STATE SUPREME COURT RULING SAYS HE MUST FACE OUSTER PROCEEDINGS

HOLDS PROMISE OF RELEASE FROM PUBLIC LIFE AND RETURN TO CIVILIAN

Madison, Feb. 5.—(U.P.)—Wisconsin's millionaire governor was in high humor today and his friends said it was because a state supreme court ruling that he must face ouster proceedings held the promise of release from public life and a return to flying, horseback riding and keeping up with the boxing game.

Gov. Walter J. Kohler, who put color in America's bathrooms with the lavender bathtubs and aquamarine wash basins of the $44,000,000 plumbing corporation of which he is president, was drafted for political service. His stormy administration has led him to remark many times that he would be glad when he could go back to "River Bend," his castle-like home at the town bearing his name.

That attitude on the part of the governor brought dismay into ranks of his supporters today. They feared the action of the supreme court yesterday in reversing a circuit court decision and remanding his case for retrial would influence Gov. Kohler against seeking a second term.

The ouster action, which was started soon after Gov. Kohler's inauguration last year, was based on charges of excessvie expenditures during his campaign. After the wealthy manufacturer defeated the candidate of the LaFollette progressive faction, P. F. LaFollette, brother of Senator R. M. LaFollette, and William F. Evjue, editor of The Madison Capital-Times, brought charges that Kohler had allowed $100,000 to be spent in his campaign, thereby violating the state corrupt practices act.

The action is the third court proceeding the governor has met in defense of his right to hold office and is the second to reach the state supreme court. He has been in office little more than a year.

This latest obstacle may make the job so distasteful, his friends fear, that he will not run for the governorship again.

An unusual family life has been disrupted by his entrance into public life. Four sons are the executive's companions at home. None of them accompanied him to the governor's residence in Madison. Two are in school and two are at Kohler.

The millionaire and his sons are boon companions when he is with them. They ride on the bridle path or at the hurdles, skate in winter, and engage in other sports.

All are flying enthusiasts. Two of the boys are licensed pilots and the governor employs a pilot to take him to and from his home in the private plane in which he campaigned all throughout the state.

Life at "River Bend" was gay and free from the annoyances that have come with political strife.

Life in the statehouse has been under constant strain. Night after night during the nine months the legislature was in session last year, the governor worked at his desk until past midnight trying to put his policies into effect. Even his bitterest political enemies have given him credit for accomplishments in the interest of more efficient government.

CONGRESS TODAY

Senate

Begins consideration of individual amendments to the tariff bill.

Continues radio-telephone hearings.

Foreign relations committee considers bills on calendar and nominations.

Public lands committee considers bill proposing public domains commission.

House

Resumes consideration of bill to tax colored cooking compounds.

Public lands committee continues hearings on bill to conserve northern Minnesota resort lands.

Flood control committee considers Florida projects.

ROARS THROUGH THREE WEST SIDE STORE BUILDINGS

ROUNDS OUT WEEK OF CRIME AND TERRORISM IN THE CITY

TOTALS 6 GANG MURDERS AND 2 SHOOTINGS WHICH MAY PROVE FATAL

Chicago, Feb. 5—(U.P.)—An explosion, believed caused by a bomb, roared through three west side stores today, spreading flame that did $50,000 damage and rounding out a week of crime and terrorism that had witnessed six gang murders and two shootings that may prove fatal to the victims.

Two murders were added to the toll in the last 20 hours.

The morning blast rocked the district, shatering windows in adjacent structures, and littering the streets with debris.

Two more gangland killings had brought the toll of one of the bloodiest weeks in Chicago's history to six today.

Two other men "put on the spot" by gunmen in the last six days lay in hospitals, their bodies ripped and torn by bullets.

State's Attorney John A. Swanson and Police Commissioner William Russell had just concluded their second emergency conference on means to stem the tide of murder, bombing, banditry and terrorism when word of the latest outburst of gang vengeance reached them.

The expensively furnished apartment of Joseph Buchere, neighborhood grocer on the southwest side, was his death trap. Three men who drank wine with him late last night were believed to have shot him. His body, two bullets through the head, lay crumpled on the floor.

Earlier in the day, Philip Marchese, racketeer with a long police record, was riddled with bullets on a street corner within sight of children playing in the yard of the Irving school.

As in most of the other slayings of the week, police were almost helpless for lack of definite motives and clues.

Buchere's murder was sinister. Mrs. Elizabeth Tadzunas, proprietor of a grocery beneath his apartment, gave police the only information they had been able to gain. She said three men strode up the steps to Buchere's apartment after sounding the buzzer, early in the evening.

"The radio was playing softly then," she said. "I heard voices, low at first, then getting louder as if the men were angry. Then the radio was turned on louder and drowning out what they were saying. There was a thud and the men ran out by the back stairway."

Four half-filled wine glasses were on a table when police broke in. In the effects of the grocer, a Sicilian, police found a notice of cancellation of insurance on his store, effective Jan. 30, and they believed that might have had some bearing on the quarrel that led to the murder.

Buchere's wife, convalescing from illness at her parents' home at Clinton, Ind., was notified of his death today.

Gunmen in an automobile sped up to the curb and sent a hail of lead into the body of Marchese, the racketeer. His police record revealed he had been acquitted of a charge of killing two patrons in a saloon, had served a prison term for attempting to abduct two women and had shot and wounded a man in a street quarrel, but escaped prosecution.

Killings have occurred with a regularity that has brought unrest even to Chicago, hardened to its daily grist of crime and bloodshed. The previous murders were those of: Barney J. Mitchell, treasurer of the Checker Cab Company; Glenn Jackson, driver for the company; Joseph "Motor Car" Cada, dude gangster; and Julius Rosenheim, informer against criminals.

Chicago, Feb. 5.—(U.P.) — Chicago's epidemic of murderous assaults extended to the campus of the University of Chicago today when Phillip Meagher, 35, was critically wounded by a gunman who fired into his back and then fled through the university midway in a small sedan.

Meagher was construction superintendent of the H. P. Barnard Company, which is building the new lying-in hospital on the campus. Labor trouble was blamed foo the shooting.

Meagher was the ninth man to be shot in the streets here within six days. Seven of the victims have died.

While detectives were questioning Meagher at Billings hospital, William Healy, the ber racketeer who crawled out of a west side alley yesterday with bullet wounds in his head and back, died of his wounds at Peoples hospital. In a death bed statement he had named three "friends" as the men who shot him.

Healy's death brought to seven the number of men killed in street shootings here in the last six days.

THE BRAINERD DAILY DISPATCH

Volume 29, Number 208 | Full Leased Wire Service of United Press Association | BRAINERD, MINNESOTA, WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 5, 1930 | Printed on Paper Made in Brainerd | Price Three Cents

EACH NATION TO NAME NAVAL TONNAGE NEEDS

SUCH SOVEREIGN RIGHT RECOGNIZED BY THE FRENCH

FRENCH DELEGATION'S QUESTIONNAIRE OF LAST WEEK WENT UNANSWERED

NO DEADLOCK APPARENT ON QUESTION OF LIMITATION BY CATEGORIES

By RAYMOND CLAPPER
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

London, Feb. 5—(U.P.)—The sovereign right of each country to name its naval tonnage requirements is recognized by France, the spokesman for the French delegation at the five-power naval conference said today.

He said that until the conference agrees on the question of how tonnage shall be classified among the various categories of ships, no estimated figures will be given of each country's needs.

The French delegation last week had passed around a questionnaire asking each country to specify its needs, but it met with no response. Italy, seeking parity with France, must first know the French estimate of how much it needs for national security before Italy can state her own needs. Japan, seeking a 70 per cent ratio against Britain and the United States, is in a similar position, while the British and American needs also depend on each other.

The statement by the French spokesman reiterates a principle already affirmed by speakers at the conference—that naval reduction is voluntary and when made, does not nullify the principle that a nation is entitled to such naval strength as it considers necessary for national protection and security.

The French spokesman also said there was no deadlock on the question of limitation by categories, a compromise on which is now being worked out by the delegations.

London, Feb. 5.—With no formal gathering of the "Big Five" delegates to the London naval conference scheduled until tonight, the conferees devoted today to informal discussion of the technicalities raised by France and Great Britain.

There was a growing tendency among the Americans to regard the questions now being discussed as subordinate to the main purpose of the conference.

The United States has no intention, it was learned authoritatively, of entering any preliminary agreement on battleship reduction until a general, definite prgoram has been completed by the conference.

Instead, America can stand pat, with the knowledge that her superior economic position and her ability to build battleships at will gives her a distinct advantage in the bargaining over tonnage that is still to come.

The debate over classifications, therefore, takes on the light of a preliminary skirmish. When the question of cruiser strength comes up for consideration, the American delegation may reveal more of the United States' real policy.

LINDBERGH TINKERS WITH PLANE ON HIS 28TH BIRTHDAY

Los Angeles, Feb. 5.—(U.P.)—After spending his 28th birthday tinkering with his Lockheed Sirius monoplane Col. Charles A. Lindbergh planned today to return to a mountain camp near Sandberg to learn more about gliding in high altitudes. With him will be Hawley Bowlus, former flying companion and owner of the glider in which the two men are conducting experiments in the variable air currents of the mountain region.

WITHDRAWS PROTEST AGAINST SEN. NORRIS

Lincoln, Neb., Feb. 5.—(U.P.)—Leaving the choice of a republican candidate for United States senator from Nebraska to the voters of the state Willard Clapp, Cass county farmer, today withdrew his protest to Sen. George W. Norris, of McCook county, filing for renomination on the republican ticket.

GETS LIFE SENTENCE ON MURDER CHARGE

Chicago, Feb. 5.—(U.P.)—Samuel Howard Dorr, Chicago insurance salesman who was sentenced to life imprisonment for the murder of William O'Brien, and seven other prisoners were held in solitary confinement at the county jail today, as the result of an attempted jail break.

SECOND BOMBING CONVICTION IN COOK COUNTY

Chicago, Feb. 5.—(U.P.)—Conviction of Nathan Vehon, wealthy manufacturer, for engineering the bombing of his brother-in-law's home, was the second bombing conviction in Cook county in eight years although there have been 771 bombs exploded here in that time it was revealed today.

Another Bomb Blast in Chicago Plus Two Murders

HORSE DECIDED THAT AUTOS WERE ONLY SMALL TURNIPS

New York, Feb. 5—(U.P.)—Thomas Downey, 26, is going to have to get a lower geared horse if he plans to continue driving a wagon through the streets of New York.

Downey is serving a two day jail sentence on a charge of driving a horse and wagon in a reckless manner. According to Downey, the horse suddenly decided that automobiles were nothing but small turnips in the transportation world and then began a mad, weaving race through traffic.

WM. HOWARD TAFT IS FIGHTING A GOOD FIGHT AT HOSPITAL

CONDITION AFTER ORDEAL OF LONG TRAIN TRIP DEEMED SERIOUS

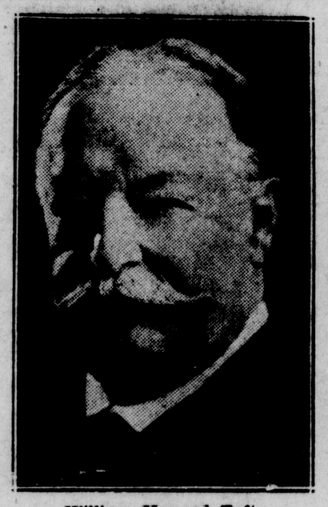

HAS WEAKENING BLOOD SYSTEM, WITH HIS HEART HEAVILY TAXED

By THOMAS L. STOKES
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Washington, Feb. 5.—William Howard Taft was fighting a good fight today against an adversary never encountered in the courts of law.

Reclining among pillows, much against his will, the tired old gentleman who has lived vigorously and fully and has served his country in the highest places in its gift, smiled again his famous smile, courageously, though a bit wanly, and thus denoted his determination to win, if possible.

He is fighting against great odds. His physicians announced his condition soon after the ordeal of a long train trip from Asheville, N. C., as serious. Yet last night he was holding on well, and they announced that he was more alert, and possibly a little better. He slept in the afternoon and his rest appeared to be easy last night.

William Howard Taft

His fight is against a weakening blood system, with a heart heavily taxed by arduous, detailed attention to the supreme court and by grief over the death of his brother, Charles P. Taft. But the heart is still brave.

The former chief justice is suffering no pain and has no fever.

This was announced last night after a special consultation of his physicians—Dr. Francis R. Hagner and Dr. Thomas A. Clayton—with Dr. William S. Thayer, Johns Hopkins University heart specialist. Thayer returned to Baltimore after the consultation.

PRUSSIA TRYING TO STEER MIDDLE COURSE

Berlin, Feb. 5.—(U.P.)—Prussia is attempting to steer a middle course between communism and fascism. By decree of the Prussian minister of the interior, neither fascists nor communists will be permitted to take office if they are elected burgomasters of Prussian towns.

SAO PAULO STREETS RESEMBLING VENICE

Sao Paulo, Brazil, Feb. 5.—(U.P.)—Streets in some sections of this city resembled the canals of Venice in the last 48 hours as a result of heavy rains which flooded the outskirts. Residents were forced to go about in rowboats. The water have receded.

Business Men, Physicians, Scientists and Prison Officials Before House Committee

FEATURE HEARINGS ON PRESENT ANTI PROHIBITION BILL

PLAN ADOPTED BY WETS TO MAKE HEARINGS "EDUCATIONAL" CAMPAIGN

WET SPOKESMEN SUCH AS ALFRED E. SMITH ARE ELIMINATED

By PAUL R. MALLON
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Washington, Feb. 5.—Business men, physicians, scientists and prison officials, rather than famous and outspoken wets, will feature the hearings on anti-prohibition bills to open before the house judiciary committee next week.

This plan was adopted by house wet leaders today in an effort to make the hearings a serious "educational" campaign, instead of just another forum for the worn, familiar arguments the man on the street has heard for ten years.

In making up their lists of witnesses they have eliminated such wet spokesmen as Alfred E. Smith, democratic presidential candidate last year; Dr. Nicholas Butler, president of Columbia University, and others who have made an issue of their views.

Realizing they have absolutely no hope of action on bills proposing repeal of the 18th amendment, wet leaders will attempt to convince the country that the present prohibition laws have failed.

The wet bloc will make a particular effort to include among its witnesses men and women who have changed their views regarding prohibition since it became effective, especially those who voted for the amendment but now favor modification or repeal.

The group has decided to take no stand on the bill proposing transfer of the prohibition bureau from the treasury to the justice department, which comes up in the house tomorrow. Each member will make his own decisions on this measure.

Meanwhile prohibition still was subordinated to the tariff in the senate. Wet and dry leaders, although having difficulty restraining themselves, are working under a gentlemen's agreement to get the tariff bill out of the way before re-opening the popular prohibition controversy.

The senate acted on the last finance committee amendment to the tariff bill yesterday and today began to go through the bill again for consideration of amendments offered by individual senators.

Estimates of the length of time it will take to act on the more than 200 individual amendments vary from two weeks to a month. After they are completed there will be separate votes on sugar, hides, leathers and shoes, and the amendment removing literary censorship by customs agents.

AMERICA IN FIFTH PLACE IN BUILDING COMMERCIAL SHIPS

London, Feb. 5.—(U.P.)—America took fifth place among the nations building commercial ships in 1929, according to Lloyds' annual summary made public today. Out of 2,793,210 tons of shipping built last year, Great Britain and Ireland constructed more than half of the total, or 1,522,623 tons.

American yards turned out a total of 126,063 tons.

San Marino Celebrates Its Independence Day

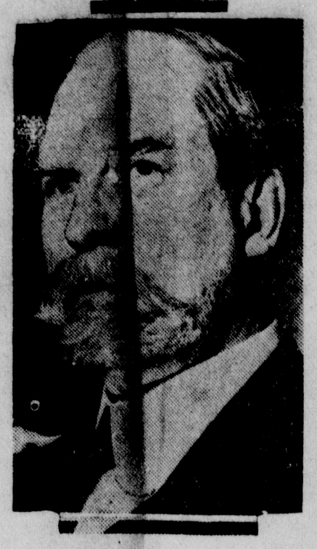

San Marino, Feb. 5.—(U.P.)—Inhabitants of the small republic of San Marino today celebrated the anniversary of their independence. The two regents, who hold office only six months at a time, attended the ceremonies which were witnessed by a number of Italians from the nearby town of Rimini. A few other foreigners came into this projection of the Apennines to observe the festival.

WILLING TO GIVE WIFE ALIMONY IN SHAPE OF LEMONS

Los Angeles, Feb. 5.—(U.P.)—Henrietta McLaren asked for alimony in Superior Judge Walter Guerin's court yesterday and charged that her husband, Alfred McLaren, a lemon grower, was $800 in arrears in alimony payments.

When the husband stated he had no money but owned a lemon crop, the judge said, "Well, Mrs. McLaren can have the lemons until June, as her alimony.

New Chief Justice

Charles Evans Hughes, who has been named by President Hoover as chief justice of the United States supreme court to succeed William Howard Taft, resigned.

MRS. S. A. RASK SPEAKS OF LAW ENFORCEMENT

WOMEN'S CLUB HEAD SAYS EVERY WOMAN IN STATE SHOULD GIVE AID

IS THE OBLIGATION OF EACH TO OBEY ALL THE LAWS OF COMMONWEALTH

Duluth, Feb. 5.—(U.P.) — Mrs. S. A. Rask, Blooming Prairie, president of the State Federation of Women's Clubs, today told delegates to the mid-winter meeting that every woman in the state should aid law enforcement by obeying all the laws.

Mrs. Rask said it was the obligation of every woman to obey a law whether she likes it or not if she approved of the general principle of law enforcement.

The state president also said that the women should exert their influence to see that the Shipstead-Newton,Nolan bill was passed by congress to protect the northern Minnesota forests from despoilation. These forests, she pointed out, are one of the chief attractions that have made this state the Mecca for summer vacationists that it is today.

Other objectives of the federation outlined by Mrs. Rask included support of religious training of children in churches, active participation in the national organization's campaign to raise a $2,000,000 endowment and development of health activities in all communities, especially the teaching of health to children.

STREET FIGHT BETWEEN STUDENTS OVER A CO-ED

DEAN E. E. NICHOLSON INVESTIGATES FRACAS BASED ON CHIVALRY

ONE STUDENT HAD TWO BLACK EYES, SEVERAL OTHERS HAD BATTLE SCARS

Minneapolis, Minn., Feb. 5.—(U.P.)—In a romantic moving picture, the caption read, "Then came the dawn," but on the current playlet on the University of Minnesota campus, it was, "Then came the dean."

Dean E. E. Nicholson, in charge of student affairs, today investigated a street fight between students over a co-ed, which if rumors be correct was based on the highest ideals of chivalry.

One student had two blackened eyes and several others had scars of battle which they said they won, like knights of old, defending their fair ladies and their honor.

One student, an outsider, was said to have invaded a fraternity dance Saturday night and, either by his excessively good looks or persuasive conversation, induced a guest to leave. Her partner announced he had been insulted. His fraternity brothers all agreed. And beside there was the honor of the fraternity.

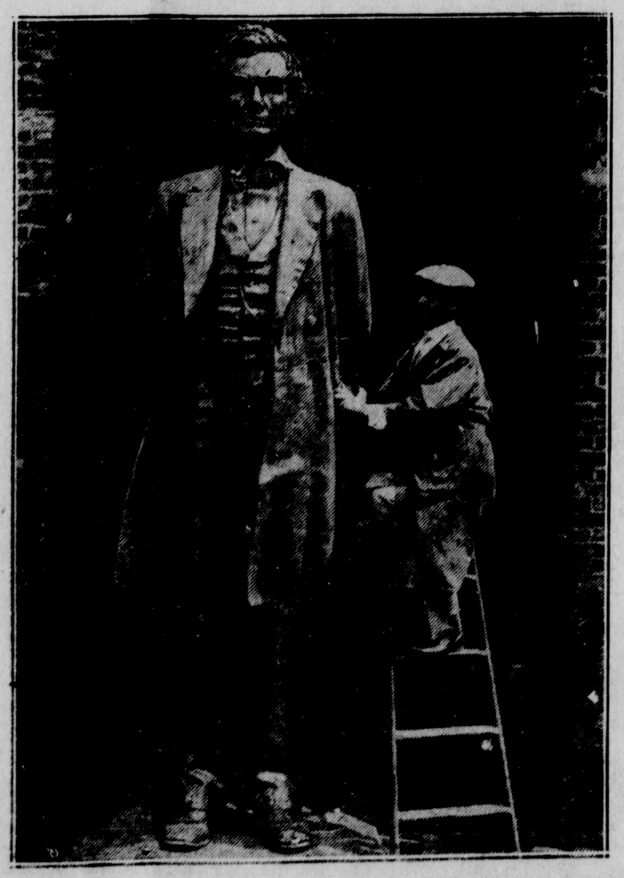

Off they ran on the warpath after the co-ed and the vanishing visitor. Then things happened. And when the fight was over, suggestions prevailed that medical treatment might not be amiss.

Who, if anyone, escorted the co-ed home was not disclosed.

RUSSIAN IMMIGRANTS ON WAY TO BRAZIL

Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, Feb. 5.—(U.P.)—The first group of Russian immigrants of German descent numbering 166 persons en route to Parana state arrived yesterday on the steamer Note Olivia from Hamburg, Germany. The German government negotiated first with the Soviet to get them out of Russia and then with Brazil to gain them permission to settle in this country.

"HONEST ABE"

Leonard Crunelle working on his statue of Abraham Lincoln at Freeport, Ill.

TRUE TO HER NAME, GIRL WINS BEAUTY POSTURE CONTEST

St. Louis, Feb. 5.—(U.P.)—True to her name, Miss Venus Fredickson has found herself selected from 230 Washington university girls as the most perfectly postured.

After a week of elimination tests among freshmen co-eds judges picked Miss Venus, who is 17 and a blonde. She weighs 120, is five feet, four inches in height, likes athletics and according to judges stands and walks with the essence of grace.

GOV. KOHLER OF WISCONSIN IN HIGH SPIRITS

STATE SUPREME COURT RULING SAYS HE MUST FACE OUSTER PROCEEDINGS

HOLDS PROMISE OF RELEASE FROM PUBLIC LIFE AND RETURN TO CIVILIAN

Madison, Feb. 5.—(U.P.)—Wisconsin's millionaire governor was in high humor today and his friends said it was because a state supreme court ruling that he must face ouster proceedings held the promise of release from public life and a return to flying, horseback riding and keeping up with the boxing game.

Gov. Walter J. Kohler, who put color in America's bathrooms with the lavender bathtubs and aquamarine wash basins of the $44,000,000 plumbing corporation of which he is president, was drafted for political service. His stormy administration has led him to remark many times that he would be glad when he could go back to "River Bend," his castle-like home at the town bearing his name.

That attitude on the part of the governor brought dismay into ranks of his supporters today. They feared the action of the supreme court yesterday in reversing a circuit court decision and remanding his case for retrial would influence Gov. Kohler against seeking a second term.

The ouster action, which was started soon after Gov. Kohler's inauguration last year, was based on charges of excessvie expenditures during his campaign. After the wealthy manufacturer defeated the candidate of the LaFollette progressive faction, P. F. LaFollette, brother of Senator R. M. LaFollette, and William F. Evjue, editor of The Madison Capital-Times, brought charges that Kohler had allowed $100,000 to be spent in his campaign, thereby violating the state corrupt practices act.

The action is the third court proceeding the governor has met in defense of his right to hold office and is the second to reach the state supreme court. He has been in office little more than a year.

This latest obstacle may make the job so distasteful, his friends fear, that he will not run for the governorship again.

An unusual family life has been disrupted by his entrance into public life. Four sons are the executive's companions at home. None of them accompanied him to the governor's residence in Madison. Two are in school and two are at Kohler.

The millionaire and his sons are boon companions when he is with them. They ride on the bridle path or at the hurdles, skate in winter, and engage in other sports.

All are flying enthusiasts. Two of the boys are licensed pilots and the governor employs a pilot to take him to and from his home in the private plane in which he campaigned all throughout the state.

Life at "River Bend" was gay and free from the annoyances that have come with political strife.

Life in the statehouse has been under constant strain. Night after night during the nine months the legislature was in session last year, the governor worked at his desk until past midnight trying to put his policies into effect. Even his bitterest political enemies have given him credit for accomplishments in the interest of more efficient government.

CONGRESS TODAY

Senate

Begins consideration of individual amendments to the tariff bill.

Continues radio-telephone hearings.

Foreign relations committee considers bills on calendar and nominations.

Public lands committee considers bill proposing public domains commission.

House

Resumes consideration of bill to tax colored cooking compounds.

Public lands committee continues hearings on bill to conserve northern Minnesota resort lands.

Flood control committee considers Florida projects.

ROARS THROUGH THREE WEST SIDE STORE BUILDINGS

ROUNDS OUT WEEK OF CRIME AND TERRORISM IN THE CITY

TOTALS 6 GANG MURDERS AND 2 SHOOTINGS WHICH MAY PROVE FATAL

Chicago, Feb. 5—(U.P.)—An explosion, believed caused by a bomb, roared through three west side stores today, spreading flame that did $50,000 damage and rounding out a week of crime and terrorism that had witnessed six gang murders and two shootings that may prove fatal to the victims.

Two murders were added to the toll in the last 20 hours.

The morning blast rocked the district, shatering windows in adjacent structures, and littering the streets with debris.

Two more gangland killings had brought the toll of one of the bloodiest weeks in Chicago's history to six today.

Two other men "put on the spot" by gunmen in the last six days lay in hospitals, their bodies ripped and torn by bullets.

State's Attorney John A. Swanson and Police Commissioner William Russell had just concluded their second emergency conference on means to stem the tide of murder, bombing, banditry and terrorism when word of the latest outburst of gang vengeance reached them.

The expensively furnished apartment of Joseph Buchere, neighborhood grocer on the southwest side, was his death trap. Three men who drank wine with him late last night were believed to have shot him. His body, two bullets through the head, lay crumpled on the floor.

Earlier in the day, Philip Marchese, racketeer with a long police record, was riddled with bullets on a street corner within sight of children playing in the yard of the Irving school.

As in most of the other slayings of the week, police were almost helpless for lack of definite motives and clues.

Buchere's murder was sinister. Mrs. Elizabeth Tadzunas, proprietor of a grocery beneath his apartment, gave police the only information they had been able to gain. She said three men strode up the steps to Buchere's apartment after sounding the buzzer, early in the evening.

"The radio was playing softly then," she said. "I heard voices, low at first, then getting louder as if the men were angry. Then the radio was turned on louder and drowning out what they were saying. There was a thud and the men ran out by the back stairway."

Four half-filled wine glasses were on a table when police broke in. In the effects of the grocer, a Sicilian, police found a notice of cancellation of insurance on his store, effective Jan. 30, and they believed that might have had some bearing on the quarrel that led to the murder.

Buchere's wife, convalescing from illness at her parents' home at Clinton, Ind., was notified of his death today.

Gunmen in an automobile sped up to the curb and sent a hail of lead into the body of Marchese, the racketeer. His police record revealed he had been acquitted of a charge of killing two patrons in a saloon, had served a prison term for attempting to abduct two women and had shot and wounded a man in a street quarrel, but escaped prosecution.

Killings have occurred with a regularity that has brought unrest even to Chicago, hardened to its daily grist of crime and bloodshed. The previous murders were those of: Barney J. Mitchell, treasurer of the Checker Cab Company; Glenn Jackson, driver for the company; Joseph "Motor Car" Cada, dude gangster; and Julius Rosenheim, informer against criminals.

Chicago, Feb. 5.—(U.P.) — Chicago's epidemic of murderous assaults extended to the campus of the University of Chicago today when Phillip Meagher, 35, was critically wounded by a gunman who fired into his back and then fled through the university midway in a small sedan.

Meagher was construction superintendent of the H. P. Barnard Company, which is building the new lying-in hospital on the campus. Labor trouble was blamed foo the shooting.

Meagher was the ninth man to be shot in the streets here within six days. Seven of the victims have died.

While detectives were questioning Meagher at Billings hospital, William Healy, the ber racketeer who crawled out of a west side alley yesterday with bullet wounds in his head and back, died of his wounds at Peoples hospital. In a death bed statement he had named three "friends" as the men who shot him.

Healy's death brought to seven the number of men killed in street shootings here in the last six days.

PERSONAL, CLUB and LOCAL NEWS

Telephone 74

Jess Britton went to St. Cloud today on a business trip.

—o—

Mrs. W. E. Willson left today for Princeton to visit her daughter.

—o—

Con O'Brien is spenidng a few days in the Twin Cities on business.

—o—

Henry Rosko left for the Cities yesterday to attend the auto show.

—o—

T. L. Livingston of Woodrow was a business visitor in the city today.

—o—

Latest Brunswick records. Folsom Music Co. 208t2

—o—

Mr. Bushey of Merrifield was a business visitor in Brainerd this morning.

—o—

Miss Enza Britton left this morning for St. Cloud where she spent the day

—o—

Dave Nygren of Long Lake was a business visitor in the city last evening.

—o—

Henry Nolan left this morning for Minneapolis where he will attend the auto show.

—o—

Don't fail to attend the Elks' Dance after the game Friday night at the Elks' hall, Brainerd. Eli Rice and his Ten Dixie Cottonpickers will play from 9 p. m. to 1 a. m. 1t

—o—

William Roth left Sunday for Minneapolis to attend the auto show and also visit with friends.

—o—

Attorney B. J. Johnson of Crosby called in Brainerd this morning to transact legal business.

—o—

Mrs. Anthony Bourassa of Long Lake called in Brainerd yesterday afternoon on a short visit.

—o—

Martin Tautges of St. Mathias called in Brainerd yesterday afternoon to transact business.

—o—

Levi Johnson returned yesterday noon from a business trip in the west. He was gone for several days.

—o—

Auction 3000 pound team, 5 and 7 years old, also outfit. Scotties Barn, 2 o'clock, Saturday. 208t2p

—o—

Mrs. Gertrude Wolford returned to her position at the J. C. Penney Company after a two weeks vacation.

—o—

Roy A. Harris of Deerwood was among the out of town business transactors in the city yesterday afternoon.

—o—

A. H. Stokes, auditor of the U. S. Fidelity Co., is in the city checking compensation at the court house offices.

—o—

For sale or rent store on highway, with two gas pumps, doing good business. Phone 970. 207t2p

—o—

Mrs. Roy G. Carlson of Alexandria is visiting at the homes of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Carlson, and Mr. and Mrs. Dave Soderlund.

—o—

Mrs. William King and her two sons, Glen King and Ray King, all of Pequot, called on friends this afternoon in the city.

—o—

Mrs. Frank Every of South Long Lake visited with friends in Brainerd yesterday afternoon, returning to her home last evening.

—o—

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Norquist of Northeast Brainerd left this afternoon for the Twin Cities where they will make an extended visit.

—o—

Miss Etta Edden has returned to her home in Little Falls after spending the past three weeks in the city visiting with relatives and friends.

—o—

BIGGEST HIT OF THE YEAR

You're missing it if you do not attend the Elks' Dance at the Elks' hall here Friday night, 9 p. m. to 1 a. m. Eli Rice and his Ten Dixie Cottonpickers. 1t

—o—

Mr. and Mrs. J. Bernardy of Duluth visited with Mr. and Mrs. I. L. Salter for a couple hours this morning on route from their home to Minneapolis.

—o—

George Lind has returned from Little Falls where he attended the St. Cloud district meeting of the Equitable Life Assurance Society representatives.

—o—

Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Olson of the Home Bakery, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Hanson, left last evening for the Twin Cities to attend the auto show.

—o—

District Deputy of the Knights of Columbus Mr. Grimes has returned to his home at Little Falls after being in the city last evening to install officers of the local K. of C.

—o—

First Congregational church supper. Circle No. 1 of the First Congregational church will serve the regular monthly supper on Thursday, Feb. 6. Serving will start at 6 P. M. 1t

—o—

Mrs. Joseph Koyiol and son, Bobby

CHRIST FOR ALL—ALL FOR CHRIST
The Word of God
Thy word is a lamp unto my feet, and a light unto my path.—Psalm 119: 105.

Highly Commended — I thank my God through Jesus Christ for you all, that your faith is spoken of throughout the whole world.—Romans 1:8.

Prayer:

O God, help everyone that has named Thy name to make a good record.

The Weather

Minnesota — Snow probably tonight and Thursday; rising temperature tonight; colder in northwest portion Thursday.

Feb. 4.—High 27, low 11. In evening 19. Cloudy. Northwest wind. Trace snow.

Feb. 5.—Minimum last night 9. At 8 A. M. 9. Cloudy. Northwest wind. Trace snow.

BULLETIN BOARD

Tonight

M. E. Official Board meeting, 7:45.
M. E. Trustees meeting, 7:30.
Spanish Class—607 Holly street.
Unity Lodge No. 194—I.O.O.F. Hall.
Lions Club, 6:15—Ransford Hotel.
Yoemen—Moose Hall.
Svea Sick Benefit Association.
Municipal Band practice — Farmers Room, Court House.
Women's Catholic Order of Foresters—Guild Hall.

Thursday Afternoon

Sewing Circle No. 3, Norwegian Danish Lutheran church—1207 East Oak St.
Home League—Salvation Army Hall

left today for the Twin Cities where they will attend the Shrine circus and visit with relatives. They expect to be gone for about a week.

—o—

"Gold Diggers of Broadway" will be given its first presentation in Brainerd at the gala midnight show Saturday night at 11:30. No advance in prices. Get up a party and attend this glorious theatrical event. 208t3

—o—

C. B. Otten of Stamford, Conn., representative of The Yale and Towne Manufacturing company, is making his annual inspection of the time locks at the Citizens State Bank.

—o—

W. T. Soneson returned today to his home in Duluth after being in the city in connection with the opening of a branch store of the S. & S. Auto Parts Company. Mr. Soneson is president of the company.

—o—

Try a Fluxatone noise eliminator on your radio. Sold by Folsom Music Co. 208t2

—o—

The Randall Cooperative Creamery association passed a resolution in their annual meeting Monday asking merchants to refrain from sale of butter substitutes. The creamery is a Land O'Lakes creamery.

—o—

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Wyett left yesterday for Minneapolis on a business trip. They will also attend the auto show. From Minneapolis Mrs. Wyett will leave for Chicago for a visit with relatives, Mr. Wyett returning to the city.

INSTALL OFFICERS

Knights of Columbus Ceremonies Presided Over by District Deputy Grimes

The Knights of Columbus held installation of officers last evening at the K. C. hall. There was a record number in attendance, the hall being filled. Among those in attendance were Rev. Father J. J. Hogan, Rev. Father Taylor and Rev. Father O'Connell of Iron Mountain, formerly of this city. Each gave a very interesting talk.

District Deputy Mr. Grimes of Little Falls put on the installation, and also gave an address.

Plans for a banquet to be held soon, and other social activities of the council were discussed in the business meeting. Refreshments were served at the close.

Home Management Club

The Hay Creek Ripples Home Management club will meet Tuesday, Feb. 11, at 10:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Frank Koering.

Ladies Home League

The Ladies Home League will hold a special meeting at the Salvation Army hall on Thursday at 2 P. M. Every member is requested to be present.

Episcopal Men's Club

The Men's club of St. Paul's Episcopal Guild will meet tomorrow evening at the home of L. B. Kinder, 515 North Fifth street. Mr. Kinder and John Aiton are the hosts for the evening.

Don't suffer with
HIGH BLOOD PRESSURE
RHEUMATISM, CONSTIPATION, NERVOUSNESS, RUN DOWN CONDITION
Take only one teaspoonful of
AQUA NOVA VITA
Four times a day
Direct from nature's own laboratory 1000 feet below the earth's surface
Eliminates toxic poison—Builds a new blood stream
Makes you well—keeps you well
For your own good mail coupon today

The Aqua Nova Vita Co., Dept. E70
4205 Euclid Ave., Cleveland, Ohio
Without obligation send me particulars about your 30 day Guaranteed Treatment.
I am ailing with.....
Name .....
Street .....
Town..... State.....

DEERWOOD MAN GETS 4H CLUB POSITION

Fred Johnson Renamed County Club Agent; Membership for Year Expected Over 700

Fred Johnson of Deerwood was named county 4-H club agent for five months starting April 1 by the Crow Wing County Extension Committee which met with A. J. Kittleson, state 4-H club leader and County Agent E. G. Roth in the county agent's office this morning.

Mr. Johnson is continuing his second year as club agent and his third year in 4-H club leadership.

Already in the county 300 members have enrolled for the current year indicating that the total will surpass 700. The total enrollment in 4-H club work in the county in 1929 was 671 while for the state the figure was 37,209. The United States has an enrollment of approximately 800,000 boys and girls in the work. An increase of 16 percent was noted in this county last year over 1928.

State aid amounting to $300 is allowed 25 counties in the state including Crow Wing county for 4-H club maintenance. A balance of $200 must be raised by public subscription to pay expenses.

ACCEPTS EASTERN POST

Floyd A. Nash, Formerly of Brainerd, Leaves State to Enter Coal Company Employ

Floyd A. Nash, formerly of Brainerd and of late employed at the State Capitol, St. Paul, has resigned his position to enter the employ of the Pennsylvania Coal Co. at Scranton, Pa., according to word received here.

The Shingle Creek Harpoon, official publication of the Shingle Creek Village of the St. Paul Y. M. C., had the lage of the St. Paul Y.M.C.A. had the mayor of the organization:

"Mayor Floyd Nash has been probably the most active participant in Shingle Creek affairs since his coming here almost three years ago, in spite of the fact that he has spent many of his nights attending school.

"He came originally from Brainerd Minn., where he was prominent in Y M. C. A. and Boy Scout work. During his residence in Shingle Creek Village Floyd has held the offices of Religious, Social, Health and Physical Commissioner, Alderman and at present is the Mayor.

"It is needless to say that a man who has successively held practically every office in the village will leave behind a host of friends, who will be wishing him the best of luck in his new activity.

"Without uttering meaningless words of flattery, we want to say with utmost sincerity—and there are many others who will say it—that Floyd Nash has been one of the finest fellows we have met here. We'll be missing him in Shingle Creek."

Spanish Class

The Spanish class will meet this evening at the home of Mrs. C. D. McKay, 607 Holly street, at 8 o'clock.

W. C. T. U. Meets Tomorrow

The Women's Christian Temperance Union will meet in the Y. M. C. A. building upstairs tomorrow afternoon. Union leaders stated that a full membership was desired as important matters are to be discussed, one of the chief ones being whether or not the Brainerd union wishes to invite the district meeting of the Sixth district to convene here some time during May.

Members are invited to come and express their ideas on the subject. Leaders stated today that February was the dues-paying month and requested that all members either bring their dues to the meeting or send them to the meeting.

Punished Otherwise

Very fortunately in the school of experience, even when you flunk a couple of courses, nobody is empowered to "send you home."—Fort Wayne News Sentinel.

Amendment Imperative

Repentance without amendment, is like continued pumping in a ship without stopping the leaks.—Palmer.

SPECIAL OFFER
PERMANENT WAVE
$6.50

We are giving away a genuine Eastman Camera with each permanent or with $5 worth of work done in Beauty Shoppe.
Hess Beauty Shoppe
Call 567 for Appointments

BRAINERD 25 YEARS AGO

From the Daily Dispatch

February 5, 1905

Never in the history of Brainerd has a more representative body of business and professional men gathered together than last night when something like 150 men met in Arcade hall in the Columbian block to perfect the organization of a commercial club. A club was organized and successfully launched and will be known as "The Commercial Club of Brainerd." Mayor O'Brien called the assemblage together and in a few well chosen remarks, laid the question before the assemblage. W. D. McKay read the articles of incorporation which set forth the objects of the organization. A motion prevailed that 16 directors be elected and that the election be by ballot. The following were elected. Dr. Werner Hemstead, Con O'Brien, G. D. LaBar, W. D. McKay, R. R. Wise, F. A. Farrar, J. M. Elder, J. F. McGinnis, J. T. Sanborn, Dr. W. Courtney, C. N. Parker, Henry I. Cohen, H. P. Dunn, D. M. Clark, W. H. Cleary and C. D. Johnson.

J. R. Armstrong of St. Paul has been in the city for two or three days looking over the ground with a view of building a creamery in this city on a large scale. He is much pleased with the outlook here and says that in all probability he will decide to locate here.

Walter Smith and J. H. Noble will address the men's meeting at the Y. M. C. A. tomorrow afternoon.

Word was received in the city yesterday that the general store of Brummund & Kullander at Onigum on the Leech Lake Indian reservation was destroyed by fire at an early hour on Thursday morning. The entire stock of merchandise was consumed.

The annual ball to be given by Hose company No. 2 on Monday night in the Gardner hall will eclipse anything of the kind ever attempted in Brainerd. For this occasion the famous Dode Fisk orchestra will furnish the music. A grand concert consisting of solos, quartettes and instrumental music will precede the ball. This orchestra is famed throughout the northwest.

16th Birthday Anniversary

Miss Lucille Erickson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. F. Erickson, 412 N. Ninth street, entertained 12 of her friends last evening in honor of her 16th birthday anniversary.

The evening was spent in games, singing and music. Head prize in bunco was taken by Elwood Anderson with the consolation going to Miss Marie Lynch. In the "donkey" game, Miss Margaret Prentice won the prize.

At midnight a luncheon was served, colors being carried out in pink and white. The birthday cake was in white with the pink candles. Favors also carried out the pink and white color motif.

Miss Erickson received many lovely birthday gifts from her friends.

First Lutheran Ladies Aid

The ladies aid of the First Evangelical Lutheran church will be entertained on Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in the church parlors by Mrs. P. A. Nelson. All the members are urged to attend.

SLEIGH RIDE PARTY

Enjoyed by Young Peoples Department and Senior Department of M. E. Sunday School

The Young Peoples department and the Senior department of the Methodist Sunday school enjoyed a sleigh ride party last evening. Over 30 turned out for the event, and a beautiful drive over the Scenic river drive was enjoyed, after which all gathered at the church social rooms where games were played and a lunch served. The sleigh ride was taken in a large hay rack.

John Zander, president of the Senior department, and Bernard Foster, president of the Young People's department wish to thank the different committees and the members for their efforts in making the evening such a success.

Hiking Party

Employees of the Scott Store will enjoy a hiking party this evening. All will hike to the Northwest Paper Company where they will be taken on a tour through the mill, then hike back, followed by a lunch.

CAMP FIRE NEWS

On Monday evening the Oawensa Camp Fire girls practiced three of their songs and were taught the motions of two of them. Roll call and the secretary's report were heard. Election of officers was held at the previous meeting as follows:

President—Marion Falconer.
Secretary—Margaret Moilenen.
Treasurer—Dorothy Whitlock.
Song Leader—Gladys Haugene.
Scribe—Evelyn Potter.

Ten bird calls and some Indian symbols were also reviewed and Abbie Casey gave two Indian legends.

Plans for a sleigh ride party on Tuesday evening were made. The party would start at 7 o'clock and each member of the Camp Fire girls were to ask a friend along. After the sleigh ride a lunch was to be had at the home of Mrs. Rosell and all hike to their home. Mr. Johnson was elected to take them out. An instrument was given each girl by the guardian which they were to play while riding.

Plans were also made for the Camp Fire Birthday party. The Oawensa group will soon start making their "Indian Legend Story Books."

Scribe—Evelyn Potter.

Bethlehem Mission Circle No. 1

Mission Circle No. 1 of the Bethlehem Lutehran church meets tomorrow (Thursday) afternoon with Mrs. A. R. Johnson, 917 Ivy street.

Bethlehem Lutheran Junior Choir

The Bethlehem Lutheran Junior choir meets for rehearsal Thursday evening at 7 o'clock.

Newman Club

The Newman club will meet on Thursday evening at 8:30 o'clock at the K. of C. hall. All members are urged to come.

Croquinole Permanents
are nature's waves. Demand no finger waving. You are invited to see them given at the
LAURA LEE BEAUTY SHOP
Phone 825-J
We also give Eugene and Fredric waves.

KAPPA DELPHIANS

To Meet Friday Afternoon, February 7 at Home of Mrs. C. D. McKay

The Kappa Delphian Chapter will hold its next meeting Friday, Feb. 7 at the home of Mrs. C. D. McKay, 607 Holly at 2:30 P. M. The Chapter has decided to hold three study meetings in February and three in March in order to complete the ten month course prescribde for them by May.

The English novel of the early 18th century will be discussed at this time. Walter Scott's historical novels will be reviewed. Mrs. E. C. Herzog will give "Ivanhoe" and Mrs. C. D. McKay "Kenilworth."

Mrs. A. Turcotte will have charge of the literary program.

Critic's report—Mrs. W. C. Rasch.

President's summary — Mrs. M. P. Gerber.

District No. 28 School Report

Those who were present 20 days last month in District No. 28 school are: Gordon Guild, Leo Miller, Marion Lovsted, Betty Mathis, Helen Spenser and Stella Spenser. Carl Lovsted was present 20 days during the month of January last year. We are trying to make a better attendance record this year and we are quite pleased with our success.

Pupils who received marks of 90 or above are Marion Lovsted, Neil Miller, Leo Miller, Bernadethe Guild, Stella Spenser, Gordon Guild.

Miss Eleanor Goodrich of the Teacher's Training department of Brainerd did her practice teaching at our school. During her stay we also enjoyed a visit from Miss Reid, teacher in the department.

Friday afternoon, E. G. Roth came to the school and reorganized the 4-H club.

The following are the nine members who have enrolled: Laurence Jordan, Leo Miller, Carl Lovsted, Marion Lovsted, Loren, Dorothy and Bernadette Guild, Stella and Helen Spenser.

The Gordon school P. T. A. will hold a meeting at the school house Friday evening, February 7. Visitors are cordially invited. Lunch will be served at a small cost.

The following are some of the numbers which are to be presented in the program feature.

Community singing.
Reading—Marion Lovsted.
Song—Betty Mathis.
Song—School children.
Down on the farm—Norman Miller.
Cudip's Messenger—Gordon Guild.
The Census Taker—Wilma Hoodsky, Walter Jordan.
Community singing.
The name we sing—Group of children.

Norwegian-Danish Sewing Circle No. 3

Sewing Circle No. 3 of the Norwegian-Danish Lutheran church will meet Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Dorothy Satre, 1207 East Oak street. Visitors are welcome.

Watch for
FREE PASSES
—TO—
"GOLD DIGGERS OF BROADWAY"
Paramount Mon. Tues. and Wed.
—IN—
BRENEMAN'S
Sandwich Loaf
BRENEMAN'S BAKERY

Only men with long beards will shun this news of Spring Shirts and Neckwear

If you are a modern and model young man and a patron of the shaving arts—If you keep your chin smooth and up—

THEN COME AND SEE THIS MAYDAY FESTIVAL OF SHIRTS AND NECKWEAR.

All the trump tricks that 1930 has to play are dealt you in sleeve lengths.

Not one single "I've seen that before" pattern invites your attention in ties.

All new and all bubbling over with this new train of fashion thought that left yesterdayville miles behind.

Neckwear 75c to $2.00
New Bow Ties 50c and 75c

New Spring Suits from Kuppenheimer and Curlee now on display, $19.50 to $39.50

Do not fail to visit our store often. Always something new to show you.

JOHN M. BYE CLOTHING CO.
Phone 105 Elks Bldg., Laurel St.

You Might Have
$500

If three years ago you had started to save three dollars a week, depositing with us at compound interest, your principal and interest would now amount to approximately five hundred dollars.

Why not plan to have this amount three years from now?

Start this week with your first deposit!

FIRST NATIONAL BANK
BRAINERD, MINNESOTA
Affiliated with First Bank Stock Corporation.
Combined resources over $427,000,000.

Paramount
Home of Paramount Pictures
Phone 599

DO YOU KNOW—That your theatre, the Paramount, has a washed air ventilating system insuring clean, fresh air at all times?

LAST TIMES TONIGHT
"RIO RITA"
Ziegfeld's Musical Extravaganza
with
BEBE DANIELS
JOHN BOLES
and 1000 Others

COMING THURS. & FRI.
Matinees Daily 2 to 5—10c-25c
Nights 7 and 9—10c-50c

A Collegiate Laugh Riot!
"So This Is College"
with
Sally Starr
Elliot Nugent
All Talking Singing and Dancing

You'll die laughing at the fun and frolic in this merry college romance! "Campus Capers" and other peppy song hits! The happiest picture treat in months!

Also All Talking Comedy and Sound News

READ THE DISPATCH ADS DAILY

PERSONAL, CLUB and LOCAL NEWS

Telephone 74

Jess Britton went to St. Cloud today on a business trip.

Mrs. W. E. Willson left today for Princeton to visit her daughter.

Con O'Brien is spenidng a few days in the Twin Cities on business.

Henry Rosko left for the Cities yesterday to attend the auto show.

T. L. Livingston of Woodrow was a business visitor in the city today.

Latest Brunswick records. Folsom Music Co. 208t2

Mr. Bushey of Merrifield was a business visitor in Brainerd this morning.

Miss Enza Britton left this morning for St. Cloud where she spent the day

Dave Nygren of Long Lake was a business visitor in the city last evening.

Henry Nolan left this morning for Minneapolis where he will attend the auto show.

Don't fail to attend the Elks' Dance after the game Friday night at the Elks' hall, Brainerd. Eli Rice and his Ten Dixie Cottonpickers will play from 9 p. m. to 1 a. m. 1t

William Roth left Sunday for Minneapolis to attend the auto show and also visit with friends.

Attorney B. J. Johnson of Crosby called in Brainerd this morning to transact legal business.

Mrs. Anthony Bourassa of Long Lake called in Brainerd yesterday afternoon on a short visit.

Martin Tautges of St. Mathias called in Brainerd yesterday afternoon to transact business.

Levi Johnson returned yesterday noon from a business trip in the west. He was gone for several days.

Auction 3000 pound team, 5 and 7 years old, also outfit. Scotties Barn, 2 o'clock, Saturday. 208t2p

Mrs. Gertrude Wolford returned to her position at the J. C. Penney Company after a two weeks vacation.

Roy A. Harris of Deerwood was among the out of town business transactors in the city yesterday afternoon.

A. H. Stokes, auditor of the U. S. Fidelity Co., is in the city checking compensation at the court house offices.

For sale or rent store on highway, with two gas pumps, doing good business. Phone 970. 207t2p

Mrs. Roy G. Carlson of Alexandria is visiting at the homes of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Carlson, and Mr. and Mrs. Dave Soderlund.

Mrs. William King and her two sons, Glen King and Ray King, all of Pequot, called on friends this afternoon in the city.

Mrs. Frank Every of South Long Lake visited with friends in Brainerd yesterday afternoon, returning to her home last evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Norquist of Northeast Brainerd left this afternoon for the Twin Cities where they will make an extended visit.

Miss Etta Edden has returned to her home in Little Falls after spending the past three weeks in the city visiting with relatives and friends.

BIGGEST HIT OF THE YEAR

You're missing it if you do not attend the Elks' Dance at the Elks' hall here Friday night, 9 p. m. to 1 a. m. Eli Rice and his Ten Dixie Cottonpickers. 1t

Mr. and Mrs. J. Bernardy of Duluth visited with Mr. and Mrs. I. L. Salter for a couple hours this morning on route from their home to Minneapolis.

George Lind has returned from Little Falls where he attended the St. Cloud district meeting of the Equitable Life Assurance Society representatives.

Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Olson of the Home Bakery, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Hanson, left last evening for the Twin Cities to attend the auto show.

District Deputy of the Knights of Columbus Mr. Grimes has returned to his home at Little Falls after being in the city last evening to install officers of the local K. of C.

First Congregational church supper. Circle No. 1 of the First Congregational church will serve the regular monthly supper on Thursday, Feb. 6. Serving will start at 6 P. M. 1t

Mrs. Joseph Koyiol and son, Bobby, left today for the Twin Cities where they will attend the Shrine circus and visit with relatives. They expect to be gone for about a week.

"Gold Diggers of Broadway" will be given its first presentation in Brainerd at the gala midnight show Saturday night at 11:30. No advance in prices. Get up a party and attend this glorious theatrical event. 208t5

C. B. Otten of Stamford, Conn., representative of The Yale and Towne Manufacturing company, is making his annual inspection of the time locks at the Citizens State Bank.

W. T. Soneson returned today to his home in Duluth after being in the city in connection with the opening of a branch store of the S. & S. Auto Parts Company. Mr. Soneson is president of the company.

Try a Fluxatone noise eliminator on your radio. Sold by Folsom Music Co. 208t2

The Randall Cooperative Creamery association passed a resolution in their annual meeting Monday asking merchants to refrain from sale of butter substitutes. The creamery is a Land O'Lakes creamery.

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Wyett left yesterday for Minneapolis on a business trip. They will also attend the auto show. From Minneapolis Mrs. Wyett will leave for Chicago for a visit with relatives, Mr. Wyett returning to the city.

CHRIST FOR ALL—ALL FOR CHRIST
The Word of God
Thy word is a lamp unto my feet, and a light unto my path.—Psalm 119: 105.

Highly Commended — I thank my God through Jesus Christ for you all, that your faith is spoken of throughout the whole world.—Romans 1:8.

Prayer:

O God, help everyone that has named Thy name to make a good record.

The Weather

Minnesota — Snow probably tonight and Thursday; rising temperature tonight; colder in northwest portion Thursday.

Feb. 4.—High 27, low 11. In evening 19. Cloudy. Northwest wind. Trace snow.

Feb. 5.—Minimum last night 9. At 8 A. M. 9. Cloudy. Northwest wind. Trace snow.

BULLETIN BOARD

Tonight

M. E. Official Board meeting, 7:45.
M. E. Trustees meeting, 7:30.
Spanish Class—607 Holly street.
Unity Lodge No. 194—I.O.O.F. Hall.
Lions Club, 6:15—Ransford Hotel.
Yoemen—Moose Hall.
Svea Sick Benefit Association.
Municipal Band practice—Farmers Room, Court House.
Women's Catholic Order of Foresters—Guild Hall.

Thursday Afternoon

Sewing Circle No. 3, Norwegian Danish Lutheran church—1207 East Oak St.
Home League—Salvation Army Hall.

INSTALL OFFICERS

Knights of Columbus Ceremonies Presided Over by District Deputy Grimes

The Knights of Columbus held installation of officers last evening at the K. C. hall. There was a record number in attendance, the hall being filled. Among those in attendance were Rev. Father J. J. Hogan, Rev. Father Taylor and Rev. Father O'Connell of Iron Mountain, formerly of this city. Each gave a very interesting talk.

District Deputy Mr. Grimes of Little Falls put on the installation, and also gave an address.

Plans for a banquet to be held soon, and other social activities of the council were discussed in the business meeting. Refreshments were served at the close.

Home Management Club

The Hay Creek Ripples Home Management club will meet Tuesday, Feb. 11, at 10:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Frank Koering.

Ladies Home League

The Ladies Home League will hold a special meeting at the Salvation Army hall on Thursday at 2 P. M. Every member is requested to be present.

Episcopal Men's Club

The Men's club of St. Paul's Episcopal Guild will meet tomorrow evening at the home of L. B. Kinder, 515 North Fifth street. Mr. Kinder and John Aiton are the hosts for the evening.

Don't suffer with
HIGH BLOOD PRESSURE
RHEUMATISM, CONSTIPATION, NERVOUSNESS, RUN DOWN CONDITION
Take only one teaspoonful of
AQUA NOVA VITA
Four times a day
Direct from nature's own laboratory 1000 feet below the earth's surface
Eliminates toxic poison—Builds a new blood stream
Makes you well—keeps you well
For your own good mail coupon today

The Aqua Nova Vita Co., Dept. E70 4205 Euclid Ave., Cleveland, Ohio
Without obligation send me particulars about your 30 day Guaranteed Treatment.
I am ailing with.....
Name .....
Street .....
Town..... State.....

DEERWOOD MAN GETS 4H CLUB POSITION

Fred Johnson Renamed County Club Agent; Membership for Year Expected Over 700

Fred Johnson of Deerwood was named county 4-H club agent for five months starting April 1 by the Crow Wing County Extension Committee which met with A. J. Kittleson, state 4-H club leader and County Agent E. G. Roth in the county agent's office this morning.

Mr. Johnson is continuing his second year as club agent and his third year in 4-H club leadership.

Already in the county 300 members have enrolled for the current year indicating that the total will surpass 700. The total enrollment in 4-H club work in the county in 1929 was 671 while for the state the figure was 37,209. The United States has an enrollment of approximately 800,000 boys and girls in the work. An increase of 16 percent was noted in this county last year over 1928.

State aid amounting to $300 is allowed 25 counties in the state including Crow Wing county for 4-H club maintenance. A balance of $200 must be raised by public subscription to pay expenses.

ACCEPTS EASTERN POST

Floyd A. Nash, Formerly of Brainerd, Leaves State to Enter Coal Company Employ

Floyd A. Nash, formerly of Brainerd and of late employed at the State Capitol, St. Paul, has resigned his position to enter the employ of the Pennsylvania Coal Co. at Scranton, Pa., according to word received here.

The Shingle Creek Harpoon, official publication of the Shingle Creek Village of the St. Paul Y. M. C., had the lage of the St. Paul Y.M.C.A. had the mayor of the organization:

"Mayor Floyd Nash has been probably the most active participant in Shingle Creek affairs since his coming here almost three years ago, in spite of the fact that he has spent many of his nights attending school.

"He came originally from Brainerd Minn., where he was prominent in Y. M. C. A. and Boy Scout work. During his residence in Shingle Creek Village Floyd has held the offices of Religious, Social, Health and Physical Commissioner, Alderman and at present is the Mayor.

"It is needless to say that a man who has successively held practically every office in the village will leave behind a host of friends, who will be wishing him the best of luck in his new activity.

"Without uttering meaningless words of flattery, we want to say with utmost sincerity—and there are many others who will say it—that Floyd Nash has been one of the finest fellows we have met here. We'll be missing him in Shingle Creek."

Spanish Class

The Spanish class will meet this evening at the home of Mrs. C. D. McKay, 607 Holly street, at 8 o'clock.

W. C. T. U. Meets Tomorrow

The Women's Christian Temperance Union will meet in the Y. M. C. A. building upstairs tomorrow afternoon. Union leaders stated that a full membership was desired as important matters are to be discussed, one of the chief ones being whether or not the Brainerd union wishes to invite the district meeting of the Sixth district to convene here some time during May.

Members are invited to come and express their ideas on the subject. Leaders stated today that February was the dues-paying month and requested that all members either bring their dues to the meeting or send them to the meeting.

Punished Otherwise

Very fortunately in the school of experience, even when you flunk a couple of courses, nobody is empowered to "send you home."—Fort Wayne News Sentinel.

Amendment Imperative

Repentance without amendment, is like continued pumping in a ship without stopping the leaks.—Palmer.

SPECIAL OFFER
PERMANENT WAVE
$6.50

We are giving away a genuine Eastman Camera with each permanent or with $5 worth of work done in Beauty Shoppe.
Hess Beauty Shoppe
Call 567 for Appointments

BRAINERD 25 YEARS AGO

From the Daily Dispatch

February 5, 1905

Never in the history of Brainerd has a more representative body of business and professional men gathered together than last night when something like 150 men met in Arcade hall in the Columbian block to perfect the organization of a commercial club. A club was organized and successfully launched and will be known as "The Commercial Club of Brainerd." Mayor O'Brien called the assemblage together and in a few well chosen remarks, laid the question before the assemblage. W. D. McKay read the articles of incorporation which set forth the objects of the organization. A motion prevailed that 16 directors be elected and that the election be by ballot. The following were elected. Dr. Werner Hemstead, Con O'Brien, G. D. LaBar, W. D. McKay, R. R. Wise. F. A. Farrar, J. M. Elder, J. F. McGinnis, J. T. Sanborn, Dr. W. Courtney, C. N. Parker, Henry I. Cohen, H. P. Dunn, D. M. Clark, W. H. Cleary and C. D. Johnson.

J. R. Armstrong of St. Paul has been in the city for two or three days looking over the ground with a view of building a creamery in this city on a large scale. He is much pleased with the outlook here and says that in all probability he will decide to locate here.

Walter Smith and J. H. Noble will address the men's meeting at the Y. M. C. A. tomorrow afternoon.

Word was received in the city yesterday that the general store of Brummund & Kullander at Onigum on the Leech Lake Indian reservation was destroyed by fire at an early hour on Thursday morning. The entire stock of merchandise was consumed.

The annual ball to be given by Hose company No. 2 on Monday night in the Gardner hall will eclipse anything of the kind ever attempted in Brainerd. For this occasion the famous Dode Fisk orchestra will furnish the music. A grand concert consisting of solos, quartettes and instrumental music will precede the ball. This orchestra is famed throughout the northwest.

16th Birthday Anniversary

Miss Lucille Erickson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. F. Erickson, 412 N. Ninth street, entertained 12 of her friends last evening in honor of her 16th birthday anniversary.

The evening was spent in games, singing and music. Head prize in bunco was taken by Elwood Anderson with the consolation going to Miss Marie Lynch. In the "donkey" game, Miss Margaret Prentice won the prize.

At midnight a luncheon was served, colors being carried out in pink and white. The birthday cake was in white with the pink candles. Favors also carried out the pink and white color motif.

Miss Erickson received many lovely birthday gifts from her friends.

First Lutheran Ladies Aid

The ladies aid of the First Evangelical Lutheran church will be entertained on Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in the church parlors by Mrs. P. A. Nelson. All the members are urged to attend.

SLEIGH RIDE PARTY

Enjoyed by Young Peoples Department and Senior Department of M. E. Sunday School

The Young Peoples department and the Senior department of the Methodist Sunday school enjoyed a sleigh ride party last evening. Over 30 turned out for the event, and a beautiful drive over the Scenic river drive was enjoyed, after which all gathered at the church social rooms where games were played and a lunch served. The sleigh ride was taken in a large hay rack.

John Zander, president of the Senior department, and Bernard Foster, president of the Young People's department wish to thank the different committees and the members for their efforts in making the evening such a success.

Hiking Party

Employees of the Scott Store will enjoy a hiking party this evening. All will hike to the Northwest Paper Company where they will be taken on a tour through the mill, then hike back, followed by a lunch.

CAMP FIRE NEWS

On Monday evening the Oawensa Camp Fire girls practiced three of their songs and were taught the motions of two of them. Roll call and the secretary's report were heard. Election of officers was held at the previous meeting as follows:

President—Marion Falconer.
Secretary—Margaret Moilenen.
Treasurer—Dorothy Whitlock.
Song Leader—Gladys Haugene.
Scribe—Evelyn Potter.

Ten bird calls and some Indian symbols were also reviewed and Abbie Casey gave two Indian legends.

Plans for a sleigh ride party on Tuesday evening were made. The party would start at 7 o'clock and each member of the Camp Fire girls were to ask a friend along. After the sleigh ride a lunch was to be had at the home of Mrs. Rosell and all hike to their home. Mr. Johnson was elected to take them out. An instrument was given each girl by the guardian which they were to play while riding.

Plans were also made for the Camp Fire Birthday party. The Oawensa group will soon start making their "Indian Legend Story Books."

Scribe—Evelyn Potter.

Bethlehem Mission Circle No. 1

Mission Circle No. 1 of the Bethlehem Lutehran church meets tomorrow (Thursday) afternoon with Mrs. A. R. Johnson, 917 Ivy street.

Bethlehem Lutheran Junior Choir

The Bethlehem Lutheran Junior choir meets for rehearsal Thursday evening at 7 o'clock.

Newman Club

The Newman club will meet on Thursday evening at 8:30 o'clock at the K. of C. hall. All members are urged to come.

Croquinole Permanents
are nature's waves. Demand no finger waving. You are invited to see them given at the
LAURA LEE BEAUTY SHOP
Phone 825-J
We also give Eugene and Fredric waves.

KAPPA DELPHIANS

To Meet Friday Afternoon, February 7 at Home of Mrs. C. D. McKay

The Kappa Delphian Chapter will hold its next meeting Friday, Feb. 7 at the home of Mrs. C. D. McKay, 607 Holly at 2:30 P. M. The Chapter has decided to hold three study meetings in February and three in March in order to complete the ten month course prescribde for them by May.

The English novel of the early 18th century will be discussed at this time. Walter Scott's historical novels will be reviewed. Mrs. E. C. Herzog will give "Ivanhoe" and Mrs. C. D. McKay "Kenilworth."

Mrs. A. Turcotte will have charge of the literary program.

Critic's report—Mrs. W. C. Rasch.

President's summary — Mrs. M. P. Gerber.

District No. 28 School Report

Those who were present 20 days last month in District No. 28 school are: Gordon Guild, Leo Miller, Marion Lovsted, Betty Mathis, Helen Spenser and Stella Spenser. Carl Lovsted was present 20 days during the month of January last year. We are trying to make a better attendance record this year and we are quite pleased with our success.

Pupils who received marks of 90 or above are Marion Lovsted, Neil Miller, Leo Miller, Bernadethe Guild, Stella Spenser, Gordon Guild.

Miss Eleanor Goodrich of the Teacher's Training department of Brainerd did her practice teaching at our school. During her stay we also enjoyed a visit from Miss Reid, teacher in the department.

Friday afternoon, E. G. Roth came to the school and reorganized the 4-H club.

The following are the nine members who have enrolled: Laurence Jordan, Leo Miller, Carl Lovsted, Marion Lovsted, Loren, Dorothy and Bernadette Guild, Stella and Helen Spenser.

The Gordon school P. T. A. will hold a meeting at the school house Friday evening, February 7. Visitors are cordially invited. Lunch will be served at a small cost.

The following are some of the numbers which are to be presented in the program feature.

Community singing.
Reading—Marion Lovsted.
Song—Betty Mathis.
Song—School children.
Down on the farm—Norman Miller.
Cudip's Messenger—Gordon Guild.
The Census Taker—Wilma Hoodsky, Walter Jordan.
Community singing.
The name we sing—Group of children.

Norwegian-Danish Sewing Circle No. 3

Sewing Circle No. 3 of the Norwegian-Danish Lutheran church will meet Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Dorothy Satre, 1207 East Oak street. Visitors are welcome.

Paramount
Home of Paramount Pictures
Phone 599

DO YOU KNOW—That your theatre, the Paramount, has a washed air ventilating system insuring clean, fresh air at all times?

LAST TIMES TONIGHT
"RIO RITA"
Ziegfeld's Musical Extravaganza
with
BEBE DANIELS
JOHN BOLES
and 1000 Others

COMING THURS. & FRI.
Matinees Daily 2 to 5—10c-25c
Nights 7 and 9—10c-50c
A Collegiate Laugh Riot!

"So This Is College"
with
Sally Starr
Elliot Nugent
All Talking Singing and Dancing

You'll die laughing at the fun and frolic in this merry college romance!
"Campus Capers" and other peppy song hits! The happiest picture treat in months!

Also All Talking Comedy and Sound News

READ THE DISPATCH ADS DAILY

Only men with long beards will shun this news of Spring Shirts and Neckwear

If you are a modern and model young man and a patron of the shaving arts—If you keep your chin smooth and up—

THEN COME AND SEE THIS MAYDAY FESTIVAL OF SHIRTS AND NECKWEAR.

All the trump tricks that 1930 has to play are dealt you in sleeve lengths.

Not one single "I've seen that before" pattern invites your attention in ties.

All new and all bubbling over with this new train of fashion thought that left yesterdayville miles behind.

Neckwear 75c to $2.00
New Bow Ties 50c and 75c

New Spring Suits from Kuppenheimer and Curlee now on display, $19.50 to $39.50

Do not fail to visit our store often. Always something new to show you.

JOHN M. BYE CLOTHING CO.
Phone 105 Elks Bldg., Laurel St.

Watch for FREE PASSES
—TO—
"GOLD DIGGERS OF BROADWAY"
Paramount Mon. Tues. and Wed.
—IN—
BRENEMAN'S
Sandwich Loaf
BRENEMAN'S BAKERY

You Might Have
$500

If three years ago you had started to save three dollars a week, depositing with us at compound interest, your principal and interest would now amount to approximately five hundred dollars.

Why not plan to have this amount three years from now?

Start this week with your first deposit!

FIRST NATIONAL BANK
BRAINERD, MINNESOTA
Affiliated with First Bank Stock Corporation.
Combined resources over $427,000,000.

CHIEF TELLS STORY IN EUE HEARING

Defendant Held to District Court on Charge of Arson in Second Degree

FULLER ONLY WITNESS

Said He Found Waste Which Smelled of Kerosene in Wall, Cupboard and Sewing Machine

Waste which had a distinctive odor of kerosene and a partial roll of tarpaper were presented as state exhibits this morning in the preliminary hearing of Charles Eue, charged with arson in the second degree as the result of a fire in his home at 209 Second avenue N. E. on January 9.

After hearing the evidence of Fire Chief Frank Fuller, the only witness to testify at the preliminary hearing in municipal court Judge J. H. Warner held that there was sufficient evidence to hold the defendant to district court.

Previous bonds of $2,000 which had been set have been continued.

Fire Chief Fuller identified the exhibits as taken from the blazing building the night of the fire. He said he took the waste from a hole in the wall and the tarpaper from the floor near the boxstove in the living room.

The chief gave damaging evidence. He said that in addition to the waste in the wall he found waste in a cupboard on the second floor and waste which had the odor of kerosene in a sewing machine drawer.

When asked if he could produce the waste found in the cupboard and the sewing machine he stated that the waste in the cupboard was in the keeping of the county attorney's office and that the waste in the sewing machine had disappeared after the fire.

"We answered the call at 9:55 p. m. and from our observance the fire had apparently started in the kitchen and swept up the wall to the second floor and through the roof," Chief Fuller said as he told his story, "we were attracted by an odor of kerosene. The shades of the windows were drawn down and chairs placed against them. The plaster behind the boxstove in the living room was broken in leaving a hole about four inches large with a quarter of pound of waste saturated with what smelled like kerosene in it. We also found waste in the sewing machine which had a distinct odor of kerosene. On one side of the stove there was a half roll of tarpaper. In the stove there appeared to be the other half of the tarpaper. The drafts on the stove were wide open. We found another handfull of oily waste in a cupboard on the second floor. The fire had burned in the cabinet. The waste in the wall had not ignited nor had the waste in the drawer."

Chief Fuller further stated that a five gallon can of kerosene was found in the house which contained about one quart of kerosene. He said he investigated the purchase of the kerosene and learned that one gallon of kerosene had been purchased on January 4.

The case will be heard in district court at the spring term. Donald Ryan of the firm of Ryan and Ryan is attorney for the defendant. County Attorney Arthur J. Sullivan is conducting the prosecution.

The fire which involved Eue parctically destroyed his home. He and members of his family were visiting friends while it took place.

Fire Chief Fuller stated that he questioned Eue the day after the fire and sent his report to the state fire marshal who in turn sent an investigator here.

ESDON

James Cofield will leave Tuesday evening for South St. Paul with cattle.

Mrs. R. J. Maghan is now at her home after her operation and she is getting along nicely.

Mr. and Mrs. August Veit of West Brainerd and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Honl of New Ulm have been visiting at John Veit's for a few days the past week.

The Cofield boys are still busy with their logging.

Mrs. Elmer Workman left Monday for Hutchinson with her aunt where she is going to visit for a while.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Pointon and two children had Sunday dinner with Mr. and Mrs. John Veit.

Floyde Cofield of Roosevelt has been staying with Mr. Guin and has been doing some fishing.

Mr. and Mrs. John Veit motored to Brainerd Tuesday with some calves to ship.

Miss Norraine Mathison is working in Brainerd now.

The ladies aid plans to meet with Mrs. Cofield next Thursday.

By the looks of things the highway will have to be made wider. Some of the boys around here find it too narrow. They ran into the ditch near Brainerd Saturday night.

James Cofield, Kenneth, Arlene and Doris were Brainerd visitors Saturday

Mrs. John Pearson returned to her home Thursday evening from a visit with her parents.

Mrs. James Cofield's leg is getting along nicely. We hope she will soon be able to get around on both legs.

Mr. and Mrs. James Cofield called at John Veit's Thursday evening to play cards.

Self-Criticism

Rightly, every man is a channel through which heaven floweth, and whilst I fancied I was criticizing him, I was censuring or rather terminating my own soul.—Emerson

Preserving Credit

The only road, the sure road, to unquestioned credit and a sound financial condition is the exact and punctual fulfillment of every pecuniary obligation, public and private, according to its letter and spirit.—Rutherford B. Hayes (1822-1893), speech, 1880.

NEW SNOWPLOW FOR COUNTY

Snowfighting Forces Keep County Roads in Fine Condition for Travel

With the addition of a new Sargent snowplow to the county's force of snowfighting equipment roads throughout the county are now in the best of condition for travel.

All roads in the county are open to travel and in many cases are in better condition for travel than in the summer time.

The Scenic river drive is becoming one of the most popular drives in the county.

COMMITTEES FOR SCOUTWORK NAMED

Ten Brainerd Men Selected to Assist in Central Minnesota Scout Work

The following committees with their respective chairmen have been selected for the Central Minnesota Scout Area for the year 1930:

Troop Organization

Chairman, D. C. Gray, Brainerd; vice chairman, O. C. Magnuson, St. Cloud; H. J. Blenker, Albany; A. M. Mevig, Park Rapids; Dr. E. S. Hagquist, Milaca.

Finance Committee

Chairman, Alex Carlson, St. Cloud; vice chairman, R. L. Wyett, Brainerd; Geo. Cashman, St. Cloud; L. H. Rice, St. Cloud; Jay Nims, Staples; W. J. Rau, St. Cloud; C. S. Thomas, Sauk Center; Andrew Peternell, Albany; H. McNeil, Aitkin; E. R. Burns, Crosby; W. J. Bohmer, St. Cloud; Wheelock Whitney, St. Cloud; Knute Ellingboe, Milaca.

Leadership Training

Chairman, L. D. Zeleny, St. Cloud; vice chairman, H. A. Falk, Sauk Center; Rev. N. P. Olmstead, Brainerd; Mr. Handke, Elk River; Wm. Shoul, Albany.

Camping

Chairman, Frank Jung, St. Cloud; vice chairman, Louis Knudsen, Brainerd; Roy Scott, Sauk Center; Holman Pearl, Crosby; A. K. Smith, Wadena.

Publicity

Chairman, Harold Shoelkopf, St. Cloud; vice chairman, A. C. Hanson, Wadena; Alvan Eastman, St. Cloud; Asa Wallace, Sauk Center; F. W. Wieland, Brainerd.

Reading

Chairman, W. W. Smith, St. Cloud; vice chairman, Dr. B. W. Kelly, Aitkin; B. W. Atwood, St. Cloud; Rev. F. A. Kufus, Brainerd; Dr. P. G. Pederson, Sauk Center.

Civic Service

Chairman, George Haun, Staples; vice chairman, Dave Caughren, Sauk Center; J. H. Murphy, St. Cloud; R. T. Campbell, Brainerd; Ben Carter, St. Cloud.

Rural Scouting

Chairman, L. C. Murray, Becker, vice chairman, Ben Towers, Staples; Chas. Lohn, St. Cloud; Dave Caughren, Sauk Center; Wm. Boerger, St. Cloud.

Sea Scout

Chairman, A. A. Atwood, St. Cloud; vice chairman, Rev. Hanson, Milaca; Leon Halliday, St. Cloud; Clifford Bemis, St. Cloud; Carl Zapffe, Sr., Brainerd.

Health and Safety

Chairman, S. R. Adair, Brainerd; vice chairman, Dr. H. D. Clark, St. Cloud; Dr. DuBois, Sauk Center; Chief Gillis, St. Cloud; L. H. Bauer, Monticello.

Court of Honor

Chairman, Dr. A. K. Cohen, Brainerd; vice chairman, Ralph Hanson, St. Cloud; John Lindahl, Crosby; Jesse Cross, Staples; Judge Hense, Aitkin.

W. M. MURPHY HEADS STATE SOCIETY

County Engineer Eleited President of Minnesota Surveyors and Engineer's Society

Walter M. Murphy, county highway engineer, has been elected president of the Minnesota Surveyors and Engineer's Society and will make his speech of acceptance at the annual convention of the society at the Nicollet hotel, Minneapolis, February 27 and 28.

Mr. Murphy was elected to the position over E. Duckett, county engineer of Hennepin county by a vote of 69 to 27 at the primary which by virtue of a two thirds majority insures him the office without competition at the annual meet.

The Brainerd man had formerly held the offices of vice president and secretary treasurer of the society, holding the latter position for four years.

WABEDO

Leslie Shepard was a Pontoria shopper Thursday.

Claude Whitted and his father and mother visited Wednesday at the Ernie Siltman home at Pontoria.

Quite a crowd from here enjoyed a good time Friday night at the farewell party given for Mr. and Mrs. Bill Roux at Woman Lake.

Elmer Felton and family spent Friday afternoon at the Geo. Felton home in Pine River.

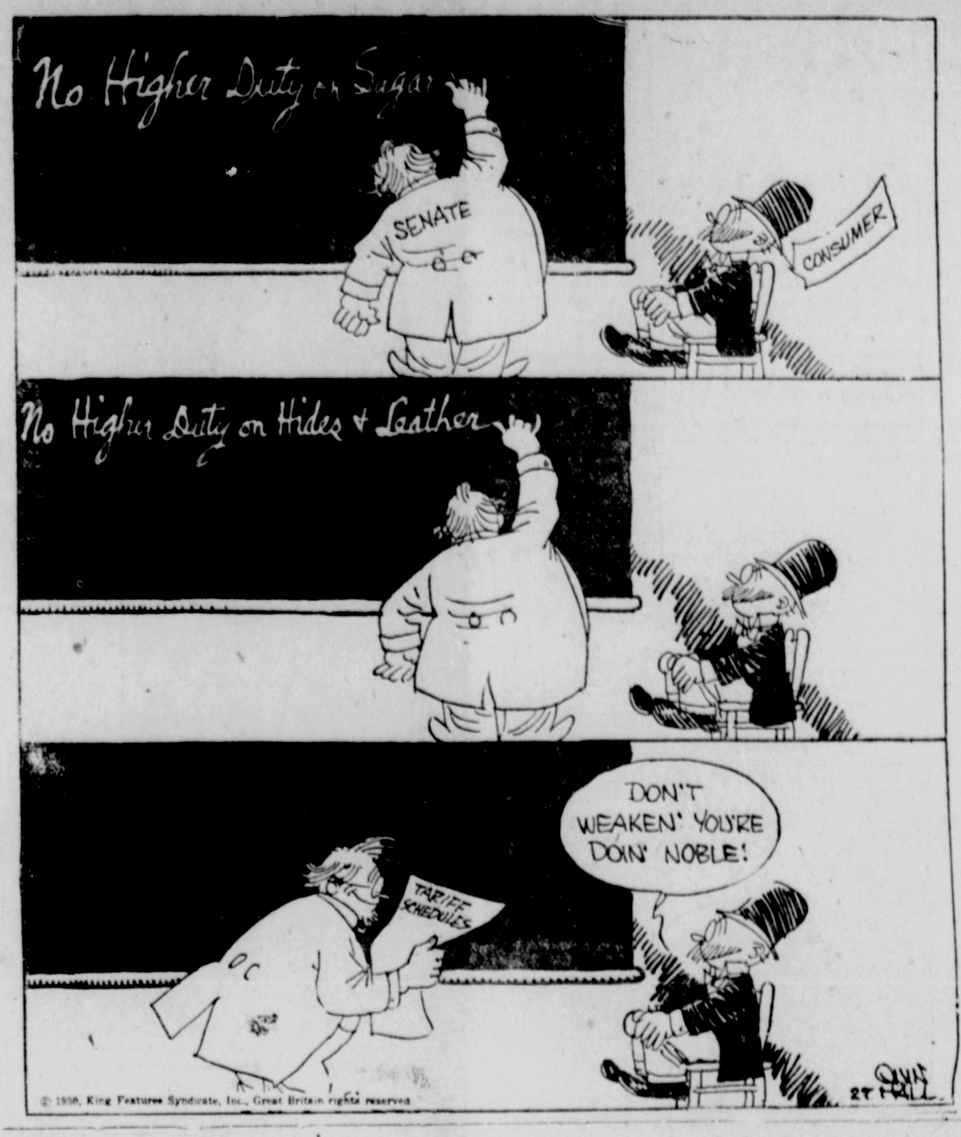

Leslie Shepard and family were Brainerd and Pine River shoppers Saturday.

The Blind Lake 500 club were entertained Saturday night at the S. Whitted home, cards being played at four tables. High honors were won by Fred Dauber and Mrs. Fred McKeebe and consolation prizes by Harry McKeebe and Mrs. Van Giffen.

Pete Allen was a Backus visitor Monday morning.

Mrs. Lena Caldwell left for Minneapolis Saturday for medical aid, an operation is advised by the doctor for immediate relief.

AN APPRECIATIVE AUDIENCE

LADIES QUARTET IS ENTERTAINING

Mrs. C. W. Mahlum, Mrs. H. L. Paine, Mrs. A. W. Moulster, Mrs. Katherine Silk Sing

Mrs. Louis Knudsen is Pianist for Group of Talented Local Entertainers

Most versatile in their entertainment, a ladies quartet appeared before the Rotary club on Tuesday and was given vociferous applause for the really creditable numbers presented which included blackface and costume skits.

Members of the quartet are Mrs. C. W. Mahlum, Mrs. H. L. Paine, Mrs. A. W. Moulster and Mrs. Katherine Silk. The pianist is Mrs. Louis Knudsen.

Mrs. Paine gave the doleful history of a rabbit hunter who punctuated only the landscape with his shots.

Mrs. Paine and Mrs. Mahlum appeared in a blackface number, a sort or animated spiritual.

The four, appearing in colonial costumes, sang a medley of songs of long ago. The finale was a rousing negro chorus with camp meeting halleiujahs, all appearing in blackface.

The ladies were put to considerable trouble in changing costumes and in using grease paint, but showed themselves adept and the waits between numbers were short indeed. They were given a hearty vote of thanks.

COUNTY REIMBURSED $819 IN BOUNTIES

Covers Amount Paid Out by County on 57 Wolves in Past Four Months

The county auditor's office was in receipt today of $819 from the state for reimbursement of bounties paid out by the county during the past four months.

The reimbursement covers bounties paid on 53 full grown wolves and four cubs.

Those to collect bounty on wolves in the past two weeks were the following: Ted Gjernes, Maple Grove; Frank Perlinger, Crow Wing; Otto Schauman, St. Mathias; Elmer Paetzel Brainerd; Lester Hopkins, Irondale; George Garland, Deerwood; Cyril Wheeler, Long Lake; Jonas Goodman Oak Lawn; Byron Anderson, Daggett Brook; O. W. Van Doren, Lake Edward; Frank Fleischhacker, Daggett Brook.

Children Like this Safe Prescription

Cough and Sore Throat Relieved Almost Instantly

Stop children's coughs and sore throats before these ailments lead to dangerous ills. Thoxine, a doctor's prescription, now assures relief within 15 minutes to children as well as adults without the danger in the use of patent medicines containing harmful drugs.

Thoxine works on a different principle, goes direct to the source of trouble and relieves the irritation which causes the coughing and sore throat. Ideal for children because it is safe and does not have the usual "nasty-medicine" taste. No gargling. Just ask for Thoxine, put up ready for use in 35c, 60c and $1.00 bottles. Money back if not relieved. Sold by Skauge's and all other good drug stores. —advt

BLIND LAKE

Mr. and Mrs. Robideau and Mrs. M. Sherwood spent Tuesday evening of last week visiting at the J. Dauber home. On Thursday evening they were guests of Mr and Mrs. Alf. Wickham.

Fred McKeebe and son put up their summer supply of ice last week.

Miss Angeline Wickham is staying at the Bob Shaffer home while attending high school.

J. Eibes and family and Mrs. Alfred Wickham were Brainerd visitors on Saturday.

Nils Anderson and Dave Dauber snow plowed the road from the school house to the Coppee farm last Saturday. They used two teams on the plow.

Charles Hardy helped E. Peterson install another engine in his car last Saturday.

The card party at the Sol Whitted home Saturday evening was well attended and an enjoyable evening was had. A lovely lunch was served at midnight.

Mrs. Carl Hilderbran and children accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Anson Beals, called on Mrs. M. McKeebe on Sunday afternoon.

James Eibes left Monday afternoon for Minneapolis where he will be confined at the Veterans hospital for a few days.

Black Walnut Valuable

The black walnut provides good shade, grass grows well under the tree, the nuts are palatable and salable, and the lumber when the tree is felled is valuable.

RUBIO SPEAKS OF FINE RELATIONS WITH UNITED STATES

MEXICAN PRESIDENT DELIVERS INAUGURAL ADDRESS THIS MORNING

IN ENTIRE SPEECH NO OTHER FOREIGN NATION MENTIONED OTHER THAN U. S.

Mexico City, Feb. 5—(U.P.)—Emphasis was placed on the cordial relations existing between Mexico and the United States by President Pascual Ortiz Rubio in his inaugural address today.

In his entire speech, the president mentioned no foreign nation by name other than the United States. He refrained from mentioning the recent severance of Mexico's diplomatic relations with Soviet Russia.

"Our country lives at this moment," he said, "on the most cordial relations with all the nations of the world, particularly with the United States,"

The president, with the exception of this brief reference to foreign affairs, devoted himself to an exposition of the national revolutionary party's ideals and a general discussion of Mexico's domestic problems.

"The government over which I shall preside," he said, "assumes the responsibility of entering fully into the constructive phase of the revolution."

In appealing for the assistance of Mexicans at home and abroad, the president warned the anti-revolutionists that "the Mexican social movement is a consummated fact."

"The only way of serving our country in the future," he said, "lies in productive labor, worthy behavior and the elevation of our views."

He declared that Mexico's area was sufficient to support six times its present population and attributed the existing poverty to the old concept of private property, class distinctions, inefficient exploitation of resources and political factors.

In touching on farm relief measures, he said the government would be more active in future in encouraging the modern methods of cultivation through the proposed bureau of agricultural control.

POISON LIQUOR SOURCES SOUGHT

San Francisco, Feb. 5.—(U.P.)—Federal, state and city authorities today sought the sources of poison liquor that has taken the lives of three persons within a week.

Swept Off Her Feet by His Poetic Love-Making

Los Angeles, Feb. 5.—(U.P.)—Dolores Salazar, dancer and actress, continued before a superior court jury today her story of how Ferdinand "Affinity" Earle, artist, assertedly swept her off her feet by his poetic love-making. Trial of the dancer's $180,000 breach of promise suit against the noted artist began yesterday after Judge Harry R. Archibald ruled that only one of the charges could be tried, thus cutting the action to $30,000.

CHARGES LOSS OF IMPORTANT WILL

San Francisco, Feb. 5.—(U.P.)—Charging loss or destruction of a will later than that offered for probate, relatives fo Mrs. Veronica Baird, pioneer California woman, were arrayed today in a court battle for possession of her million dollar estate. Thomas R. Baird, a son, and Miles T. Baird, Jr., grandson, have filed a superior court petition to revoke the probate of a will admitted Aug. 6, 1929, naming as executor Mrs. Baird's daughter, Mrs. Marie Sproule, wife of William Sproule, former president of the Southern Pacific.

Chicago's
MORRISON HOTEL
Corner Madison and Clark Sts.
Tallest in the World
46 Stories High
1,950 Rooms Now 500 Being Added
The Morrison is destined to become the largest as well as the tallest hotel in the world. Popular demand has made necessary a new addition, now under construction, containing 500 rooms.
Though rooms in this premier hotel rent for only $2.50 up, yet every room is outside with bath, running ice-water, bed-head lamp, telephone, Servidor and radio set.
Central Location
Closer than any other hotel in the city to stores, offices, theatres and railroad stations.
The Coffee Shop in the Morrison Hotel has become famous for its excellent food, prompt service and moderate prices.

"Cold" Weather is Old Gold Weather

© P. Lorillard Co

There's only one problem in selling OLD GOLDS. . . . how to get you to smoke the first few packages. After that, everything is easy. For OLD GOLD is so obviously smoother . . . so much better . . . so superior in its clean, ripe tobacco . . . that it wins you over without a struggle. This isn't boasting. This is just the selling history of OLD GOLD. BETTER TOBACCOS . . . that's what swept it to national favor in three years.

OLD GOLD

BETTER TOBACCOS . . . . make the difference . . . . . not a cough in a carload"

On your Radio . . . OLD GOLD—PAUL WHITEMAN HOUR. Paul Whiteman, with his complete orchestra . . . every Tuesday, 9 to 10 P. M., Eastern Standard Time

CHIEF TELLS STORY IN EUE HEARING

Defendant Held to District Court on Charge of Arson in Second Degree

FULLER ONLY WITNESS

Said He Found Waste Which Smelled of Kerosene in Wall, Cupboard and Sewing Machine

Waste which had a distinctive odor of kerosene and a partial roll of tarpaper were presented as state exhibits this morning in the preliminary hearing of Charles Eue, charged with arson in the second degree as the result of a fire in his home at 209 Second avenue N. E. on January 9.

After hearing the evidence of Fire Chief Frank Fuller, the only witness to testify at the preliminary hearing in municipal court Judge J. H. Warner held that there was sufficient evidence to hold the defendant to district court.

Previous bonds of $2,000 which had been set have been continued.

Fire Chief Fuller identified the exhibits as taken from the blazing building the night of the fire. He said he took the waste from a hole in the wall and the tarpaper from the floor near the boxstove in the living room.

The chief gave damaging evidence. He said that in addition to the waste in the wall he found waste in a cupboard on the second floor and waste which had the odor of kerosene in a sewing machine drawer.

When asked if he could produce the waste found in the cupboard and the sewing machine he stated that the waste in the cupboard was in the keeping of the county attorney's office and that the waste in the sewing machine had disappeared after the fire.

"We answered the call at 9:55 p. m. and from our observance the fire had apparently started in the kitchen and swept up the wall to the second floor and through the roof," Chief Fuller said as he told his story, "we were attracted by an odor of kerosene. The shades of the windows were drawn down and chairs placed against them. The plaster behind the boxstove in the living room was broken in leaving a hole about four inches large with a quarter of pound of waste saturated with what smelled like kerosene in it. We also found waste in the sewing machine which had a distinct odor of kerosene. On one side of the stove there was a half roll of tarpaper. In the stove there appeared to be the other half of the tarpaper. The drafts on the stove were wide open. We found another handfull of oily waste in a cupboard on the second floor. The fire had burned in the cabinet. The waste in the wall had not ignited nor had the waste in the drawer."

Chief Fuller further stated that a five gallon can of kerosene was found in the house which contained about one quart of kerosene. He said he investigated the purchase of the kerosene and learned that one gallon of kerosene had been purchased on January 4.

The case will be heard in district court at the spring term. Donald Ryan of the firm of Ryan and Ryan is attorney for the defendant. County Attorney Arthur J. Sullivan is conducting the prosecution.

The fire which involved Eue parctically destroyed his home. He and members of his family were visiting friends while it took place.

Fire Chief Fuller stated that he questioned Eue the day after the fire and sent his report to the state fire marshal who in turn sent an investigator here.

ESDON

James Cofield will leave Tuesday evening for South St. Paul with cattle.

Mrs. R. J. Maghan is now at her home after her operation and she is getting along nicely.

Mr. and Mrs. August Veit of West Brainerd and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Honl of New Ulm have been visiting at John Veit's for a few days the past week.

The Cofield boys are still busy with their logging.

Mrs. Elmer Workman left Monday for Hutchinson with her aunt where she is going to visit for a while.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Pointon and two children had Sunday dinner with Mr. and Mrs. John Veit.

Floyde Cofield of Roosevelt has been staying with Mr. Guin and has been doing some fishing.

Mr. and Mrs. John Veit motored to Brainerd Tuesday with some calves to ship.

Miss Norraine Mathison is working in Brainerd now.

The ladies aid plans to meet with Mrs. Cofield next Thursday.

By the looks of things the highway will have to be made wider. Some of the boys around here find it too narrow. They ran into the ditch near Brainerd Saturday night.

James Cofield, Kenneth, Arlene and Doris were Brainerd visitors Saturday

Mrs. John Pearson returned to her home Thursday evening from a visit with her parents.

Mrs. James Cofield's leg is getting along nicely. We hope she will soon be able to get around on both legs.

Mr. and Mrs. James Cofield called at John Veit's Thursday evening to play cards.

Self-Criticism

Rightly, every man is a channel through which heaven floweth, and whilst I fancied I was criticizing him, I was censuring or rather terminating my own soul.—Emerson

Preserving Credit

The only road, the sure road, to unquestioned credit and a sound financial condition is the exact and punctual fulfillment of every pecuniary obligation, public and private, according to its letter and spirit.—Rutherford B. Hayes (1822-1893), speech, 1880.

NEW SNOWPLOW FOR COUNTY

Snowfighting Forces Keep County Roads in Fine Condition for Travel

With the addition of a new Sargent snowplow to the county's force of snowfighting equipment roads throughout the county are now in the best of condition for travel.

All roads in the county are open to travel and in many cases are in better condition for travel than in the summer time.

The Scenic river drive is becoming one of the most popular drives in the county.

COMMITTEES FOR SCOUTWORK NAMED

Ten Brainerd Men Selected to Assist in Central Minnesota Scout Work

The following committees with their respective chairmen have been selected for the Central Minnesota Scout Area for the year 1930:

Troop Organization

Chairman, D. C. Gray, Brainerd; vice chairman, O. C. Magnuson, St. Cloud; H. J. Blenker, Albany; A. M. Mevig, Park Rapids; Dr. E. S. Hagquist, Milaca.

Finance Committee

Chairman, Alex Carlson, St. Cloud; vice chairman, R. L. Wyett, Brainerd; Geo. Cashman, St. Cloud; L. H. Rice, St. Cloud; Jay Nims, Staples; W. J. Rau, St. Cloud; C. S. Thomas, Sauk Center; Andrew Peternell, Albany; H. McNeil, Aitkin; E. R. Burns, Crosby; W. J. Bohmer, St. Cloud; Wheelock Whitney, St. Cloud; Knute Ellingboe, Milaca.

Leadership Training

Chairman, L. D. Zeleny, St. Cloud; vice chairman, H. A. Falk, Sauk Center; Rev. N. P. Olmstead, Brainerd; Mr. Handke, Elk River; Wm. Shoal, Albany.

Camping

Chairman, Frank Jung, St. Cloud; vice chairman, Louis Knudsen, Brainerd; Roy Scott, Sauk Center; Holman Pearl, Crosby; A. K. Smith, Wadena.

Publicity

Chairman, Harold Shoelkopf, St. Cloud; vice chairman, A. C. Hanson, Wadena; Alvan Eastman, St. Cloud; Asa Wallace, Sauk Center; F. W. Wieland, Brainerd.

Reading

Chairman, W. W. Smith, St. Cloud; vice chairman, Dr. B. W. Kelly, Aitkin; B. W. Atwood, St. Cloud; Rev. F. A. Kufus, Brainerd; Dr. P. G. Pederson, Sauk Center.

Civic Service

Chairman, George Haun, Staples; vice chairman, Dave Caughren, Sauk Center; J. H. Murphy, St. Cloud; R. T. Campbell, Brainerd; Ben Carter, St. Cloud.

Rural Scouting

Chairman, L. C. Murray, Becker, vice chairman, Ben Towers, Staples; Chas. Lohn, St. Cloud; Dave Caughren, Sauk Center; Wm. Boerger, St. Cloud.

Sea Scout

Chairman, A. A. Atwood, St. Cloud; vice chairman, Rev. Hanson, Milaca; Leon Halliday, St. Cloud; Clifford Bemis, St. Cloud; Carl Zapffe, Sr., Brainerd.

Health and Safety

Chairman, S. R. Adair, Brainerd; vice chairman, Dr. H. D. Clark, St. Cloud; Dr. DuBois, Sauk Center; Chief Gillis, St. Cloud; L. H. Bauer, Monticello.

Court of Honor

Chairman, Dr. A. K. Cohen, Brainerd; vice chairman, Ralph Hanson, St. Cloud; John Lindahl, Crosby; Jesse Cross, Staples; Judge Hense, Aitkin.

W. M. MURPHY HEADS STATE SOCIETY

County Engineer Eleited President of Minnesota Surveyors and Engineer's Society

Walter M. Murphy, county highway engineer, has been elected president of the Minnesota Surveyors and Engineer's Society and will make his speech of acceptance at the annual convention of the society at the Nicollet hotel, Minneapolis, February 27 and 28.

Mr. Murphy was elected to the position over E. Duckett, county engineer of Hennepin county by a vote of 69 to 27 at the primary which by virtue of a two thirds majority insures him the office without competition at the annual meet.

The Brainerd man had formerly held the offices of vice president and secretary treasurer of the society, holding the latter position for four years.

WABEDO

Leslie Shepard was a Pontoria shopper Thursday.

Claude Whitted and his father and mother visited Wednesday at the Ernie Siltman home at Pontoria.

Quite a crowd from here enjoyed a good time Friday night at the farewell party given for Mr. and Mrs. Bill Roux at Woman Lake.

Ralph Felton and family spent Friday afternoon at the Geo. Felton home in Pine River.

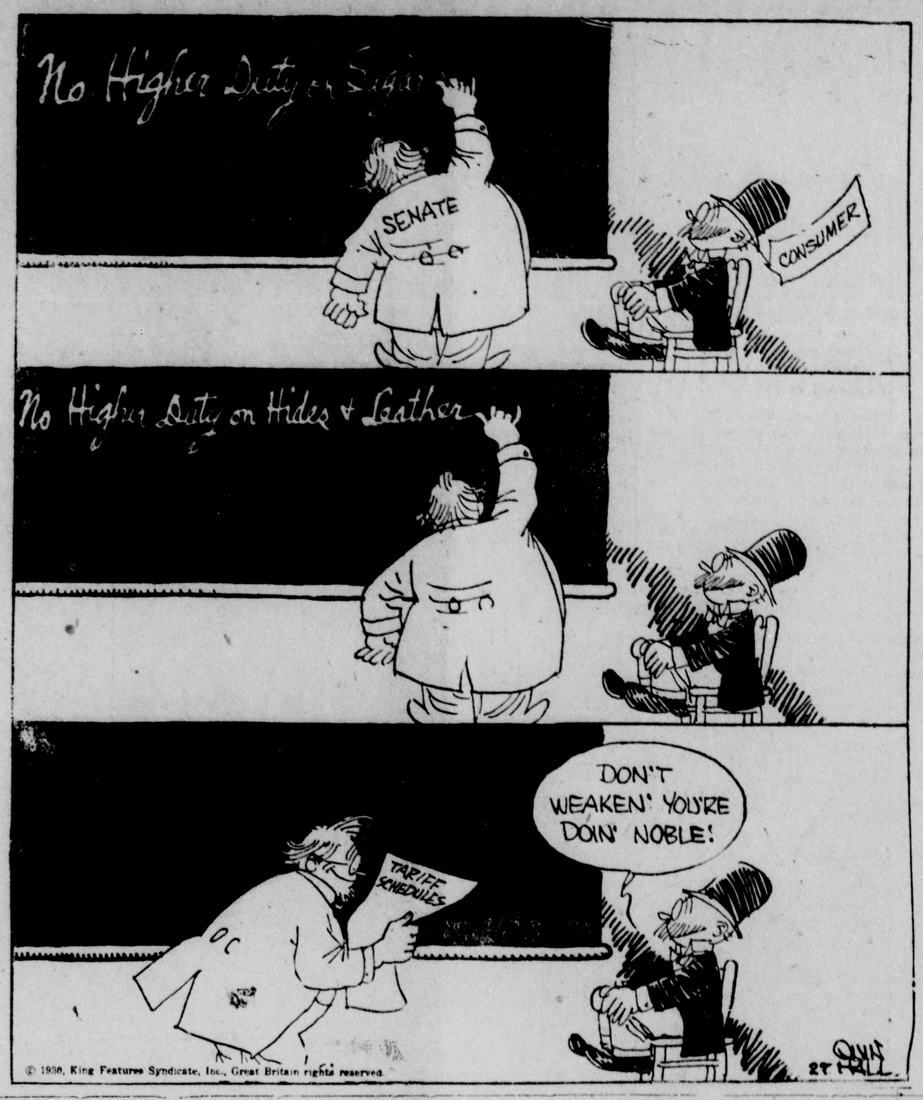

Leslie Shepard and family were Brainerd and Pine River shoppers Saturday.

The Blind Lake 500 club were entertained Saturday night at the S. Whitted home, cards being played at four tables. High honors were won by Fred Dauber and Mrs. Fred McKeebe and consolation prizes by Harry McKeebe and Mrs. Van Giffen.

Pete Allen was a Backus visitor Monday morning.

Mrs. Lena Caldwell left for Minneapolis Saturday for medical aid, an operation is advised by the doctor for immediate relief.

AN APPRECIATIVE AUDIENCE

LADIES QUARTET IS ENTERTAINING

Mrs. C. W. Mahlum, Mrs. H. L. Paine, Mrs. A. W. Moulster, Mrs. Katherine Silk Sing

Mrs. Louis Knudsen is Pianist for Group of Talented Local Entertainers

Most versatile in their entertainment, a ladies quartet appeared before the Rotary club on Tuesday and was given vociferous applause for the really creditable numbers presented which included blackface and costume skits.

Members of the quartet are Mrs. C. W. Mahlum, Mrs. H. L. Paine, Mrs. A. W. Moulster and Mrs. Katherine Silk. The pianist is Mrs. Louis Knudsen.

Mrs. Paine gave the doleful history of a rabbit hunter who punctuated only the landscape with his shots.

Mrs. Paine and Mrs. Mahlum appeared in a blackface number, a sort or animated spiritual.

The four, appearing in colonial costumes, sang a medley of songs of long ago. The finale was a rousing negro chorus with camp meeting hallelujahs, all appearing in blackface.

The ladies were put to considerable trouble in changing costumes and in using grease paint, but showed themselves adept and the waits between numbers were short indeed. They were given a hearty vote of thanks.

COUNTY REIMBURSED $819 IN BOUNTIES

Covers Amount Paid Out by County on 57 Wolves in Past Four Months

The county auditor's office was in receipt today of $819 from the state for reimbursement of bounties paid out by the county during the past four months.

The reimbursement covers bounties paid on 53 full grown wolves and four cubs.

Those to collect bounty on wolves in the past two weeks were the following: Ted Gjernes, Maple Grove; Frank Perlinger, Crow Wing; Otto Schauman, St. Mathias; Elmer Paetzel Brainerd; Lester Hopkins, Irondale; George Garland, Deerwood; Cyril Wheeler, Long Lake; Jonas Goodman Oak Lawn; Byron Anderson, Daggett Brook; O. W. Van Doren, Lake Edward; Frank Fleischhacker, Daggett Brook.

Children Like this Safe Prescription

Cough and Sore Throat Relieved Almost Instantly

Stop children's coughs and sore throats before these ailments lead to dangerous ills. Thoxine, a doctor's prescription, now assures relief within 15 minutes to children as well as adults without the danger in the use of patent medicines containing harmful drugs.

Thoxine works on a different principle, goes direct to the source of trouble and relieves the irritation which causes the coughing and sore throat. Ideal for children because it is safe and does not have the usual "nasty-medicine" taste. No gargling. Just ask for Thoxine, put up ready for use in 35c, 60c and $1.00 bottles. Money back if not relieved. Sold by Skauge's and all other good drug stores. —advt

BLIND LAKE

Mr. and Mrs. Robideau and Mrs. M. Sherwood spent Tuesday evening of last week visiting at the J. Dauber home. On Thursday evening they were guests of Mr and Mrs. Alf. Wickham.

Fred McKeebe and son put up their summer supply of ice last week.

Miss Angeline Wickham is staying at the Bob Shaffer home while attending high school.

J. Eibes and family and Mrs. Alfred Wickham were Brainerd visitors on Saturday.

Nils Anderson and Dave Dauber snow plowed the road from the school house to the Coppee farm last Saturday. They used two teams on the plow.

Charles Hardy helped E. Peterson install another engine in his car last Saturday.

The card party at the Sol Whitted home Saturday evening was well attended and an enjoyable evening was had. A lovely lunch was served at midnight.

Mrs. Carl Hilderbran and children accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Anson Beals, called on Mrs. M. McKeebe on Sunday afternoon.

James Eibes left Monday afternoon for Minneapolis where he will be confined at the Veterans hospital for a few days.

Black Walnut Valuable

The black walnut provides good shade, grass grows well under the tree, the nuts are palatable and salable, and the lumber when the tree is felled is valuable.

RUBIO SPEAKS OF FINE RELATIONS WITH UNITED STATES

MEXICAN PRESIDENT DELIVERS INAUGURAL ADDRESS THIS MORNING

IN ENTIRE SPEECH NO OTHER FOREIGN NATION MENTIONED OTHER THAN U. S.

Mexico City, Feb. 5—(U.P.)—Emphasis was placed on the cordial relations existing between Mexico and the United States by President Pascual Ortiz Rubio in his inaugural address today.

In his entire speech, the president mentioned no foreign nation by name other than the United States. He refrained from mentioning the recent severance of Mexico's diplomatic relations with Soviet Russia.

"Our country lives at this moment," he said, "on the most cordial relations with all the nations of the world, particularly with the United States."

The president, with the exception of this brief reference to foreign affairs, devoted himself to an exposition of the national revolutionary party's ideals and a general discussion of Mexico's domestic problems.

"The government over which I shall preside," he said, "assumes the responsibility of entering fully into the constructive phase of the revolution."

In appealing for the assistance of Mexicans at home and abroad, the president warned the anti-revolutionists that "the Mexican social movement is a consummated fact."

"The only way of serving our country in the future," he said, "lies in productive labor, worthy behavior and the elevation of our views."

He declared that Mexico's area was sufficient to support six times its present population and attributed the existing poverty to the old concept of private property, class distinctions, inefficient exploitation of resources and political factors.

In touching on farm relief measures, he said the government would be more active in future in encouraging the modern methods of cultivation through the proposed bureau of agricultural control.

POISON LIQUOR SOURCES SOUGHT

San Francisco, Feb. 5.—(U.P.)—Federal, state and city authorities today sought the sources of poison liquor that has taken the lives of three persons within a week.

Swept Off Her Feet by His Poetic Love-Making

Los Angeles, Feb. 5.—(U.P.)—Dolores Salazar, dancer and actress, continued before a superior court jury today her story of how Ferdinand "Affinity" Earle, artist, assertedly swept her off her feet by his poetic love-making. Trial of the dancer's $180,000 breach of promise suit against the noted artist began yesterday after Judge Harry R. Archibald ruled that only one of the charges could be tried, thus cutting the action to $30,000.

CHARGES LOSS OF IMPORTANT WILL

San Francisco, Feb. 5.—(U.P.)—Charging loss or destruction of a will later than that offered for probate, relatives fo Mrs. Veronica Baird, pioneer California woman, were arrayed today in a court battle for possession of her million dollar estate. Thomas R Baird, a son, and Miles T. Baird, Jr., grandson, have filed a superior court petition to revoke the probate of a will admitted Aug. 6, 1929, naming as executor Mrs. Baird's daughter, Mrs. Marie Sproule, wife of William Sproule, former president of the Southern Pacific.

Chicago's
MORRISON HOTEL
Corner Madison and Clark Sts.
Tallest in the World
46 Stories High
1,950 Rooms Now 500 Being Added
The Morrison is destined to become the largest as well as the tallest hotel in the world. Popular demand has made necessary a new addition, now under construction, containing 500 rooms.
Though rooms in this premier hotel rent for only $2.50 up, yet every room is outside with bath, running ice-water, bed-head lamp, telephone, Servidor and radio set.
Central Location
Closer than any other hotel in the city to stores, offices, theatres and railroad stations.
The Coffee Shop
in the Morrison Hotel has become famous for its excellent food, prompt service and moderate prices.

There's only one problem in selling OLD GOLDS. . . . how to get you to smoke the first few packages. After that, everything is easy. For OLD GOLD is so obviously smoother . . . so much better . . . so superior in its clean, ripe tobacco . . . that it wins you over without a struggle. This isn't boasting. This is just the selling history of OLD GOLD. BETTER TOBACCOS . . . that's what swept it to national favor in three years.

OLD GOLD

BETTER TOBACCOS . . . . make the difference ". . . . . , not a cough in a carload"

On your Radio . . . OLD GOLD—PAUL WHITEMAN HOUR. Paul Whiteman, with his complete orchestra . . . every Tuesday, 9 to 10 P. M., Eastern Standard Time

THE BRAINERD DAILY DISPATCH

THE BRAINERD DISPATCH CO.
Office in Dispatch Building, Sixth St. So.

Entered at the post office at Brainerd, Minn., as second class matter.

Advertising Rates Made Known on Application

SUBSCRIPTION RATES

Daily Dispatch by Carrier—One month 50c, three months $1.25, one year $5.00.
Daily Dispatch by Mail, Outside of City—Three months $1.00, one year $4.00.
Weekly Dispatch—One year $1.50.

WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 5, 1930

About Eating More Butter

A FRIEND of the Dispatch has suggested that the Land O' Lakes Creameries, Inc., hire some auto salesmen, high powered men, and set them to work to sell butter and get rid of a surplus the association is reputed to have accumulated in New York City. Whoever piled up the millions of pounds surplus has done something to depress the market and to hang over the whole dairy industry like a heavy fog.

The butter situation is disturbing Wisconsin as well as Minnesota and all sections of the United States where the dairy cow is looked upon as a consistent life saver of the farmer and a mortgage lifter working day in and day out. The way butter fat has fallen in price has been something to ponder about.

During the war Hoover urged us to eat more cornmeal and such cereals and to save wheat flour. It was done. Now comes butter's plight, but we have no personage like the president to suggest eating this commodity and bettering the farmer's plight. It takes no great student of political economy to figure out that a nation using more bread and butter will help reduce that butter surplus. Dairy products, butter, milk, cream, cheese, etc., are all healthful and a campaign to have people eat more of these will remedy the present situation.

At Madison, Wis., President Glenn Frank of the University of Wisconsin declared that state leaders and servants would be derelict in their duty if they did not promote the use of butter in place of substitutes.

This declaration was his reply to a protest from the Institute of Margarine Manufacturers, which objected to the activity of a county agent in a "Use More Butter Campaign."

S. J. Ebbot, secretary of the institute at Washington, in his protest to President Frank suggested that, in the judgment of margarine manufacturers, county, state and federal employes have no right "to promote the consumption of one domestic product at the expense of another domestic product."

Frank stated that he would agree with the protest in case of a trade war between competing Wisconsin products, but pointed out that "Wisconsin is the outstanding dairying state in the nation."

Is the price of butter too low?

The Daily Record, St. Paul publication, ably discusses the butter price situation, and puts its finger on one of the underlying causes of the comparatively low price of butter:

"Listen to a group of dairy farmers discuss the price of cream and they will set up a wail that butter is too low. Too low for whom? If it is too high-produced for them to use, why should they complain when the price the city consumer pays for it is low?

"The most important factor in the depressed butter market of today is the presence of some 40,000,000 pounds more butter in storage this year than there was at this time last year. If all the dairy farmers who are using oleomargarine would replace it with butter on their tables there would be no 40,000,000 pounds excess. It has been estimated that 60 per cent of all the oleomargarine sold in the United States is bought by farmers, and of the amount purchased by the agricultural consumers it is estimated that one pound in four goes to the dairy farmer who is deriving no small share of his income from the products of the dairy cow.

"Think what this means. It is estimated that this year's production of oleomargarine will reach 350,000,000 and 60 per cent of that figure is 210,000,000 pounds. If one-fourth of that amount is used by dairy farmers, it means a dairy farmer consumption of 52,000,000 pounds of oleomargarine. And 40,000,000 surplus pounds of butter have lowered the market ten cents per pound."

Bomb-Torn Chicago

GANGLAND is holding high carnival in Chicago. Every day appears to record either another explosion, killing or attempted coercion of some sort. The city is not setting a good example for the rest of the country and seems to be everything that it should not be in the exercise of its police powers.

There appears to be only a faint, half-hearted attempt to cope with these gangsters who have fastened their tentacles on business and are sucking the life blood out of many of the small merchants.

In other affairs Chicago also presents a sorry sight. Its finances are so hopelessly muddled that police, firemen, health department and other city workers have been unpaid for some time and can hardly be expected to stick to jobs which do not even pay rent, grocery or butcher bills.

The rich loop district rebels against reassessments and has refused to pay taxes and with such action has come the shrinkage in finances.

The first Rotary club saw the light of day in this same Chicago and the organization now includes clubs in more than 3,200 cities. The 25th anniversary of the founding is on February 23 and we think Paul Harris and his local Rotarians ought to measure up to a he-man's job by setting the town on its feet. The formal Silver Anniversary will be celebrated June 23 to 27. A Rotary advance story admits that Chicago has a world-wide reputation for many things in strange contrast.

If Chicago is still hobbling along with a blackened financial eye and bomb-shot legs and arms, let the Rotarians from many lands assembled in Chicago next June take up her case and suggest remedies. They can draw on the experiences of 45 or more countries and suggest some kind of a clean up which will be effective.

There is a High School Alumni Association

THE other day Frank J. Lowey urged establishment of a high school alumni association.

There is one, but it has not functioned extensively in the last three or four years. It was started in 1922. The first high school class in Brainerd to graduate received its diplomas in 1887.

Abner Swanson, a St. Paul attorney, is president of the Brainerd high school alumni association. Mrs. Max King of Detroit Lakes is vice president. E. W. Wise, assistant cashier of the Citizens State bank of Brainerd, is secretary-treasurer.

A RECENT report of the Director of the General Extension Division of the University of Minnesota shows that nearly 5,000 young men and women in the Twin Cities are carrying on university studies in afternoon and evening classes.

ONLY six weeks more and spring will be pushing Old Man Winter out of the picture.

OPEN HOUSE

RADIO PROGRAMS

Today
WCCO

5:00 p. m.—Minnesota Congress of Parents and Teachers.
5:25 p. m.—Schutter-Johnson Candy Co.
5:40 p. m.—Road conditions bulletin.
5:45 p. m.—Livestock market summary.
5:55 p. m.—Minneapolis Star news story.
6:00 p. m.—Dinner concert—Eddie Fortier's orchestra.
6:30 p. m.—Bernhard Levitow and his Commodore ensemble.
7:00 p. m.—Gold Medal Fast Freight.
7:30 p. m.—J. W. Miller's Old Time orchestra.
8:00 p. m.—Arco Coffee orchestra.
8:30 p. m.—La Palina Smoker.
9:00 p. m.—Kolster hour.
9:30 p. m.—Grand Opera concert.
9:55 p. m.—Weather report.
10:00 p. m.—Hank Simmons' Showboat.
11:00 p. m.—Sidney Williams and his Colored Band.
11:30 p. m.—Organ Recital—Harold Ramsay.

KSTP

6:00 p. m.—Boulevards of Paris orchestra.
6:30 p. m.—Westinghouse Salute.
7:00 p. m.—Northwestern Yeast program.
7:30 p. m.—Vacuum Oil Co. program.
8:00 p. m.—Halsey Stuart program.
8:30 p. m.—Palmolive Peet hour.
9:30 p. m.—Floyd Gibbons—Talk.
10:05 p. m.—Lew White's Frolickers.
10:30 p. m.—Amos 'n' Andy.
10:45 p. m.—Slaz Randall's orchestra.
11:15 p. m.—Northland Frolic.
12:00 p. m.—Midnight club.

Five Best Features
Copyright 1930 by United Press

WEAF NBC Network, 7 p. m.—Mobiloil hour.
WJZ NBC Network, 8 p. m.—Romany Road.
WEAF NBC Network, 8:30 p. m.—Palmolive hour.
WABC CBS Network, 9 p. m.—Philco hour.
WABC CBS Network, 9:30 p. m.—Columbia Grand Opera.

Thursday
WCCO

6:30 a. m.—Time Signal program.
8:50 a. m.—News bulletin.
9:30 a. m.—Home Service Talk—Betty Crocker.
9:45 a. m.—Weather and market reports and New York stock exchange.
10:10 a. m.—The Sewing Circle.
10:30 a. m.—Best Foods, Inc.
10:45 a. m.—Barbara Gould.
11:00 a. m.—Keith Bros. talk.
11:15 a. m.—Columbia Noon Day club.
11:30 a. m.—Market reports and New York stock exchange.
11:45 a. m.—Minnesota Police association network.
12:00 m.—Columbia Farm Community Network.
1:00 p. m.—Livestock market summary.
1:05 p. m.—Hotel Lowry trio.
1:15 p. m.—Hamline Radio university.
1:30 p. m.—Weather and market reports.
2:00 p. m.—Hostess hour.
3:00 p. m.—New York stock exchange.
3:05 p. m.—Rhythm Kings.
3:30 p. m.—Columbia Symphony orchestra.
4:00 p. m.—Ebony Twins.
4:15 p. m.—Club Plaza orchestra.
5:00 p. m.—Voters hour.
5:40 p. m.—Fur market report.
5:45 p. m.—Livestock market summary.
5:55 p. m.—Road conditions bulletin and Minneapolis Star news story.
6:00 p. m.—Bernhard Levitow and his Commodore ensemble.
6:25 p. m.—The World Book Man.
6:30 p. m.—Dinner Concert—Hotel Lowry orchestra.
7:00 p. m.—With Our State Government.
7:15 p. m.—Five Power Naval Conference—Frederic William Wile.
7:30 p. m.—Jamesway Barn Warming
8:00 p. m.—True Detective Mysteries.
8:30 p. m.—Dixie Echoes.
9:00 p. m.—Philco hour.
9:30 p. m.—Theatrical hour—Minnesota theatre.
10:30 p. m.—Weather report.
10:35 p. m.—Will Osborne and his orchestra.
11:00 p. m.—Dick Long's Concert orchestra.
12:00 p. m.—St. Thomas Military Ball.

KSTP

6:00 p. m.—Organ Interlude—Dr. Francis Richter.
6:15 p. m.—Koppers Smiles.
6:30 p. m.—Morrison's Syncopators.
7:01 p. m.—Musical Mutuals.
7:30 p. m.—Down South.
8:00 p. m.—Seiberling Singers.
8:30 p. m.—Maxwell House hour.
9:00 p. m.—Victor hour.
9:30 p. m.—N. W. Ry. Limited.
9:45 p. m.—Artist Series.
10:05 p. m.—Joe Beard and his Rhythm Clowns.
10:30 p. m.—Amos 'n' Andy.
10:45 p. m.—Coliseum Dance orchestra
12:00 p. m.—Midnight club.

Five Best Features
Copyright 1930 by United Press

WEAF NBC Network, 7 p. m.—Fleischmann hour.
WEAF NBC Network, 8 p. m.—Seiberling Singers.
WJZ NBC Network, 9 p. m.—Atwater Kent Dance hour.
WEAF NBC Network, 9:30 p. m.—R. C. A.-Victor hour.
WABC CBS Network, 10:30 p. m.—Dream Boat.

PLUCKED FROM THE AIR

By G. E. WINSTEAD
United Press Radio Editor

New York, Feb. 5.—The pipe organ radio listeners hear in the General Mills Fast Freight broadcasts over the Columbia network each Wednesday at 7 p. m. is said to be largest ever built exclusively for radio use. It is installed in the studios of WCCO at Minneapolis.

John Black, former prisoner, whose writing has thrown much light on prison problems, and Hastings H. Hart of the Russell Sage foundation, will be speakers at the League for Industrial Democracy dinner to be broadcast at 12:45 p. m. Saturday over the NBC network. The topic will be "The Prisoner in Revolt—a Nation-wide Challenge."

Fannie Brice and Henry Burbig will put 20th century phraseology into Romeo and Juliet, the Gounod opera based on Shapespeare's play during the Philco hour over the Columbia network at 9 p. m. today.

Ever-Changing Time

Time is a sort of river of passing events, and strong is its current; no sooner is a thing brought to sight than it is swept by and another takes its place, and this, too, will be swept away.—Marcus Aurelius Antoninus (121-180 A. D.), "Meditations."

One Thing Sure

Ann was very much elated because her mother was having a birthday, which meant ice cream for dessert. Spreading the glad tidings to a neighbor nearby, she said: "Mother has a secret birthday; we can't tell how old she is, but we can tell we are going to have ice cream for dinner."

Bothered with Backache?

It May Warn of Disordered Kidneys.

A CONSTANT backache with kidney irregularities and a stiff, achy, worn-out feeling all too often warn of disordered kidneys.

Don't take chances! Help your kidneys with Doan's Pills.

Used for more than 40 years. Endorsed the world over. Sold by dealers everywhere.

Doan's Pills A Stimulant Diuretic to the Kidneys

AN AID FOR NIGHT FLYING

Boeing Planes used on Chicago to San Francisco division of transcontinental Air Mail.

The flood-lighted, 190-foot Maytag Smokestack.
1—E. Hamilton Lee 2—G. G. Murray
3—Robert M. Cochrane 4—H. C. Munson

Old Papers!

2 Bundles For Only 5c

A Bargain While They Last

Daily Dispatch

South Sixth Street

THE BRAINERD DAILY DISPATCH

THE BRAINERD DISPATCH CO.
Office in Dispatch Building, Sixth St. So.

Entered at the post office at Brainerd, Minn., as second class matter.

Advertising Rates Made Known on Application

SUBSCRIPTION RATES

Daily Dispatch by Carrier—One month 50c, three months $1.25, one year $5.00.
Daily Dispatch by Mail, Outside of City—Three months $1.00, one year $4.00.
Weekly Dispatch—One year $1.50.

WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 5, 1930

About Eating More Butter

A FRIEND of the Dispatch has suggested that the Land O' Lakes Creameries, Inc., hire some auto salesmen, high powered men, and set them to work to sell butter and get rid of a surplus the association is reputed to have accumulated in New York City. Whoever piled up the millions of pounds surplus has done something to depress the market and to hang over the whole dairy industry like a heavy fog.

The butter situation is disturbing Wisconsin as well as Minnesota and all sections of the United States where the dairy cow is looked upon as a consistent life saver of the farmer and a mortgage lifter working day in and day out. The way butter fat has fallen in price has been something to ponder about.

During the war Hoover urged us to eat more cornmeal and such cereals and to save wheat flour. It was done. Now comes butter's plight, but we have no personage like the president to suggest eating this commodity and bettering the farmer's plight. It takes no great student of political economy to figure out that a nation using more bread and butter will help reduce that butter surplus. Dairy products, butter, milk, cream, cheese, etc., are all healthful and a campaign to have people eat more of these will remedy the present situation.

At Madison, Wis., President Glenn Frank of the University of Wisconsin declared that state leaders and servants would be derelict in their duty if they did not promote the use of butter in place of substitutes.

This declaration was his reply to a protest from the Institute of Margarine Manufacturers, which objected to the activity of a county agent in a "Use More Butter Campaign."

S. J. Ebbot, secretary of the institute at Washington, in his protest to President Frank suggested that, in the judgment of margarine manufacturers, county, state and federal employes have no right "to promote the consumption of one domestic product at the expense of another domestic product."

Frank stated that he would agree with the protest in case of a trade war between competing Wisconsin products, but pointed out that "Wisconsin is the outstanding dairying state in the nation."

Is the price of butter too low?

The Daily Record, St. Paul publication, ably discusses the butter price situation, and puts its finger on one of the underlying causes of the comparatively low price of butter:

"Listen to a group of dairy farmers discuss the price of cream and they will set up a wail that butter is too low. Too low for whom? If it is too high-produced for them to use, why should they complain when the price the city consumer pays for it is low?

"The most important factor in the depressed butter market of today is the presence of some 40,000,000 pounds more butter in storage this year than there was at this time last year. If all the dairy farmers who are using oleomargarine would replace it with butter on their tables there would be no 40,000,000 pounds excess. It has been estimated that 60 per cent of all the oleomargarine sold in the United States is bought by farmers, and of the amount purchased by the agricultural consumers it is estimated that one pound in four goes to the dairy farmer who is deriving no small share of his income from the products of the dairy cow.

"Think what this means. It is estimated that this year's production of oleomargarine will reach 350,000,000 and 60 per cent of that figure is 210,000,000 pounds. If one-fourth of that amount is used by dairy farmers, it means a dairy farmer consumption of 52,000,000 pounds of oleomargarine. And 40,000,000 surplus pounds of butter have lowered the market ten cents per pound."

Bomb-Torn Chicago

GANGLAND is holding high carnival in Chicago. Every day appears to record either another explosion, killing or attempted coercion of some sort. The city is not setting a good example for the rest of the country and seems to be everything that it should not be in the exercise of its police powers.

There appears to be only a faint, half-hearted attempt to cope with these gangsters who have fastened their tentacles on business and are sucking the life blood out of many of the small merchants.

In other affairs Chicago also presents a sorry sight. Its finances are so hopelessly muddled that police, firemen, health department and other city workers have been unpaid for some time and can hardly be expected to stick to jobs which do not even pay rent, grocery or butcher bills.

The rich loop district rebels against reassessments and has refused to pay taxes and with such action has come the shrinkage in finances.

The first Rotary club saw the light of day in this same Chicago and the organization now includes clubs in more than 3,200 cities. The 25th anniversary of the founding is on February 23 and we think Paul Harris and his local Rotarians ought to measure up to a he-man's job by setting the town on its feet. The formal Silver Anniversary will be celebrated June 23 to 27. A Rotary advance story admits that Chicago has a world-wide reputation for many things in strange contrast.

If Chicago is still hobbling along with a blackened financial eye and bomb-shot legs and arms, let the Rotarians from many lands assembled in Chicago next June take up her case and suggest remedies. They can draw on the experiences of 45 or more countries and suggest some kind of a clean up which will be effective.

There is a High School Alumni Association

THE other day Frank J. Lowey urged establishment of a high school alumni association.

There is one, but it has not functioned extensively in the last three or four years. It was started in 1922. The first high school class in Brainerd to graduate received its diplomas in 1887.

Abner Swanson, a St. Paul attorney, is president of the Brainerd high school alumni association. Mrs. Max King of Detroit Lakes is vice president. E. W. Wise, assistant cashier of the Citizens State bank of Brainerd, is secretary-treasurer.

A RECENT report of the Director of the General Extension Division of the University of Minnesota shows that nearly 5,000 young men and women in the Twin Cities are carrying on university studies in afternoon and evening classes.

ONLY six weeks more and spring will be pushing Old Man Winter out of the picture.

OPEN HOUSE

RADIO PROGRAMS

Today
WCCO

5:00 p. m.—Minnesota Congress of Parents and Teachers.
5:25 p. m.—Schutter-Johnson Candy Co.
5:40 p. m.—Road conditions bulletin.
5:45 p. m.—Livestock market summary.
5:55 p. m.—Minneapolis Star news story.
6:00 p. m.—Dinner concert—Eddie Fortier's orchestra.
6:30 p. m.—Bernhard Levitow and his Commodore ensemble.
7:00 p. m.—Gold Medal Fast Freight.
7:30 p. m.—J. W. Miller's Old Time orchestra.
8:00 p. m.—Arco Coffee orchestra.
8:30 p. m.—La Palina Smoker.
9:00 p. m.—Kolster hour.
9:30 p. m.—Grand Opera concert.
9:55 p. m.—Weather report.
10:00 p. m.—Hank Simmons' Showboat.
11:00 p. m.—Sidney Williams and his Colored Band.
11:30 p. m.—Organ Recital—Harold Ramsay.

KSTP

6:00 p. m.—Boulevards of Paris orchestra.
6:30 p. m.—Westinghouse Salute.
7:00 p. m.—Northwestern Yeast program.
7:30 p. m.—Vacuum Oil Co. program.
8:00 p. m.—Halsey Stuart program.
8:30 p. m.—Palmolive Peet hour.
9:30 p. m.—Floyd Gibbons—Talk.
10:05 p. m.—Lew White's Frolickers.
10:30 p. m.—Amos 'n' Andy.
10:45 p. m.—Slaz Randall's orchestra.
11:15 p. m.—Northland Frolic.
12:00 p. m.—Midnight club.

Five Best Features
Copyright 1930 by United Press

WEAF NBC Network, 7 p. m.—Mobiloil hour.
WJZ NBC Network, 8 p. m.—Romany Road.
WEAF NBC Network, 8:30 p. m.—Palmolive hour.
WABC CBS Network, 9 p. m.—Philco hour.
WABC CBS Network, 9:30 p. m.—Columbia Grand Opera.

Thursday
WCCO

6:30 a. m.—Time Signal program.
8:50 a. m.—News bulletin.
9:30 a. m.—Home Service Talk—Betty Crocker.
9:45 a. m.—Weather and market reports and New York stock exchange.
10:10 a. m.—The Sewing Circle.
10:30 a. m.—Best Foods, Inc.
10:45 a. m.—Barbara Gould.
11:00 a. m.—Keith Brey. talk.
11:15 a. m.—Columbia Noon Day club.
11:30 a. m.—Market reports and New York stock exchange.
11:45 a. m.—Minnesota Police association network.
12:00 m.—Columbia Farm Community Network.
1:00 p. m.—Livestock market summary.
1:05 p. m.—Hotel Lowry trio.
1:15 p. m.—Hamline Radio university.
1:30 p. m.—Weather and market reports.
2:00 p. m.—Hostess hour.
3:00 p. m.—New York stock exchange.
3:05 p. m.—Rhythm Kings.
3:30 p. m.—Columbia Symphony orchestra.
4:00 p. m.—Ebony Twins.
4:15 p. m.—Club Plaza orchestra.
5:00 p. m.—Voters hour.
5:40 p. m.—Fur market report.
5:45 p. m.—Livestock market summary.
5:55 p. m.—Road conditions bulletin and Minneapolis Star news story.
6:00 p. m.—Bernhard Levitow and his Commodore ensemble.
6:25 p. m.—The World Book Man.
6:30 p. m.—Dinner Concert—Hotel Lowry orchestra.
7:00 p. m.—With Our State Government.
7:15 p. m.—Five Power Naval Conference—Frederic William Wile.
7:30 p. m.—Jamesway Barn Warming
8:00 p. m.—True Detective Mysteries.
8:30 p. m.—Dixie Echoes.
9:00 p. m.—Philco hour.
9:30 p. m.—Theatrical hour—Minnesota theatre.
10:30 p. m.—Weather report.
10:35 p. m.—Will Osborne and his orchestra.
11:00 p. m.—Dick Long's Concert orchestra.
12:00 p. m.—St. Thomas Military Ball.

KSTP

6:00 p. m.—Organ Interlude—Dr. Francis Richter.
6:15 p. m.—Koppers Smiles.
6:30 p. m.—Morrison's Syncopators.
7:01 p. m.—Musical Mutuals.
7:30 p. m.—Down South.
8:00 p. m.—Seiberling Singers.
8:30 p. m.—Maxwell House hour.
9:00 p. m.—Victor hour.
9:30 p. m.—N. W. Ry. Limited.
9:45 p. m.—Artist Series.
10:05 p. m.—Joe Beard and his Rhythm Clowns.
10:30 p. m.—Amos 'n' Andy.
10:45 p. m.—Coliseum Dance orchestra
12:00 p. m.—Midnight club.

Five Best Features
Copyright 1930 by United Press

WEAF NBC Network, 7 p. m.—Fleischmann hour.
WEAF NBC Network, 8 p. m.—Seiberling Singers.
WJZ NBC Network, 9 p. m.—Atwater Kent Dance hour.
WEAF NBC Network, 9:30 p. m.—R. C. A.-Victor hour.
WABC CBS Network, 10:30 p. m.—Dream Boat.

PLUCKED FROM THE AIR

By G. B. WINSTEAD
United Press Radio Editor

New York, Feb. 5.—The pipe organ radio listeners hear in the General Mills Fast Freight broadcasts over the Columbia network each Wednesday at 7 p. m. is said to be largest ever built exclusively for radio use. It is installed in the studios of WCCO at Minneapolis.

John Black, former prisoner, whose writing has thrown much light on prison problems, and Hastings H. Hart of the Russell Sage foundation, will be speakers at the League for Industrial Democracy dinner to be broadcast at 12:45 p. m. Saturday over the NBC network. The topic will be "The Prisoner in Revolt—a Nation-wide Challenge."

Fannie Brice and Henry Burbig will put 20th century phraseology into Romeo and Juliet, the Gounod opera based on Shapespeare's play during the Philco hour over the Columbia network at 9 p. m. today.

Ever-Changing Time

Time is a sort of river of passing events, and strong is its current; no sooner is a thing brought to sight than it is swept by and another takes its place, and this, too, will be swept away.—Marcus Aurelius Antoninus (121-180 A. D.), "Meditations."

One Thing Sure

Ann was very much elated because her mother was having a birthday, which meant ice cream for dessert. Spreading the glad tidings to a neighbor nearby, she said: "Mother has a secret birthday; we can't tell how old she is, but we can tell we are going to have ice cream for dinner."

Bothered with Backache?
It May Warn of Disordered Kidneys.

A CONSTANT backache with kidney irregularities and a stiff, achy, worn-out feeling all too often warn of disordered kidneys.

Don't take chances! Help your kidneys with Doan's Pills.

Used for more than 40 years. Endorsed the world over. Sold by dealers everywhere.

Doan's Pills A Stimulant Diuretic to the Kidneys

AN AID FOR NIGHT FLYING

The flood-lighted, 190-foot Maytag Smokestack.
1—E. Hamilton Lee 2—G. G. Murray
3—Robert M. Cochrane 4—H. C. Munson

Old Papers!

2 Bundles For Only 5c

A Bargain While They Last

Daily Dispatch

South Sixth Street

GLOBE TROTTERS SEEK FOURTH STRAIGHT WIN TONIGHT

CITY INDEPENDENTS MEET LITTLE FALLS AT HOME, 8:15 P. M.

LARGE BRAINERD FOLLOWING EXPECTED TO BACK TEAM TO LIMIT IN FAST GAME

LITTLE FALLS TO BRING FAST QUINT; LOCALS TO TROT OUT TWO TEAMS

Russell's Globe Trotters will seek its fourth straight win tonight when they meet the Little Falls independent team de classe at the high school gym here at 8:15 o'clock.

Two complete teams in the following players will take to the floor in the classic to defeat Little Falls and will receive the backing of a large Brainerd following: Wise, LaCourse, Swanson, Kasch, Marlin, Marshall, DeRocher, O. Heikkinen, Nelson, Fuller and Gabiou.

Three victories in a row have already been chalked up by the Brainerd independents.

On January 15, the team defeated Aitkin Co. B at Aitkin by the score of 36 to 22.

On January 22 the team won from the Aitkin team in a return game here by the score of 38-11.

On January 29 the Trotters administered a 36 to 24 beating to Henning here.

After tonight's game the Trotters will concentrate on their return game with Little Falls at the down river town Saturday evening and at Princeton Sunday.

A preliminary game will be played at 7:30 o'clock tonight. Michie has been secured to referee the headliner.

Denies Wieman to be Signed by the Badgers

Madison, Wis., Feb. 5.—(UP)—George Little, director of athletics at the University of Wisconsin, today denied reports that the Badger school was attempting to sign Elton (Tad) Wieman, formerly head coach at the University of Wisconsin, as line coach for next fall. Little indicated the job would be held again this year by Leonard Allison.

Madison Square Garden Gets Meet

New York, Feb. 5.—(UP)—Failure of Atlantic City promoters to fulfill terms of their agreement with the Amateur Athletic union has resulted in a transfer of the national track and field championships to Madison Square Garden. The meet will be held March 18.

Waivers Asked on Durocher

New York, Feb. 5.—(UP)—The New York Yankees are reported to have asked waivers on Leo Durocher, regarded as the best fielding shortstop in the American league. Durocher hit only .246 in 106 games last season.

SPORTS KAYOES

By "HAPPY"

The Globe Trotters play Little Falls here this evening in what should be a very interesting independent basketball battle. Little Falls, led by Coach Burnett, have shown themselves to be a winning combination. The Trotters have won three games in a row now and are intent on making it four straight. Right now it looks like anybody's ball game.

* * *

In all probability a good many fans will be at the new high school gym this evening to see how the Wise, Gabiou and Marlin scoring combination works. And that combination is worth watching all right.

* * *

Coach Burnett of Little Falls will take his boys to Aitkin Friday evening in an attempt to boost the conference standing of the Little Falls team to the .500 mark. According to the reports Burnett has shifted his line-up and is using his big center, Drellack, at a guard position after the tip-off.

* * *

A good many people have told "Happy" that the name of Bulldogs for Blue and White teams seems to fit the boys pretty well. Now what do you think about it? Address "Happy" at the Daily Dispatch.

* * *

Here is a letter "Happy" received this morning regarding a new name for the Kaschmen:

Dear "Happy"

You asked for a name that would fit Brainerd high school teams, and here is one that I think fits them in all sports. The name is "Hornets." They are always stinging someone; buzzing around in opponents' territory making things "hot" for them. They are just like a hive of hornets out on the floor to sting their opponents. One could say Brainerd "Hornets" for a while till they know who they are and then work away from the long name and just say Hornets. That is easy to say and to read. When things go wrong on the floor the big boy, Capt. Guin, calls his Hornets together in a hive, and after they talk things over, look out! Lester Peterson, manager Russell's Globe Trotters.

* * *

Another fellow suggested the name of Blue Jays for Brainerd, saying that the Blue Jay was colored blue and white, Brainerd's colors. He compared the name to the Badgers of Wisconsin and the Gophers of Minnesota. He even went so far as to suggest that the Blue Jay scheme be carried throughout, and the changing of the name of the annual to Blue Jay.

* * *

Come to think of it, that's not a bad idea, is it? And we'll bet right now that the Blue Jays (if that name is selected) would be right in there "pecking away" all of the time.

* * *

As far as fighting qualities are concerned, we still think that the Bulldogs would be right in there "hanging on" too.

* * *

Stretch Murphy, the big Purdue basketball center, gets an upper berth when the team goes on road trips. Or rather the young giant gets two upper berths with the partition between them removed. The big boy certainly takes a lot of room, but the Boilermaker coach is glad to get it for him and he says, "It costs us extra fare and Pullman charge, but you ought to see that guy play after a night in two upper berths."

* * *

Brainerd basketball teams have six games in the next five nights. The Globe Trotters play three of those games and the high school three. The H. S. freshmen go to Riverton tonight for a return match, and the Seconds will entertain Motley here tomorrow evening, while the Kaschmen go to Crosby-Ironton for the "battle of the season" on Friday night.

* * *

The Globe Trotters will have a return game at Little Falls Saturday evening and will go to Princeton to play on Sunday. The Red Devils play the St. Cloud Lions pucksters Sunday at St. Cloud. It looks like a busy week-end for Brainerd independent teams.

STILL DISSENSION IN BROOKLYN BASEBALL CLUB

ARMISTICE WAS SIGNED UP YESTERDAY

HAD PLAYED HAVOC WITH PENNANT CHANCES OF THE ROBINS

WILBERT ROBINSON TO REMAIN AS MANAGER FOR TWO YEARS

By GEORGE KIRKSEY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

New York, Feb. 5. — Dissension among the owners of the Brooklyn baseball club, which has played havoc with the pennant chances of the Robins for several seasons, was at an end today.

An armistice was signed yesterday at the mid-winter meeting of the National League, with these provisions:

Wilbert Robinson will remain as manager under a new two-year contract, but will relinquish the presidency and resign from the board of directors.

Fran B. York will assume the presidency under a two-year contract.

Joseph A. Gilleaudeau, secretary, will appoint a director to replace Robinson.

President John Heydler of the National League will appoint a fifth director and call a directors' meeting at an early date.

Under the terms of the settlement, the new board of directors will be composed of five members, instead of four. The three old members will be Judge Steve McKeever, York, and Gilleaudeau.

The Brooklyn internal war was prolonged because each meeting of the board resulted in two against two, with Judge McKeever and York poposed to Robinson and Gilleaudeau.

BRAINERD QUINTS HAVE BUSY WEEK

SIX GAMES TO BE PLAYED WITHIN FIVE DAYS BY HIGH SCHOOL, INDEPENDENTS

Brainerd basketball teams will have a busy time of it the next five days, during which time quints from this city will play six games at home and out of the city.

Two games are scheduled tonight. The Russell's Globe Trotters meet Little Falls at the high school gymnasium. The Freshmen will journey to Riverton in a return game.

Motley will come to this city tomorrow evening to clash with the seconds.

Friday evening Brainerd high school and Crosby Ironton will meet on the latter's floor in a thriller.

Saturday evening the Trotters will journey to Little Falls and on Sunday they will travel to Princeton.

Tom Lieb on Way to Far West

South Bend, Ind., Feb. 5. — Tom Lieb, former assistant to Knute Rockne of Notre Dame, today reportedly was enroute to Los Angeles, Cal., for conference with officials of Loyola University. Lieb tentatively has accepted terms as head football coach at the coast school.

BARBUTI IS TO RACE TONIGHT

WILL RUN AT NEWARK, N. J., IN 60 AND 70 YARD DASHES

By DIXON STEWART
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

New York, Feb. 5. — Ray Barbuti, suspended from amateur athletic competition last year for statements intimating that some of his colleagues were amateurs in name only and reinstated recently because the A. A. U. needed a "gate attraction" for indoor meets, will make his first appearance of the season at the Newark Athletic club games tonight.

Barbuti, America's only individual race winner in the 1928 Olympics, will run tonight at Newark in the 60 and 70-yard dashes and will make an appearance at the school-boy games conducted by Syracuse University, his alma mater, but that is all.

Barbuti is in the insurance business and will not continue athletic competition. He feels that he has won his share of laurels—at the Olympics, as intercollegiate 220 and 440-yard champion and as a football star for Syracuse.

In the races tonight, Barbuti will be opposed by Jimmie Pappas, Newark A. C. star who beat Jack Elder in the St. Joseph games; John MacDonald of Yale and Bob Weise of the New York A. C.

Another feature event of the Newark games will be the 1,000-yard race between Ray Conger, Iowa State middle distance star; Phil Edwards, former N. Y. U. track captain; Dr. Paul Majtin of Switzerland and Harold Cutbill.

Shute's 277 Wins Texas Open Golf

Denny Shute, young Columbus, O., professional who won the annual Texas open tournament with a total score of 277 strokes. On his final round Shute took a par 71.

Beauty and Brains

Mary Alice Truitt of Naperville, Ill., who was elected by students and the faculty of Goucher college, exclusive woman's college of Baltimore, as the most representative student of the year. Factors governing the selection in the election are personality, beauty, scholarship and leadership.

Up to the Individual

I have learned by experience that no man's character can be eventually injured but by his own acts.—Rowland Hill.

MOOSE, STUDY CLUB PUT ON A THRILLING MATCH

HAWKINSON, WITH 536 TOTAL, WAS HIGH MAN IN THIS MATCH

ALDERMAN-MAGHANS TAKE 3 STRAIGHT FROM BYE CLOTHIERS

The Moose and Study Club put on an interesting match game last evening at the alleys, the Study Club winning two of three games. Hawkinson with 536 was high man in this match.

Alderman-Maghan took three games straight from the Bye Clothing Co., runnnig their winning streak to 12 games of the last fifteen rolled. Cameron, with 562, and DeRocher with 551, were high men in the match.

The scores follow:

MOOSE—
D. Montgomery	145	168	160	473
Miller	122	143	180	445
L. Montgomery	156	178	124	458
Crust	121	131	151	403
Morcomb	178	168	176	522
Handicap	92	92	92	276
Totals	816	880	883	2577
STUDY CLUB—
Hawkinson	170	182	184	536
Alton	145	194	161	500
Norquist	120	164	186	470
Barrett	124	151	149	424
Blind	140			140
Badeaux		191	191	382
Handicap	48	54	54	156
Totals	747	936	925	2608
ALDERMAN-MAGHAN—
Hulett	167	182	140	496
Maghan	166	168	166	500
Cameron	182	193	187	562
Alderman	123			123
DeRocher	199	164	188	551
Hansen		165	188	353
Totals	837	879	869	2585
BYE CLOTHING CO.—
Boyd	151	170	161	482
Cunningham	140	133	148	421
Brandow	134	189	175	498
Blind	150	150	150	450
Nesheim	182	160	190	532
Totals	757	802	824	2383

Miami Show to Have 51 Rounds of Boxing

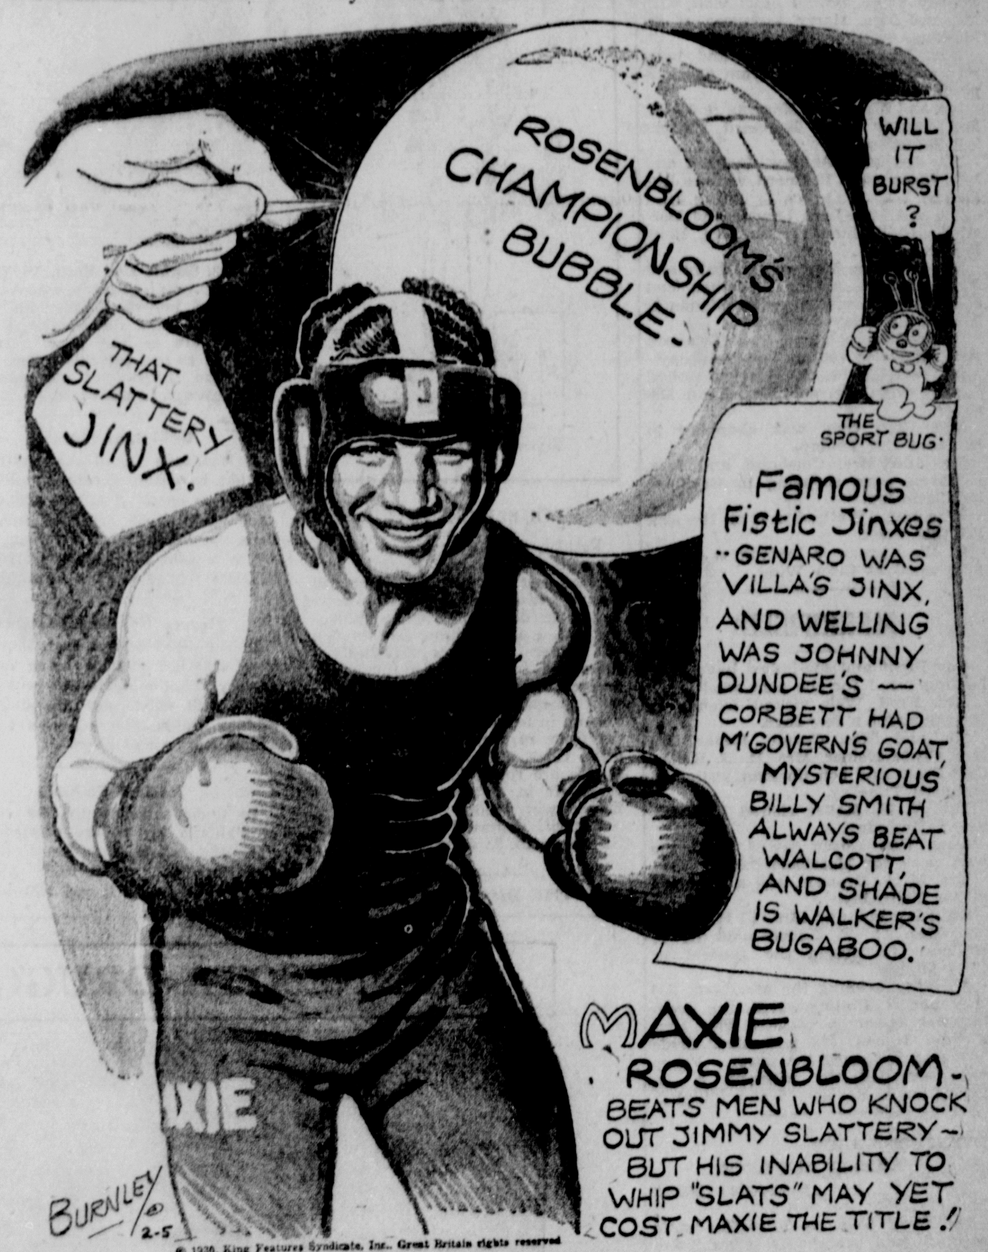

New York, Feb. 5.—(UP)—Fifty-one rounds of boxing are listed on Madison Square Garden Corporation's program for the international show to be staged at Miami, Fla., Feb. 27. The complete program, as announced by General Manager F. J. Bruen, is: Jack Sharkey, Boston, vs. Phil Scott, London, 15 rounds; Johnny Risko, Cleveland, vs. Vittorio Campolo, Argentina, 10 rounds; Tommy Loughran, Philadelphia, vs. Pierre Charles, Belgium, 10 rounds; Jimmy Maloney, Boston, vs. Noise Bouquillon, France, 10 rounds; Raul Bianchi, Argentina, vs. George Cook, Australia, 6 rounds.

Words in Holy Books

There are 593,493 words in the Old Testament and 181,253 in the New Testament, making 774,746 in all.

Some Boxing Jinxes

By HARDIN BURNLEY

© 1930, King Features Syndicate, Inc., Great Britain rights reserved

DROVES of black cats swarm through the Halls of Fistiana in trying to avoid which many a fighter runs under many a ladder in the course of his fistic career. In other words, jinxes abound in the ring racket, laugh as you may at all such sock-peddling superstition.

Maxie Rosenbloom, for instance, seems to face his chief jinx whenever he squares off with Jimmy Slattery. The New York Harlem-quin did win a decision over "Slats" once but, three times since, the handsome Buffalonian has shaded Max, the last time all but thwarting his light heavyweight championship hopes.

"Rosey" can box rings around boys who have whipped Slattery, and he has done so with regularity for more than two years. But Jimmy seems to "buffalo" Max. Or at least those close decisions at Buffalo do, as "Rosey's" friends say with considerable sarcasm.

Harlem's hail-fellow-well-met hopes to shake that Slattery jinx this year, especially if he can induce Jimmy to box him in some other place than Buffalo.

Next Monday Slattery has been slated to box Lou Scozza for what the New York State Athletic Commission will call the world's light-heavy crown. Friday, Rosenbloom is scheduled to fight Ace Hudkins. Of course, there's a chance that the Nebraska Wild Cat will claw his way to a win over New York's Gay Caballero, but form points strongly to the clever Rosenbloom as the probable winner.

The victors in these bouts will be matched for a championship elimination battle, and perhaps Larry Johnson may get a chance at the title.

That powerful young Chicago negro may prove a bigger jinx to Rosenbloom than Slattery ever can be, if Larry is lucky enough to get into the championship finals. For the present, however, "Slats" looms as Maxie's chief hoodoo.

Rosenbloom, incidentally, himself is a jinx to Dave Shade, the brilliant middleweight who knocked Jimmy Slattery cold when the latter was first heading toward a title! Maxie finds Dave not much tougher than a spin through a night-club belt!

Just to recount some historic ring jinxes: Dempsey had his Willie Meehan, Terry McGovern his Young Corbett, Joe Walcott his Mysterious Billy Smith, Johnny Dundee his Joe Welling, Pancho Villa his Frankie Genaro, etc., etc.

Yes, the ring has its rabbit feet concealed in many a glove that knocks form for whole flocks of black cats!

Copyright, 1930, King Features Syndicate, Inc.

The Rise of the Automobile

LUXURIOUS CARAVAN EQUIPPED WITH EVERY CONVENIENCE TO BE FOUND IN UP-TO-DATE HOTEL

YOU may now put the back-seat driver to sleep—in a trailer attached to your car! One of the most interesting exhibits at the Automobile Show staged at Grand Central Palace, New York City, is a luxurious caravan attached to a sedan car. But what a caravan it is, with more trick gadgets for comfort and convenience than were ever used in even the most luxurious of caravans.

The trailer is equipped with four berths, running water, electric lights, and special ventilation apparatus. In fact, it has all the comforts of an up-to-date hotel room. This hotel room on wheels is no wider than an ordinary car, yet the berths used are quite slumber-inducing. Of course, there's a trick to it, and it is that the caravan is so designed that it can be opened accordeon-fashion to a width which exceeds that of a railway coach. And so now, a land-cruise can be blithely undertaken, and judging by the interest shown in this new device, it wouldn't be at all surprising, if, next Summer, nearly every automobile had a little trailer all its own.

It is a far cry from the luxurious car of today to the peculiar looking contraptions that are the grand-daddies of the various different types of automobiles of the present. The early Packards, Oldsmobiles, Buicks and Pierce-Arrows, to mention four of the earliest makes of gasoline-engine vehicles, are unmistakably automobiles for all their rather mirth-provoking appearance. But they went, and that was all that was required of a gasoline contraption in those dim dark days when an automobile costume for ladies meant a long "dust" coat, and a hat with goggles and a thick veil.

Henry Ford often refers to his first car, which made successful trial runs in 1893. It was driven by a twin cylinder, four cycle water cooled engine, and it made from 25 to 30 miles an hour. The first of the crop of old-fashioned Fords was manufactured in 1903. Since then, of course, the Ford car has graduated into the popular luxury class. The motor magnate cherishes all the early models of his machine, and proudly claims that they are still in running order.

(International Newsreel)

GLOBE TROTTERS SEEK FOURTH STRAIGHT WIN TONIGHT

CITY INDEPENDENTS MEET LITTLE FALLS AT HOME, 8:15 P. M.

LARGE BRAINERD FOLLOWING EXPECTED TO BACK TEAM TO LIMIT IN FAST GAME

LITTLE FALLS TO BRING FAST QUINT; LOCALS TO TROT OUT TWO TEAMS

Russell's Globe Trotters will seek its fourth straight win tonight when they meet the Little Falls independent team de classe at the high school gym here at 8:15 o'clock.

Two complete teams in the following players will take to the floor in the classic to defeat Little Falls and will receive the backing of a large Brainerd following: Wise, LaCourse, Swanson, Kasch, Marlin, Marshall, DeRocher, O. Heikkinen, Nelson, Fuller and Gabiou.

Three victories in a row have already been chalked up by the Brainerd independents.

On January 15, the team defeated Aitkin Co. B at Aitkin by the score of 36 to 22.

On January 22 the team won from the Aitkin team in a return game here by the score of 38-11.

On January 29 the Trotters administered a 36 to 24 beating to Henning here.

After tonight's game the Trotters will concentrate on their return game with Little Falls at the down river town Saturday evening and at Princeton Sunday.

A preliminary game will be played at 7:30 o'clock tonight. Michie has been secured to referee the headliner.

Denies Wieman to be Signed by the Badgers

Madison, Wis., Feb. 5.—(U.P.)—George Little, director of athletics at the University of Wisconsin, today denied reports that the Badger school was attempting to sign Elton (Tad) Wieman, formerly head coach at the University of Wisconsin, as line coach for next fall. Little indicated the job would be held again this year by Leonard Allison.

Madison Square Garden Gets Meet

New York, Feb. 5.—(U.P.)—Failure of Atlantic City promoters to fulfill terms of their agreement with the Amateur Athletic union has resulted in a transfer of the national track and field championships to Madison Square Garden. The meet will be held March 18.

Waivers Asked on Durocher

New York, Feb. 5.—(U.P.)—The New York Yankees are reported to have asked waivers on Leo Durocher, regarded as the best fielding shortstop in the American league. Durocher hit only .246 in 106 games last season.

SPORTS KAYOES

By "HAPPY"

The Globe Trotters play Little Falls here this evening in what should be a very interesting independent basketball battle. Little Falls, led by Coach Burnett, have shown themselves to be a winning combination. The Trotters have won three games in a row now and are intent on making it four straight. Right now it looks like anybody's ball game.

* * *

In all probability a good many fans will be at the new high school gym this evening to see how the Wise, Gabiou and Marlin scoring combination works. And that combination is worth watching all right.

* * *

Coach Burnett of Little Falls will take his boys to Aitkin Friday evening in an attempt to boost the conference standing of the Little Falls team to the .500 mark. According to the reports Burnett has shifted his line-up and is using his big center, Drellack, at a guard position after the tip-off.

* * *

A good many people have told "Happy" that the name of Bulldogs for Blue and White teams seems to fit the boys pretty well. Now what do you think about it? Address "Happy" at the Daily Dispatch.

* * *

Here is a letter "Happy" received this morning regarding a new name for the Kaschmen:

Dear "Happy"

You asked for a name that would fit Brainerd high school teams, and here is one that I think fits them in all sports. The name is "Hornets." They are always stinging someone; buzzing around in opponents' territory making things "hot" for them. They are just like a hive of hornets out on the floor to sting their opponents. One could say Brainerd "Hornets" for a while till they know who they are and then work away from the long name and just say Hornets. That is easy to say and to read. When things go wrong on the floor the big boy, Capt. Guin, calls his Hornets together in a hive, and after they talk things over, look out! Lester Peterson, manager Russell's Globe Trotters.

* * *

Another fellow suggested the name of Blue Jays for Brainerd, saying that the Blue Jay was colored blue and white, Brainerd's colors. He compared the name to the Badgers of Wisconsin and the Gophers of Minnesota. He even went so far as to suggest that the Blue Jay scheme be carried throughout, and the changing of the name of the annual to Blue Jay.

* * *

Come to think of it, that's not a bad idea, is it? And we'll bet right now that the Blue Jays (if that name is selected) would be right in there "pecking away" all of the time.

* * *

As far as fighting qualities are concerned, we still think that the Bulldogs would be right in there "hanging on" too.

* * *

Stretch Murphy, the big Purdue basketball center, gets an upper berth when the team goes on road trips. Or rather the young giant gets two upper berths with the partition between them removed. The big boy certainly takes a lot of room, but the Boilermaker coach is glad to get it for him and he says, "It costs us extra fare and Pullman charge, but you ought to see that guy play after a night in two upper berths."

* * *

Brainerd basketball teams have six games in the next five nights. The Globe Trotters play three of those games and the high school three. The H. S. freshmen go to Riverton tonight for a return match, and the Seconds will entertain Motley here tomorrow evening, while the Kaschmen go to Crosby-Ironton for the "battle of the season" on Friday night.

* * *

The Globe Trotters will have a return game at Little Falls Saturday evening and will go to Princeton to play on Sunday. The Red Devils play the St. Cloud Lions pucksters Sunday at St. Cloud. It looks like a busy week-end for Brainerd independent teams.

Beauty and Brains

Mary Alice Truitt of Naperville, Ill., who was elected by students and the faculty of Goucher college, exclusive woman's college of Baltimore, as the most representative student of the year. Factors governing the selection in the election are personality, beauty, scholarship and leadership.

Up to the Individual

I have learned by experience that no man's character can be eventually injured but by his own acts.—Rowland Hill.

STILL DISSENSION IN BROOKLYN BASEBALL CLUB

Shute's 277 Wins Texas Open Golf

Denny Shute, young Columbus, O., professional who won the annual Texas open tournament with a total score of 277 strokes. On his final round Shute took a par 71.

MOOSE, STUDY CLUB PUT ON A THRILLING MATCH

HAWKINSON, WITH 536 TOTAL, WAS HIGH MAN IN THIS MATCH

ALDERMAN-MAGHANS TAKE 3 STRAIGHT FROM BYE CLOTHIERS

The Moose and Study Club put on an interesting match game last evening at the alleys, the Study Club winning two of three games. Hawkinson with 536 was high man in this match.

Alderman-Maghan took three games straight from the Bye Clothing Co., runnnig their winning streak to 12 games of the last fifteen rolled. Cameron, with 562, and DeRocher with 551, were high men in the match.

The scores follow:

MOOSE—
D. Montgomery	145	168	160	473
Miller	122	143	180	445
L. Montgomery	156	178	124	458
Crust	121	131	151	403
Morcomb	178	168	176	522
Handicap	92	92	92	276
Totals	816	880	883	2577
STUDY CLUB—
Hawkinson	170	182	184	536
Aiton	145	194	161	500
Norquist	120	164	186	470
Barrett	124	151	149	424
Blind	140			140
Badeaux		191	191	382
Handicap	48	54	54	156
Totals	747	936	925	2608
ALDERMAN-MAGHAN—
Hulett	167	189	140	496
Maghan	166	168	166	500
Cameron	182	193	187	562
Alderman	123			123
DeRocher	199	164	188	551
Hansen		165	188	353
Totals	837	879	869	2585
BYE CLOTHING CO.—
Boyd	151	170	161	482
Cunningham	140	133	148	421
Brandow	134	189	175	498
Blind	150	150	150	450
Nesheim	182	160	190	532
Totals	757	802	824	2383

Miami Show to Have 51 Rounds of Boxing

New York, Feb. 5.—(U.P.)—Fifty-one rounds of boxing are listed on Madison Square Garden Corporation's program for the international show to be staged at Miami, Fla., Feb. 27. The complete program, as announced by General Manager F. J. Bruen, is: Jack Sharkey, Boston, vs. Phil Scott, London, 15 rounds; Johnny Risko, Cleveland, vs. Vittorio Campolo, Argentina, 10 rounds; Tommy Loughran, Philadelphia, vs. Pierre Charles, Belgium, 10 rounds; Jimmy Maloney, Boston, vs. Noise Eounuillon, France, 10 rounds; Raul Bianchi, Argentina, vs. George Cook, Australia, 6 rounds.

Words in Holy Books

There are 593,493 words in the Old Testament and 181,253 in the New Testament, making 774,746 in all.

ARMISTICE WAS SIGNED UP YESTERDAY

HAD PLAYED HAVOC WITH PENNANT CHANCES OF THE ROBINS

WILBERT ROBINSON TO REMAIN AS MANAGER FOR TWO YEARS

By GEORGE KIRKSEY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

New York, Feb. 5. — Dissension among the owners of the Brooklyn baseball club, which has played havoc with the pennant chances of the Robins for several seasons, was at an end today.

An armistice was signed yesterday at the mid-winter meeting of the National League, with these provisions:

Wilbert Robinson will remain as manager under a new two-year contract, but will relinquish the presidency and resign from the board of directors.

Fran B. York will assume the presidency under a two-year contract.

Joseph A. Gilleaudeau, secretary, will appoint a director to replace Robinson.

President John Heydler of the National League will appoint a fifth director and call a directors' meeting at an early date.

Under the terms of the settlement, the new board of directors will be composed of five members, instead of four. The three old members will be Judge Steve McKeever, York, and Gilleaudeau.

The Brooklyn internal war was prolonged because each meeting of the board resulted in two against two, with Judge McKeever and York poposed to Robinson and Gilleaudeau.

BRAINERD QUINTS HAVE BUSY WEEK

SIX GAMES TO BE PLAYED WITHIN FIVE DAYS BY HIGH SCHOOL, INDEFENDENTS

Brainerd basketball teams will have a busy time of it the next five days, during which time quints from this city will play six games at home and out of the city.

Two games are scheduled tonight. The Russell's Globe Trotters meet Little Falls at the high school gymnasium. The Freshmen will journey to Riverton in a return game.

Motley will come to this city tomorrow evening to clash with the seconds.

Friday evening Brainerd high school and Crosby Ironton will meet on the latter's floor in a thriller.

Saturday evening the Trotters will journey to Little Falls and on Sunday they will travel to Princeton.

Tom Lieb on Way to Far West

South Bend, Ind., Feb. 5. — Tom Lieb, former assistant to Knute Rockne of Notre Dame, today reportedly was enroute to Los Angeles, Cal., for conference with officials of Loyola University. Lieb tentatively has accepted terms as head football coach at the coast school.

BARBUTI IS TO RACE TONIGHT

WILL RUN AT NEWARK, N. J., IN 60 AND 70 YARD DASHES

By DIXON STEWART
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

New York, Feb. 5. — Ray Barbuti, suspended from amateur athletic competition last year for statements intimating that some of his colleagues were amateurs in name only and reinstated recently because the A. A. U. needed a "gate attraction" for indoor meets, will make his first appearance of the season at the Newark Athletic club games tonight.

Barbuti, America's only individual race winner in the 1928 Olympics, will run tonight at Newark in the 60 and 70-yard dashes and will make an appearance at the school-boy games conducted by Syracuse University, his alma mater, but that is all.

Barbuti is in the insurance business and will not continue athletic competition. He feels that he has won his share of laurels—at the Olympics, as intercollegiate 220 and 440-yard champion and as a football star for Syracuse.

In the races tonight, Barbuti will be opposed by Jimmie Pappas, Newark A. C. star who beat Jack Elder in the St. Joseph games; John MacDonald of Yale and Bob Weise of the New York A. C.

Another feature event of the Newark games will be the 1,000-yard race between Ray Conger, Iowa State middle distance star; Phil Edwards, former N. Y. U. track captain; Dr. Paul Majtin of Switzerland and Harold Cutbill.

The Rise of the Automobile

YOU may now put the back-seat driver to sleep—in a trailer attached to your car! One of the most interesting exhibits at the Automobile Show staged at Grand Central Palace, New York City, is a luxurious caravan attached to a sedan car. But what a caravan it is, with more trick gadgets for comfort and convenience than were ever used in even the most luxurious of caravans.

The trailer is equipped with four berths, running water, electric lights, and special ventilation apparatus. In fact, it has all the comforts of an up-to-date hotel room. This hotel room on wheels is no wider than an ordinary car, yet the berths used are quite slumber - inducing. Of course, there's a trick to it, and it is that the caravan is so designed that it can be opened accordeon-fashion to a width which exceeds that of a railway coach. And so now, a land-cruise can be blithely undertaken, and judging by the interest shown in this new device, it wouldn't be at all surprising, if, next Summer, nearly every automobile had a little trailer all its own.

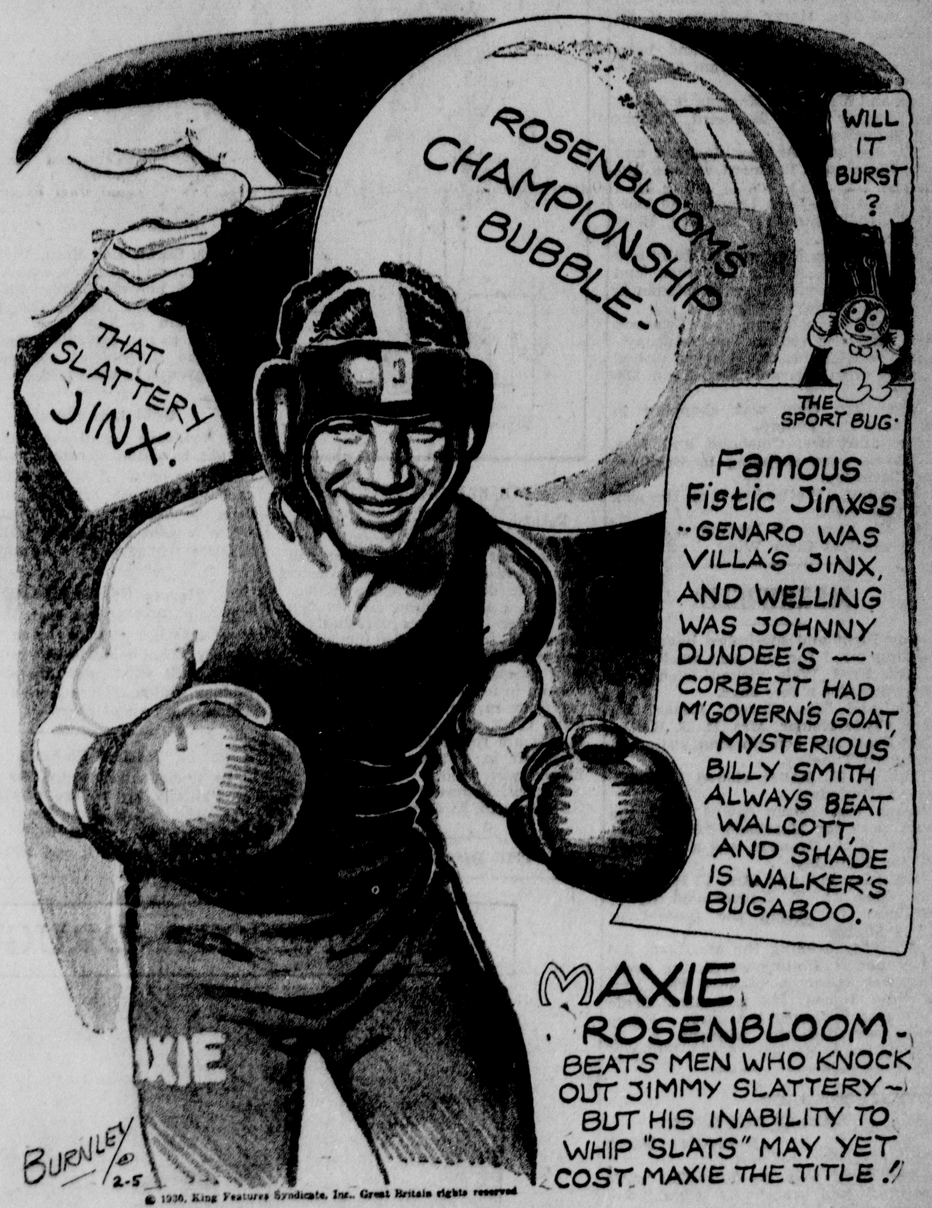

It is a far cry from the luxurious car of today to the peculiar looking contraptions that are the grand-daddies of the various different types of automobiles of the present. The early Packards, Oldsmobiles, Buicks and Pierce-Arrows, to mention four of the earliest makes of gasoline-engine vehicles, are unmistakably automobiles for all their rather mirth-provoking appearance. But they went, and that was all that was required of a gasoline contraption in those dim dark days when an automobile costume for ladies meant a long "dust' coat, and a hat with goggles and a thick veil.

Henry Ford often refers to his first car, which made successful trial runs in 1893. It was driven by a twin cylinder, four cycle water cooled engine, and it made from 25 to 30 miles an hour. The first of the crop of old-fashioned Fords was manufactured in 1903. Since then, of course, the Ford car has graduated into the popular luxury class. The motor magnate cherishes all the early models of his machine, and proudly claims that they are still in running order.

(International Newsreel)

Some Boxing Jinxes

By HARDIN BURNLEY

DROVES of black cats swarm through the Halls of Fistiana in trying to avoid which many a fighter runs under many a ladder in the course of his fistic career. In other words, jinxes abound in the ring racket, laugh as you may at all such sock-peddling superstition.

Maxie Rosenbloom, for instance, seems to face his chief jinx whenever he squares off with Jimmy Slattery. The New York Harlemquin did win a decision over "Slats" once but, three times since, the handsome Buffalonian has shaded Max, the last time all but thwarting his light heavyweight championship hopes.

"Rosey" can box rings around boys who have whipped Slattery, and he has done so with regularity for more than two years. But Jimmy seems to "buffalo" Max. Or at least those close decisions at Buffalo do, as "Rosey's" friends say with considerable sarcasm.

Harlem's hail - fellow - well - met hopes to shake that Slattery jinx this year, especially if he can induce Jimmy to box him in some other place than Buffalo.

Next Monday Slattery has been slated to box Lou Scozza for what the New York State Athletic Commission will call the world's light-heavy crown. Friday, Rosenbloom is scheduled to fight Ace Hudkins. Of course, there's a chance that the Nebraska Wild Cat will claw his way to a win over New York's Gay Caballero, but form points strongly to the clever Rosenbloom as the probable winner.

The victors in these bouts will be matched for a championship elimination battle, and perhaps Larry Johnson may get a chance at the title.

That powerful young Chicago negro may prove a bigger jinx to Rosenbloom than Slattery ever can be, if Larry is lucky enough to get into the championship finals. For the present, however, "Slats" looms as Maxie's chief hoodoo.

Rosenbloom, incidentally, himself is a jinx to Dave Shade, the brilliant middleweight who knocked Jimmy Slattery cold when the latter was first heading toward a title! Maxie finds Dave not much tougher than a spin through a night-club belt!

Just to recount some historic ring jinxes: Dempsey had his Willie Meehan, Terry McGovern his Young Corbett, Joe Walcott his Mysterious Billy Smith, Johnny Dundee his Joe Welling, Pancho Villa his Frankie Genaro, etc., etc.

Yes, the ring has its rabbit feet concealed in many a glove that knocks form for whole flocks of black cats!

Copyright, 1930, King Features Syndicate, Inc.

RENEW INTEREST IN 10,000 LAKES FUR FARM CORP.

FLOYD B. OLSON, HENNEPIN COUNTY ATTORNEY, WAS AT WASHINGTON, D. C.

RECEIVER AND U. S. DISTRICT ATTORNEY CONTINUE TO PROBE INTO CONCERN

Minneapolis, Feb. 5.—(U.P.)—Investigation of the affairs of the Ten Thousand Lakes Fur Farms Corporation was expected to take renewed vigor today with the return from Washington of Floyd B. Olson, Hennepin county attorney.

W. E. G. Watson, receiver for the corporation, and L. L. Drill, United States district attorney, continued their probes into the concern but declined to make public the preliminary results of the investigation.

Drill's office was reported examining the records of the fur farms concern and Watson had conferences scheduled with several witnesses. The receiver admitted he had interviewed a former employe of the company and two former state officials.

All the investigating bodies refused to reveal to what extent the corporation sold "unit contract sales" in the central Minnesota vicinity of St. Cloud and Little Falls. It was authoritatively reported, however, that residents of that district invested thousands of dollars in muskrat shares.

L. A. Lohnbaaken of St. Cloud filed a claim for the recovery of $11,030 allegedly lost by investing in the company. He said he purchased 130 muskrats and loaned the corporation $1,280, receiving no return from either investment.

Olson and Drill today were reported looking for evidence upon which to base criminal charges against officials and salesmen of the corporation and Watson was seeking further details concerning the company's receivership.

CROW WING

Luther Burkland was transacting business in Brainerd Monday.

Bill Chisholm is working for L. B. Koering.

Mr. Morgan and Arthur Anderson were Brainerd visitors Saturday.

Mrs. P. Anderson returned home Sunday after several days visit with Mr. and Mrs. Harry Anderson of St. Mathias.

Mrs. Laurence Doucette and baby returned home Sunday from the hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Koering and Mrs. Bell Porter were Brainerd visitors last Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Jackson and Mrs. Olsen were Brainerd visitors last Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Linn Lougee and Dorothy visited Sunday with Mrs. Belle Porter.

Mr. and Mrs. Morgan and baby and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Anderson and children were visiting with friends in Brainerd Sunday evening.

Oscar Anderson and Paul Swanson were Brainerd visitors last Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Koering visited Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Leon Derosier.

Mrs. Sam Clay was shopping in Brainerd last Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Chisholm and Mrs. Erickson were shopping in Brainerd last Saturday.

Miss Joyce Wetherbee is on the sick list this week.

O. W. Kinney is loading a car of pulp wood at Crow Wing.

MERRIFIELD

Guy Pratt and son-in-law have been hauling wood for the past week.

Mrs. Fred Wels visited friends in Merrifield for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude James, Jr., Mrs. Clyde Neider, Mrs. R. F. Keller, Guy Pratt and son Sheldon visited in Brainerd Tuesday.

Mrs. V. H. Keller visited Hollingsworth Thursday.

Isaac Van Doren sawed wood the past week for Merrifield folks.

Mrs. M. A. Bronson was a Brainerd visitor Thursday.

Saturday Mr. and Mrs. V. H. Keller and Mrs. R. T. Keller motored to Brainerd to attend the funeral of Chas. Mudge.

Saturday evening the Merrifield 500 club met at Hollingsworth, the evening was spent in playing 500. Mrs. Claudie James, Jr., and Mrs. Clyde Neider entertained the party. Prizes were awarded the winners. A delicious lunch was served at midnight.

MINNESOTA JACK RABBIT BUS LINE IN SHORT HOPS

St. Paul, Feb. 5.—(U.P.)—The state railroad and warehouse commission today authorized sale of the Overland Stages, Inc., to the Minnesota Jack Rabbit Company, a passenger bus line concern.

The Jack Rabbit Company was granted permission to operate a motor bus line into Minnesota from South Dakota near Pipestone and continuing on to Moorhead.

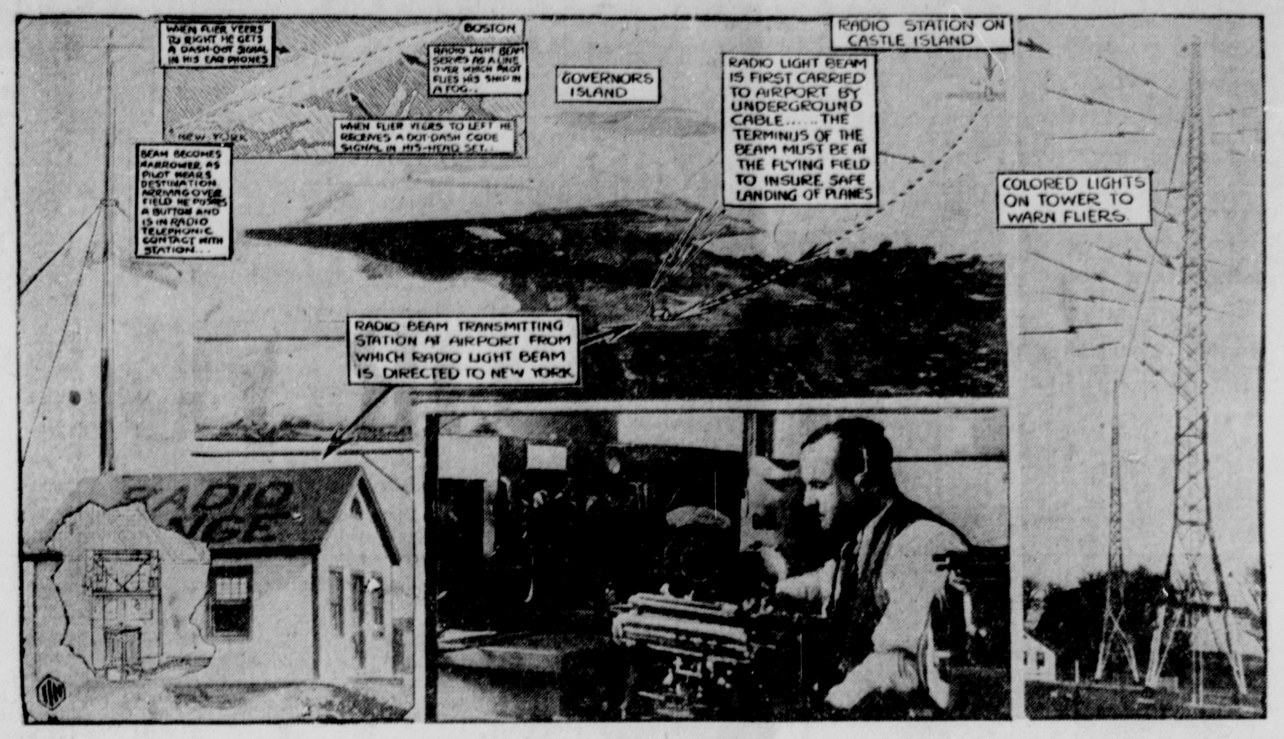

Copy of Famous Building

The Mastbaum Rodin Foundation museum in Philadelphia was designed by Paul Cret of Philadelphia and Jacques Greber of Paris. It's a reproduction of the Rodin musee at Meudon, France. The limestone of which it is built was brought from that country

Recipe for Comfort

The chief secret of comfort lies in not suffering trifles to vex us and in prudently cultivating our undergrowth of small pleasures.—Archbishop Sharp.

Science Conquers Aviation Enemy—Fog

FOG — AVIATION'S DEADLIEST FOE, is about to clear before the sun of scientific endeavor. Since last November a series of remarkable experiments and tests have been carried out over the air route between New York and Boston. These tests have been under the supervision of the Airways Division of the United States Department of Commerce which is vitally interested in the serious business of rendering the airways as safe as scientific ingenuity can devise. And aviation cannot be considered safe until man has overcome the deadly danger of fog, which has been the direct cause of some of the most frightful disasters of the air.

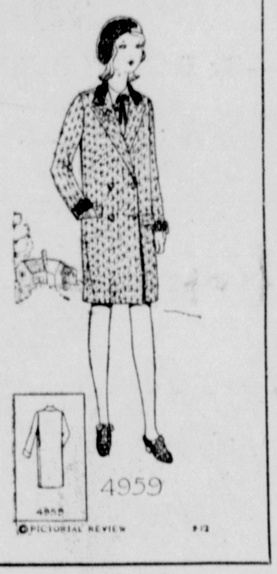

The radio light beam now acts as the guiding spirit of the aviator in fog. It is the line over which he flies his ship, and the slightest deviation from his course, either to the right or left, is called to his attention by code signals that sound in his headphones, sent by the operator who is directing the device. The chief operator is Ralph C. Soney under whose supervision the tests were carried out. His station is at Castle Island, where is located the transmitting point of the beam. The terminus of the beam is of course the flying field to insure a safe landing, which in a fog is both dangerous and difficult.

When the pilot leaves the field a series of red lights flicker from the giant mast at Castle Island to attract his attention and so direct him to the path of the radio light beam. The beam is carried from the transmitting point to the airport by underground cable. It is quite narrow at the airport, becoming broader as the distance grows and becoming quite narrow again as it nears the terminal point. As the aviator circles over the field he pushes a button and instantaneous contact is made wtih the transmitting station by radio-telephonic communication. This anti-fog device has proved itself simple in operation and effective in results, and it is expected that the same method of making aviation safe from the hazard of fog will be applied over other routes.

(International Newsreel)

S2

Fashions for the Smart Woman

DOUBLE-BREASTED

Fashion found all types of double-breasted fashions very youthful during the past Summer. We even had double-breasted sweaters. This favor for things double-breasted is continuing with unabated enthusiasm through the Winter. It appears particularly in coats and frocks for the junior. A trig example is shown in this coat, with its mannish tailoring. It is developed in tweed, which is well to the forefront in favor for the younger girls' coats and jackets. The new tweeds are rough in appearance, but very soft in texture, and are often flecked with white.

Pictorial Printed Pattern No. 4959. Sizes 6 to 16, 35 cents.

READ THE DISPATCH ADS DAILY

Sets Precedent

Mrs. Sarah Lee Fain, Virginia's first woman legislator, who has announced her candidacy for congress on the democratic ticket. Mrs. Fain is the first Virginia woman to run for this office. She has the support of all women's club groups in the state.

Gold Less Durable

It has been found that gold coins do not have the wearing qualities of the silver ones. A silver coin can be exchanged about 3,250,000 times before the image on it is worn away, while a gold coin will survive only 2,000,000 changes of ownership.

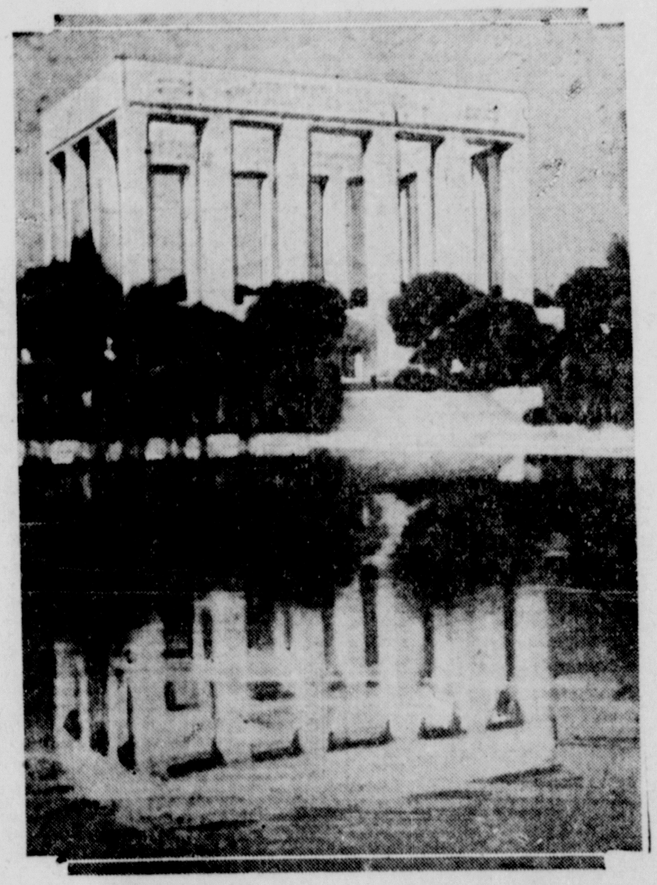

Slavery Not Stamped Out

It has been stated that there are over 4,000,000 persons being held in slavery. The countries in which the traffic still exists are Abyssinia, the Sudan, Arabia, Sierre Leone, Liberia, China, Burma and Nepal.

Ancient Philistia

In ancient geography the country of Philistia lay to the southwest of Palestine, along the Mediterranean. The principal cities were Ascalon, Ashdod, Gaza, Gath and Ekron.

CHICAGO'S TRIBUTE TO HEROES

This is the $20,000 prize design selected out of 114 plans submitted for the Chicago Memorial Building to be erected on the lake front in Chicago. The winning plan provides for an expenditure of $4,000,000. Eric Gugler and Robert Bailey, New York architects, were named as winners of the first prize.

MINNESOTA DRUGGISTS PLAN BIG MEETING

Minneapolis, Minn.—Retail druggists of Minnesota will hold their forty-sixth annual convention under the auspices of the Minnesota State Pharmaceutical association at the Nicollet hotel, Minneapolis, February 12, 13 and 14.

The pictures: (1.) H. V. Sanders, Albert Lea, Minn., president-elect, Minnesota State Pharmaceutical association; (2.) John Dargavel, secretary of Minnesota State Board of Pharmacy and chairman of convention arrangements committee; (3.) Dr. Gustav Bachman, college of pharmacy, University of Minnesota, secretary; (4) G. A. Thompson, Saint Paul, president of the association, whose term expires at the close of the convention. Mr. Sanders will be his successor.

At least 1,000 pharmacists and visitors are expected to attend, including a large delegation from neighboring Northwest states.

Leaders in both the commercial and professional sides of pharmacy have been obtained to lead the convention discussion, John W. Dargavel of Minneapolis, chairman of the arrangements committee, said. Among them will be Dr. J. L. Palmer, professor of marketing, University of Chicago school of commerce, who will speak on, "Recent Developments in the Retail Merchandising Field"; Dr. George Cousins of the department of education, Colgate-Palmolive-Peet Co., Chicago; Joe L. Loug, Chicago, who will speak at the annual banquet, subject, "Fundamentals of Human Relationship"; George W. Camp, Boston, Mass., sales manager of the United Drug Co., subject, "Selling High Grade Rubber Sundries"; and Dean E. R. Serles, division of pharmacy, State college, Brookings, S. D.

Elaborate entertainment including special parties for the women visitors is planned for each afternoon and evening of the three-day convention. The "President's Ball" is the event the opening night, February 12; the annual banquet is the evening of February 13; and the annual smoker for the men of the convention is the evening of February 14.

Reduced rail rates will prevail for the gathering.

Young Set Copies New Party Frocks

Simplicity Marks Dresses Worn to Social Affairs by Little Girls.

It is difficult indeed to be a wall flower in the lovely frocks that fashion has provided for parties of the younger set—from the cradle up. Even the youngest "sub-deb," writes a fashion correspondent in the New York Times, hardly graduated from her pram, appreciates a touch of Paris handwork on her flower-like frock of batiste or organdie. While her older sister finds her heart's desire in the long skirts and generally grown-up evening mode of the moment.

Clothes for the tiny tot, of course, are classic in their simplicity. Yet it is astonishing what variety may be found in these little dresses. Since the feminine young person begins to assert her personality even before she can talk, it is well to consider the type of the child before selecting her first party frock, for there are dresses for the plain and the picturesque, the blonde and the brunette.

Fabrics remain much the same from year to year, but there are interesting new developments in color and detail which show the effects of the adult mode. Many colors are now considered suitable for children which were once confined to their elders. Delicate orchids, greens and yellows vie with white, pale pink and blue, once considered the only suitable shades for the nursery. Fine handwork from the convents of France and Belgium continues to adorn many of the loveliest of the little party frocks. But there is an increasing tendency in Paris clothes for children to use hand applique and unusual seaming, such as appears on more grown-up frocks.

Paris Makes Contribution.

Sheer batiste, dotted swiss, french voile and handkerchief linen are favorites. And from Paris come diminutive frocks in pastel or naive floral-printed crepe de chine for the very young person. These are made with the utmost simplicity, depending upon a bit of hand smocking or a narrow contrasting piping for their decoration. The English type of smocked dress of dotted swiss or batiste is still worn by the more conservative members of the younger set for all occasions.

There is a decided vogue at the moment for "sister dresses," and the problem of finding suitable clothes for several young daughters is simplified by ordering the same model in assorted sizes. Frequently, however, the dignity of Miss Nine or Ten is affronted at the proposal that she appear in a costume identical with that worn by her younger sister. This difficulty is cleverly solved by the sister frocks chosen for illustration, which are the same in fabric and color, but sufficiently varied in design to suit the different ages.

These frocks, from Paris, are made of flesh-colored georgette crepe. The six-year-old wears a straight little gathered frock, with square yoke made of hand-fagotted bands, and the skirt trimmed with hand-run pin tucks and narrow plaitings. Older sister's dress has the same tucks and plaitings, but is cut on slightly more sophisticated lines, the skirt gathered to a straight bodice, as befits her years.

One's first evening party, even though it be only from eight to ten, is a real milestone, and should be treated accordingly. Therefore the choice of a dance frock for the girl of twelve or thirteen is a momentous one. Formerly it was an almost impossible one as well, but there are now many designers devoting their attention to the creation of frocks of real charm and suitability for the "difficult age."

The sheer fabrics, georgettes and chiffons are especially adapted to the needs of the younger girl. Augustabernard makes a charming dance frock of pale blue chiffon, caught in at the natural waistline with a narrow sash belt. The skirt, just below the knees, is finished with a series of graduated bias folds of the material. Similar folds form a quaint shoulder cape, which may be untied and slipped off, after the manner of a cocktail jacket.

Taffeta Is a Favorite.

Taffeta has always been a favorite fabric for the schoolgirl, and this year it is shown in more attractive models than ever. What could be more appreciated than a dance dress of red taffeta? One that has an almost festive design as well has a fitted bodice with a belt marking a high waistline, a tiered peplum skirt, slightly longer at the sides and back, and a square decolletage finished with a saucy bow on each shoulder.

An adaptation of a Patou model makes a smart frock for the young girl. It is of flat crepe in a soft shade of green, and has a sleeveless bolero bodice and flared skirt, which is fitted over the hips and finished with a narrow belt and jeweled buckle. The simplicity of this frock and its clever cut have a decidedly slenderizing effect on the adolescent figure.

Even satin, so high in favor for formal evening frocks, has been adapted to the needs of the younger set.

As for the real sub-debutante, the girl of fifteen to seventeen, there is literally no end to the fascinating frocks from which she may choose for dances. Almost every one of the leading Paris couturiers showed at least one youthful model adapted to her needs in the mid-season collections.

An interesting model is from Lanvin—past mistress of the art of creating frocks at once smart and picturesque for the young girl. It is sea-green taffeta made with fitted bodice and youthful flared peplum. The full, gathered skirt of the taffeta, cut in deep points, ends just below the knees, but a deep border of matching net gives an effect of length very gratifying to one who is just beginning to feel grown up. A yoke of the net is cut in a modest round decolletage suited to the girl of fifteen or sixteen.

Almost every fabric used for the debutante and her mother is also presented in models suited to the younger sister.

Jewels for Sub-Debutante.

Jewelry for the sub-debutante is now, as ever, a fine point in the mode. Costume jewelry has helped somewhat to solve the problem, for it is, after all, not really and truly jewels, and misses and even juniors, are now wearing the bright-colored necklaces and bracelets that are made of everything from wood to glass.

Rhinestones seem to meet the longing for something that sparkles like diamonds to wear with evening frocks of filmy fabrics, and these are now permitted to the girl in her 'teens if they are handled in a manner suggesting simplicity rather than sophistication. The newest are delicate, shimmering strands of tiny stones, some set in a single row, others in lacy, knitted or braided chains. A strand of diamond-cut rhinestones a little longer than a choker has for a pendant a double tassel of the rhinestones finely strung. A similar necklace is made of rhinestone and tiny pearls, with a flower-shaped pendant combining the two stones.

Another necklace is a slender shining strand of baguette crystals, made in long links joined with clusters of rhinestones. It has a crystal clasp in front with rhinestone tassels. On the order of the festive Hawaiian "lei" necklace is a choker made of round links of cut crystal, with rhinestones in bunches like berries between. Most of these necklaces, chokers or chains are worn in sets, with bracelets to match.

This season, as last, Channel's collection shows some charming necklaces of crystal especially adapted to the young girl. Several of these necklaces are in flower form, made of sparkling crystals in white or delicate opalescent tints—a perfect finish for the new party frocks of tulle or taffeta, with their bouffant skirts and demure little sleeves or shoulder capes.

Puff Sleeves

Party frocks for those under twenty-five use the puff sleeve occasionally with great success. A purple net, very long gown has wide, square decolletage and full short puff sleeves.

"Sister Frocks," for Six and Nine-Year-Old Girls Are Made of Flesh-Colored Georgette, Trimmed With Hand Tucking. Paris Handwork on the Dainty Dresses Is Greatly Appreciated by the Little Misses Who Attend Social Functions.

RENEW INTEREST IN 10,000 LAKES FUR FARM CORP.

FLOYD B. OLSON, HENNEPIN COUNTY ATTORNEY, WAS AT WASHINGTON, D. C.

RECEIVER AND U. S. DISTRICT ATTORNEY CONTINUE TO PROBE INTO CONCERN

Minneapolis, Feb. 5.—(U.P.)—Investigation of the affairs of the Ten Thousand Lakes Fur Farms Corporation was expected to take renewed vigor today with the return from Washington of Floyd B. Olson, Hennepin county attorney.

W. E. G. Watson, receiver for the corporation, and L. L. Drill, United States district attorney, continued their probes into the concern but declined to make public the preliminary results of the investigation.

Drill's office was reported examining the records of the fur farms concern and Watson had conferences scheduled with several witnesses. The receiver admitted he had interviewed a former employe of the company and two former state officials.

All the investigating bodies refused to reveal to what extent the corporation sold "unit contract sales" in the central Minnesota vicinity of St. Cloud and Little Falls. It was authoritatively reported, however, that residents of that district invested thousands of dollars in muskrat shares.

L. A. Lohnbaaken of St. Cloud filed a claim for the recovery of $11,030 allegedly lost by investing in the company. He said he purchased 130 muskrats and loaned the corporation $1,280, receiving no return from either investment.

Olson and Drill today were reported looking for evidence upon which to base criminal charges against officials and salesmen of the corporation and Watson was seeking further details concerning the company's receivership.

CROW WING

Luther Burkland was transacting business in Brainerd Monday.

Bill Chisholm is working for L. B. Koering.

Mr. Morgan and Arthur Anderson were Brainerd visitors Saturday.

Mrs. P. Anderson returned home Sunday after several days visit with Mr. and Mrs. Harry Anderson of St. Mathias.

Mrs. Laurence Doucette and baby returned home Sunday from the hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Koering and Mrs. Bell Porter were Brainerd visitors last Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Jackson and Mrs. Olsen were Brainerd visitors last Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Linn Lougee and Dorothy visited Sunday with Mrs. Belle Porter.

Mr. and Mrs. Morgan and baby and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Anderson and children were visiting with friends in Brainerd Sunday evening.

Oscar Anderson and Paul Swanson were Brainerd visitors last Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Koering visited Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Leon Derosier.

Mrs. Sam Clay was shopping in Brainerd last Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Chisholm and Mrs. Erickson were shopping in Brainerd last Saturday.

Miss Joyce Wetherbee is on the sick list this week.

O. W. Kinney is loading a car of pulp wood at Crow Wing.

MERRIFIELD

Guy Pratt and son-in-law have been hauling wood for the past week.

Mrs. Fred Wels visited friends in Merrifield for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude James, Jr., Mrs. Clyde Neider, Mrs. R. F. Keller, Guy Pratt and son Sheldon visited in Brainerd Tuesday.

Mrs. V. H. Keller visited Hollingsworth Thursday.

Isaac Van Doren sawed wood the past week for Merrifield folks.

Mrs. M. A. Bronson was a Brainerd visitor Thursday.

Saturday Mr. and Mrs. V. H. Keller and Mrs. R. T. Keller motored to Brainerd to attend the funeral of Chas. Mudge.

Saturday evening the Merrifield 500 club met at Hollingsworth, the evening was spent in playing 500. Mrs. Claudie James, Jr., and Mrs. Clyde Neider entertained the party. Prizes were awarded the winners. A delicious lunch was served at midnight.

MINNESOTA JACK RABBIT BUS LINE IN SHORT HOPS

St. Paul, Feb. 5.—(U.P.)—The state railroad and warehouse commission today authorized sale of the Overland Stages, Inc., to the Minnesota Jack Rabbit Company, a passenger bus line concern.

The Jack Rabbit Company was granted permission to operate a motor bus line into Minnesota from South Dakota near Pipestone and continuing on to Moorhead.

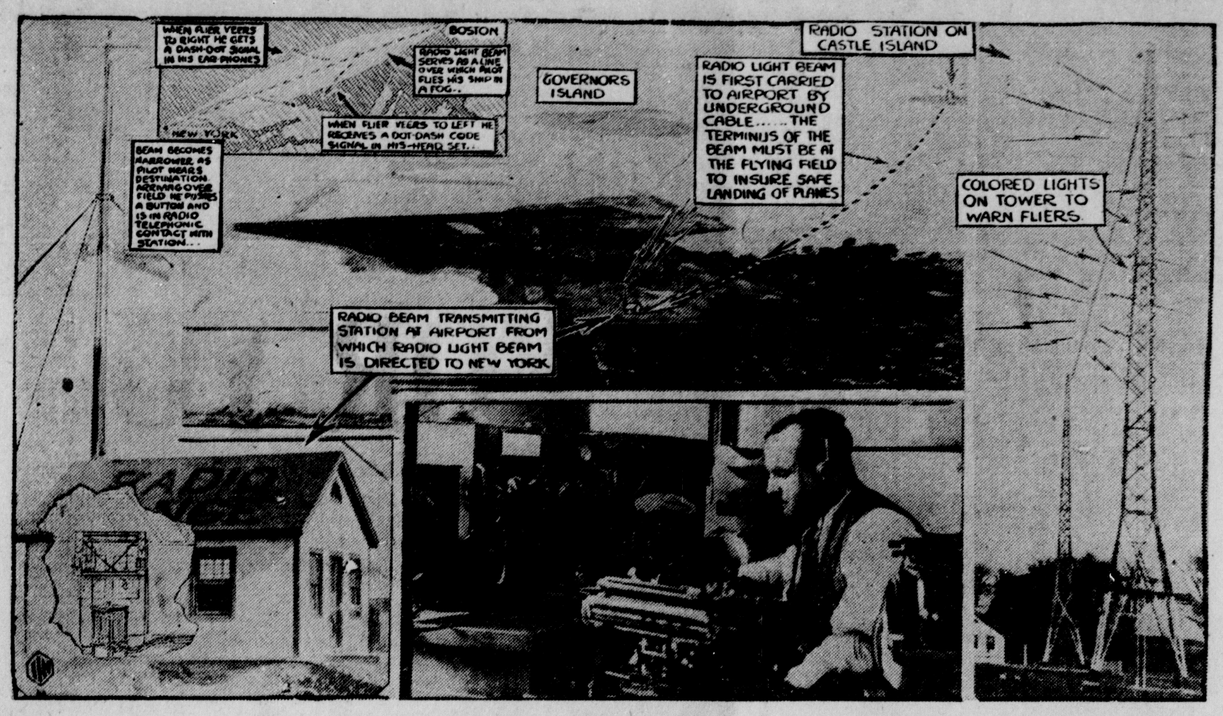

Copy of Famous Building

The Mastbaum Rodin Foundation museum in Philadelphia was designed by Paul Cret of Philadelphia and Jacques Greber of Paris. It's a reproduction of the Rodin musee at Meudon, France. The limestone of which it is built was brought from that country.

Recipe for Comfort

The chief secret of comfort lies in not suffering trifles to vex us and in prudently cultivating our undergrowth of small pleasures.—Archbishop Sharp.

Science Conquers Aviation Enemy—Fog

FOG — AVIATION'S DEADLIEST FOE, is about to clear before the sun of scientific endeavor. Since last November a series of remarkable experiments and tests have been carried out over the air route between New York and Boston. These tests have been under the supervision of the Airways Division of the United States Department of Commerce which is vitally interested in the serious business of rendering the airways as safe as scientific ingenuity can devise. And aviation cannot be considered safe until man has overcome the deadly danger of fog, which has been the direct cause of some of the most frightful disasters of the air.

The radio light beam now acts as the guiding spirit of the aviator in fog. It is the line over which he flies his ship, and the slightest deviation from his course, either to the right or left, is called to his attention by code signals that sound in his headphones, sent by the operator who is directing the device. The chief operator is Ralph C. Soney under whose supervision the tests were carried out. His station is at Castle Island, where is located the transmitting point of the beam. The terminus of the beam is of course the flying field to insure a safe landing, which in a fog is both dangerous and difficult.

When the pilot leaves the field a series of red lights flicker from the giant mast at Castle Island to attract his attention and so direct him to the path of the radio light beam. The beam is carried from the transmitting point to the airport by underground cable. It is quite narrow at the airport, becoming broader as the distance grows and becoming quite narrow again as it nears the terminal point. As the aviator circles over the field he pushes a button and instantaneous contact is made wtih the transmitting station by radio-telephonic communication. This anti-fog device has proved itself simple in operation and effective in results, and it is expected that the same method of making aviation safe from the hazard of fog will be applied over other routes.

(International Newsreel)

S2

Fashions for the Smart Woman

DOUBLE-BREASTED

Fashion found all types of double-breasted fashions very youthful during the past Summer. We even had double-breasted sweaters. This favor for things double-breasted is continuing with unabated enthusiasm through the Winter. It appears particularly in coats and frocks for the junior. A trig example is shown in this coat, with its mannish tailoring. It is developed in tweed, which is well to the forefront in favor for the younger girls' coats and jackets. The new tweeds are rough in appearance, but very soft in texture, and are often flecked with white.

Pictorial Printed Pattern No. 4959. Sizes 6 to 16, 35 cents.

READ THE DISPATCH ADS DAILY

Sets Precedent

Mrs. Sarah Lee Fain, Virginia's first woman legislator, who has announced her candidacy for congress on the democratic ticket. Mrs. Fain is the first Virginia woman to run for this office. She has the support of all women's club groups in the state.

Gold Less Durable

It has been found that gold coins do not have the wearing qualities of the silver ones. A silver coin can be exchanged about 3,250,000 times before the image on it is worn away, while a gold coin will survive only 2,000,000 changes of ownership.

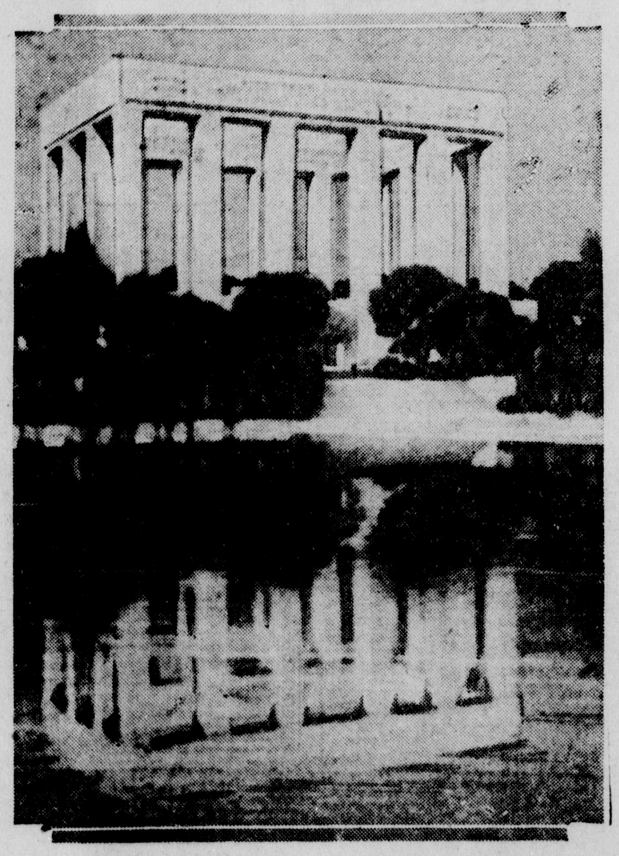

Slavery Not Stamped Out

It has been stated that there are over 4,000,000 persons being held in slavery. The countries in which the traffic still exists are Abyssinia, the Sudan, Arabia, Sierre Leone, Liberia, China, Burma and Nepal.

Ancient Philistia

In ancient geography the country of Philistia lay to the southwest of Palestine, along the Mediterranean. The principal cities were Ascalon, Ashdod, Gaza, Gath and Ekron.

CHICAGO'S TRIBUTE TO HEROES

This is the $20,000 prize design selected out of 114 plans submitted for the Chicago Memorial Building to be erected on the lake front in Chicago. The winning plan provides for an expenditure of $4,000,000. Eric Gugler and Robert Bailey, New York architects, were named as winners of the first prize.

MINNESOTA DRUGGISTS PLAN BIG MEETING

Minneapolis, Minn.—Retail druggists of Minnesota will hold their forty-sixth annual convention under the auspices of the Minnesota State Pharmaceutical association at the Nicollet hotel, Minneapolis, February 12, 13 and 14.

The pictures: (1.) H. V. Sanders, Albert Lea, Minn., president-elect, Minnesota State Pharmaceutical association; (2.) John Dargavel, secretary of Minnesota State Board of Pharmacy and chairman of convention arrangements committee; (3.) Dr. Gustav Bachman, college of pharmacy, University of Minnesota, secretary; (4) G. A. Thompson, Saint Paul, president of the association, whose term expires at the close of the convention. Mr. Sanders will be his successor.

At least 1,000 pharmacists and visitors are expected to attend, including a large delegation from neighboring Northwest states.

Leaders in both the commercial and professional sides of pharmacy have been obtained to lead the convention discussion, John W. Dargavel of Minneapolis, chairman of the arrangements committee, said. Among them will be Dr. J. L. Palmer, professor of marketing, University of Chicago school of commerce, who will speak on, "Recent Developments in the Retail Merchandising Field"; Dr. George Cousins of the department of education, Colgate-Palmolive-Peet Co., Chicago; Joe L. Long, Chicago, who will speak at the annual banquet, subject, "Fundamentals of Human Relationship"; George W. Camp, Boston, Mass., sales manager of the United Drug Co., subject, "Selling High Grade Rubber Sundries"; and Dean E. R. Serles, division of pharmacy, State college, Brookings, S. D.

Elaborate entertainment including special parties for the women visitors is planned for each afternoon and evening of the three-day convention. The "President's Ball" is the event the opening night, February 12; the annual banquet is the evening of February 13; and the annual smoker for the men of the convention is the evening of February 14.

Reduced rail rates will prevail for the gathering.

Young Set Copies New Party Frocks

Simplicity Marks Dresses Worn to Social Affairs by Little Girls.

It is difficult indeed to be a wall flower in the lovely frocks that fashion has provided for parties of the younger set—from the cradle up. Even the youngest "sub-deb," writes a fashion correspondent in the New York Times, hardly graduated from her pram, appreciates a touch of Paris handwork on her flower-like frock of batiste or organdie. While her older sister finds her heart's desire in the long skirts and generally grown-up evening mode of the moment.

Clothes for the tiny tot, of course, are classic in their simplicity. Yet it is astonishing what variety may be found in these little dresses. Since the feminine young person begins to assert her personality even before she can talk, it is well to consider the type of the child before selecting her first party frock, for there are dresses for the plain and the picturesque, the blonde and the brunette.

Fabrics remain much the same from year to year, but there are interesting new developments in color and detail which show the effects of the adult mode. Many colors are now considered suitable for children which were once confined to their elders. Delicate orchids, greens and yellows vie with white, pale pink and blue, once considered the only suitable shades for the nursery. Fine handwork from the convents of France and Belgium continues to adorn many of the loveliest of the little party frocks. But there is an increasing tendency in Paris clothes for children to use hand applique and unusual seaming, such as appears on more grown-up frocks.

Paris Makes Contribution.

Sheer batiste, dotted swiss, french voile and handkerchief linen are favorites. And from Paris come diminutive frocks in pastel or naive floral-printed crepe de chine for the very young person. These are made with the utmost simplicity, depending upon a bit of hand smocking or a narrow contrasting piping for their decoration. The English type of smocked dress of dotted swiss or batiste is still worn by the more conservative members of the younger set for all occasions.

There is a decided vogue at the moment for "sister dresses," and the problem of finding suitable clothes for several young daughters is simplified by ordering the same model in assorted sizes. Frequently, however, the dignity of Miss Nine or Ten is affronted at the proposal that she appear in a costume identical with that worn by her younger sister. This difficulty is cleverly solved by the sister frocks chosen for illustration, which are the same in fabric and color, but sufficiently varied in design to suit the different ages.

These frocks, from Paris, are made of flesh-colored georgette crepe. The six-year-old wears a straight little gathered frock, with square yoke made of hand-fagotted bands, and the skirt trimmed with hand-run pin tucks and narrow plaitings. Older sister's dress has the same tucks and plaitings, but is cut on slightly more sophisticated lines, the skirt gathered to a straight bodice, as befits her years.

One's first evening party, even though it be only from eight to ten, is a real milestone, and should be treated accordingly. Therefore the choice of a dance frock for the girl of twelve or thirteen is a momentous one. Formerly it was an almost impossible one as well, but there are now many designers devoting their attention to the creation of frocks of real charm and suitability for the "difficult age."

The sheer fabrics, georgettes and chiffons are especially adapted to the needs of the younger girl. August-abernard makes a charming dance frock of pale blue chiffon, caught in at the natural waistline with a narrow sash belt. The skirt, just below the knees, is finished with a series of graduated bias folds of the material. Similar folds form a quaint shoulder cape, which may be untied and slipped off, after the manner of a cocktail jacket.

Taffeta Is a Favorite.

Taffeta has always been a favorite fabric for the schoolgirl, and this year it is shown in more attractive models than ever. What could be more appreciated than a dance dress of red taffeta? One that has an almost festive design as well has a fitted bodice with a belt marking a high waistline, a tiered peplum skirt, slightly longer at the sides and back, and a square decolletage finished with a saucy bow on each shoulder.

An adaptation of a Patou model makes a smart frock for the young girl. It is of flat crepe in a soft shade of green, and has a sleeveless bolero bodice and flared skirt, which is fitted over the hips and finished with a narrow belt and jeweled buckle. The simplicity of this frock and its clever cut have a decidedly slenderizing effect on the adolescent figure.

Even satin, so high in favor for formal evening frocks, has been adapted to the needs of the younger set.

As for the real sub-debutante, the girl of fifteen to seventeen, there is literally no end to the fascinating frocks from which she may choose for dances. Almost every one of the leading Paris couturiers showed at least one youthful model adapted to her needs in the mid-season collections.

An interesting model is from Lanvin—past mistress of the art of creating frocks at once smart and picturesque for the young girl. It is sea-green taffeta made with fitted bodice and youthful flared peplum. The full, gathered skirt of the taffeta, cut in deep points, ends just below the knees, but a deep border of matching net gives an effect of length very gratifying to one who is just beginning to feel grown up. A yoke of the net is cut in a modest round decolletage suited to the girl of fifteen or sixteen.

Almost every fabric used for the debutante and her mother is also presented in models suited to the younger sister.

Jewels for Sub-Debutante.

Jewelry for the sub-debutante is now, as ever, a fine point in the mode. Costume jewelry has helped somewhat to solve the problem, for it is, after all, not really and truly jewels, and misses and even juniors, are now wearing the bright-colored necklaces and bracelets that are made of everything from wood to glass.

Rhinestones seem to meet the longing for something that sparkles like diamonds to wear with evening frocks of filmy fabrics, and these are now permitted to the girl in her 'teens if they are handled in a manner suggesting simplicity rather than sophistication. The newest are delicate, shimmering strands of tiny stones, some set in a single row, others in lacy, knitted or braided chains. A strand of diamond-cut rhinestones a little longer than a choker has for a pendant a double tassel of the rhinestones finely strung. A similar necklace is made of rhinestone and tiny pearls, with a flower-shaped pendant combining the two stones.

Another necklace is a slender shining strand of baguette crystals, made in long links joined with clusters of rhinestones. It has a crystal clasp in front with rhinestone tassels. On the order of the festive Hawaiian "lei" necklace is a choker made of round links of cut crystal, with rhinestones in bunches like berries between. Most of these necklaces, chokers or chains are worn in sets, with bracelets to match.

This season, as last, Channel's collection shows some charming necklaces of crystal especially adapted to the young girl. Several of these necklaces are in flower form, made of sparkling crystals in white or delicate opalescent tints—a perfect finish for the new party frocks of tulle or taffeta, with their bouffant skirts and demure little sleeves or shoulder capes.

Puff Sleeves

Party frocks for those under twenty-five use the puff sleeve occasionally with great success. A purple net, very long gown has wide, square decolletage and full short puff sleeves.

"Sister Frocks," for Six and Nine-Year-Old Girls Are Made of Flesh-Colored Georgette, Trimmed With Hand Tucking. Paris Handwork on the Dainty Dresses Is Greatly Appreciated by the Little Misses Who Attend Social Functions.

WOMEN VOTERS NAME NEW BOARD

League Perfects Its Organiznation in Meeting at Home of Mrs. A. M. Opsahl

SELECT COMMITTEE CHAIRMEN

World Court Review to be Given at Next Gathering of League

At a League of Women Voters board meeting at the home of Mrs. A. M. Opsahl Tuesday afternoon, the organization of the new board was perfected, the personnel of which is as follows:

President—Mrs. J. J. Cummins.

First Vice President—Mrs. Henry I. Cohen.

Second Vice President — Mrs. S. Newman.

Corresponding Secretary—Mrs. B. S. Armstrong.

Recording Secretary — Mrs. C. A. Nelson.

Treasurer—Mrs. A. K. Cohen.

The committee chairmen follow:

Radio—Mrs. Dean White.

Social—Mrs. Rose Parker.

Public Health—Miss Mary Walsh.

Child Welfare—Mrs. A. M. Opsahl.

Press—Mrs. W. C. Cobb.

Efficiency in Government—Mrs. J. A. Bachelder.

Finance—Mrs. E. J. Quinn.

Living Costs—Mrs. Arthur Turcotte.

Social Hygiene — Mrs. Chas. Trebtoske.

Women in Industry — Mrs. C. B. Rowley.

International Cooperation to Prevent War—Mrs. L. F. Hawkinson.

Program—Mrs. B. C. Pulkrabek.

Legal Status of Women—Mrs. Per Larson.

Education—Miss Elizabeth Walsh.

The speakers bureau includes: Mrs. W. H. Gemmell, Mrs. J. H. Herbert, Mrs. A. C. Weber, Mrs. L. F. Hawkinson, Mrs. W. C. Cobb.

It was decided to have a review of all the negotiations regarding the World Court, at the next meeting. The history of these negotiations will be divided into four parts and be given by four different women a la the 'school method,' after which there will be eight questions on the Root Formula for U. S. entry into the World Court, with answers by different board members and this will be followed by general questions and discussion. This program will be in charge of Mrs. L. F. Hawkinson.

The meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Chas. Trebtoske, 220 North Third street, on February 25, at 3 o'clock. After the meeting, a 25 cent dinner will be served by the Radio committee. This meeting is open to all members and all those who wish to become members. The committee will prepare dinner for 50 people.

District No. 4 West Oak Lawn School Report for January

The following is the January report of District No. 4 West Oak Lawn school:

Total enrollment, 40.

Number of cases of perfect attendance, 15.

Miss Verona Trask from the Brainerd Teachers Training department has been doing her practice teaching at our school for the last two weeks. We have been very glad to have had her with us.

A honor roll—Irvin Britton, Wilmer Franke, Joseph Laughton, Robert Liners, Genevieve Liners, Robert Strobel, Herbert Strobel, Ellen Markkanen, Bernice Congdon, Elida Ostby, George McKay.

B honor roll—Leonard Strobel, Jennie Markkanen, Bernice Andrews, Alvin Andrews, Earl Congdon, Leonard Jotham.

The teacher is Caroline Seadlund.

Report of School District No. 33

There were 14 pupils enrolled in School District No. 33. Those with perfect attendance for the month are: Anna Senn, Doris Witte, and Helen Bower. Anna Senn and Doris Witte have been neither absent nor tardy this year. The percentage of attendance for the month is 84. We hope the next month will favor us with less sickness and more perfect attendance.

Pupils whose names appear on the A honor roll are: Anna Senn, Hazel Bower, Leonard Aarhus, Mervin Aarhus, Lillian Rasmussen, Doris Witte, and Helen Bower.

Those on the B honor roll are: Marie Mogensen, Ludwig Mogensen, Julia Mogensen, Anton Mogensen, William Senn and Dorothy Bower.

Alice I. Olson is teacher.

65 CARS LIVESTOCK SHIPPED IN 1929

Annual Report of Brainerd Livestock Shipping Association Submitted

James M. Cofield, manager of the Brainerd Livestock Shipping Association submitted the following report today covering the year's business of the association from January 1, 1929 to December 31, 1929:

Number of cars shipped, 65.

Head of cattle 829, weight	706065 pounds.
Head of calves 991, weight	126587 pounds.
Head of hogs 1830, weight	359466 pounds.
Head of sheep 841, weight	65193 pounds.
Total 1,257,311 pounds.
Paid for stock	$ 99,807.15
Paid St. Paul expense	5,823.79
Paid local expense	1,200.55
Gross receipts	106,804.61
Loss pro-rating	26.88
	$106,831.49
St. Paul expense classified:
Freight	$2,816.74
Insurance	9.75
Switching	237.25
Hay	253.19
Hauling cripples	1.90
Bedding	15.40
Yardage	685.79
Corn	444.12
State weighing	62.85
Hog inspection	5.80
Commissions	1,262.50
C and D	30.00
	5,825.29
Refund	1.50
Total	$5,823.79
Local expense classified:
Manager's commission	$ 764.57
Home expense	136.00
Sinking fund	299.98
Total	$1,200.55
174 memberships received	$43.50
Scale fee	1.00
Total	$44.50

S. & S. AUTO PARTS TO OPEN BUSINESS

Duluth Firm Establishes Branch Store in Ransford Hotel Block

HANDLE 140 LINES

Wholesale and Retail Business to be Done With Garages and Public

Equipped to handle 140 different lines of auto parts for all makes of cars, shop equipment, steel shelving, Quaker State Oil, the S. and S. Auto Parts Co. of Duluth will open business in Brainerd on Front street in the Hotel Ransford block Saturday.

The Brainerd wholesale and retail store is the second branch to be established by the company. The main offices and stores are located at Duluth with one branch office in Virginia.

W. P. Soneson, president of the firm was in the city today arranging details for the opening. All the while trucks continued to unload parts and equipment.

Leonard Gilbertson of Duluth has been named manager of the Brainerd store. He will be assisted by one clerk for the present. A salesman for the company will also make his headquarters in this city.

Mr. Soneson has already met many of the garage owners and car dealers in this city. He expects to derive much of his trade from that source.

The entry of the S. and S. Auto Parts store to the city of Brainerd will be of benefit to car owners who will not be required to wait while parts for their broken automobiles are being sent for out of the city.

"We can furnish parts for any car not more than six years back immediately. We can also furnish parts for cars of older date also but the owner will have to wait the customary few days," said Mr. Soneson.

The S. and S. Co. are the distributors for Quaker State oil in this district and also handle the steel shelving for the Berger Manufacturing Co. of Canton, Ohio and Vesta batteries.

Mr. Soneson invited anyone in Duluth between February 17 and 22 to visit the Duluth auto show and inspect the company's booth which carries an idea of the different lines the store handles.

FUNERAL RITES FOR FORMER RESIDENT

Burial of Mrs. Louise M. Wilson to be Conducted Here Thursday Afternoon

Funeral rites for Mrs. Louise M. Wilson who passed away at Redfield, S. D., will be conducted from the Whitney mortuary Thursday at 2 p. m., Rev. F. A. Kufus officiating. Interment will be at Evergreen cemetery.

Mrs. Wilson was born at Minden, Germany, on July 16, 1860 and came to America at the age of 15 years. She was united in marriage to William A. Wilson on January 15, 182. Mr. Wilson died on February 9, 1919. Both were former residents of Brainerd and pioneers in farming in the Pillager area.

Surviving are six children, Mrs. E. Molyneux, Grace City, N. D., Mrs. G. C. Russell, Rayenscry, Sask., Can., Henry and George Wilson of Pillager, Minn., Mrs. George Hix of Motley, and Charles Wilson of Redfield, S. D.

SPECIAL FINNISH SERVICES SUNDAY

Fremont P. Ward Will Speak at Meetings to be Held at Bethlehem Lutheran Church

On Sunday afternoon and evening Fremont P. Ward, construction engineer, U. S. public buildings, will speak at the Bethlehem Lutheran church South Seventh street. Mr. Ward will speak under the auspices of the Finnish Apostolic Lutheran church. Singing will be in Finnish.

The services, which will be in the English language, will be held at 2 o'clock in the afternoon and at 7:30 o'clock in the evening, on Sunday, February 9.

While here Mr. Ward, who is a construction engineer, will inspect the local post office building.

Everyone is cordially invited to attend these services.

REMOVE TO TOLEDO

Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Lind, Formerly of Brainerd, Now in New Home

Friends of Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Lind, both of whom grew up in Brainerd, will be interested to learn that they are now residing in Toledo, O., where Mr. Lind is in charge of the patent department of the Surface Combustion Company, one of the largest manufacturers of industrial heating furnaces in this country.

Mrs. Lind, nee Jennie Mysen, will be remembered for her musical activities while in Brainerd. She has become favorably known in musical circles in Toledo.

The steak tastes better when it is broiled on each side

A LITTLE at a time

HILLS BROS. Coffee tastes better—has a matchless flavor—because it is roasted a few pounds at a time, never in bulk. This continuous method — Controlled Roasting — is exclusive to Hills Bros.

Fresh from the original vacuum pack. Easily opened with the key.

HILLS BROS COFFEE

© 1930

You Save.. in buying

KC Baking Powder

Same Price for over 38 years

25 ounces for 25¢

You save in using it. Use less than of high priced brands.

MILLIONS OF POUNDS USED BY OUR GOVERNMENT

More Women Each Year

are making use of Bank Service

Here in Brainerd, the Citizens State Bank particularly invites the accounts of women, and makes a special point of providing service which is to their liking in every respect.

Are you enjoying the convenience of an account at this conveniently located, splendidly equipped bank?

CITIZENS STATE BANK OF BRAINERD

"Oldest and Largest State Bank in Crow Wing County"

HERE'S A TIP FOR YOU!

A Thrilling New Serial

"MASTER OF MONEY"

By

ROY VICKERS

Starts In Friday's

DAILY DISPATCH

Don't fail to begin this enthralling story of the part money plays in the drama of the love of two men for a woman. It will sure surprise everybody.

Remember "Master of Money" Starts Friday

Become a Regular Subscriber Now

Daily Dispatch, Brainerd, Minn.

Please send the Daily Dispatch to

Name _____

Address _____

$ _____ enclosed for same. Or will remit _____

Why not Phone your Order?

WOMEN VOTERS NAME NEW BOARD

League Perfects Its Organization in Meeting at Home of Mrs. A. M. Opsahl

SELECT COMMITTEE CHAIRMEN

World Court Review to be Given at Next Gathering of League

At a League of Women Voters board meeting at the home of Mrs. A. M. Opsahl Tuesday afternoon, the organization of the new board was perfected, the personnel of which is as follows:

President—Mrs. J. J. Cummins.

First Vice President—Mrs. Henry I. Cohen.

Second Vice President — Mrs. S. Newman.

Corresponding Secretary—Mrs. B. S. Armstrong.

Recording Secretary — Mrs. C. A. Nelson.

Treasurer—Mrs. A. K. Cohen

The committee chairmen follow:

Radio—Mrs. Dean White.

Social—Mrs. Rose Parker.

Public Health—Miss Mary Walsh.

Child Welfare—Mrs. A. M. Opsahl.

Press—Mrs. W. C. Cobb.

Efficiency in Government—Mrs. J. A. Bachelder.

Finance—Mrs. E. J. Quinn.

Living Costs—Mrs. Arthur Turcotte.

Social Hygiene — Mrs. Chas. Trebtoske.

Women in Industry — Mrs. C. B. Rowley.

International Cooperation to Prevent War—Mrs. L. F. Hawkinson.

Program—Mrs. B. C. Pulkrabek.

Legal Status of Women—Mrs. Per Larson.

Education—Miss Elizabeth Walsh.

The speakers bureau includes: Mrs. W. H. Gemmell, Mrs. J. H. Herbert, Mrs. A. C. Weber, Mrs. L. F. Hawkinson, Mrs. W. C. Cobb.

It was decided to have a review of all the negotiations regarding the World Court, at the next meeting. The history of these negotiations will be divided into four parts and be given by four different women a la the 'school method,' after which there will be eight questions on the Root Formula for U. S. entry into the World Court, with answers by different board members and this will be followed by general questions and discussion. This program will be in charge of Mrs. L. F. Hawkinson.

The meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Chas. Trebtoske, 220 North Third street, on February 25, at 3 o'clock. After the meeting, a 25 cent dinner will be served by the Radio committee. This meeting is open to all members and all those who wish to become members. The committee will prepare dinner for 50 people.

District No. 4 West Oak Lawn School Report for January

The following is the January report of District No. 4 West Oak Lawn school:

Total enrollment, 40.

Number of cases of perfect attendance, 15.

Miss Verona Trask from the Brainerd Teachers Training department has been doing her practice teaching at our school for the last two weeks. We have been very glad to have had her with us.

A honor roll—Irvin Britton, Wilmer Franke, Joseph Laughton, Robert Liners, Genevieve Liners, Robert Strobel, Herbert Strobel, Ellen Markkanen, Bernice Congdon, Elida Ostby, George McKay.

B honor roll—Leonard Strobel, Jennie Markkanen, Bernice Andrews, Alvin Andrews, Earl Congdon, Leonard Jotham.

The teacher is Caroline Seadlund.

Report of School District No. 33

There were 14 pupils enrolled in School District No. 33. Those with perfect attendance for the month are: Anna Senn, Doris Witte, and Helen Bower. Anna Senn and Doris Witte have been neither absent nor tardy this year. The percentage of attendance for the month is 84. We hope the next month will favor us with less sickness and more perfect attendance.

Pupils whose names appear on the A honor roll are: Anna Senn, Hazel Bower, Leonard Aarhus, Mervin Aarhus, Lillian Rasmussen, Doris Witte, and Helen Bower.

Those on the B honor roll are: Marie Mogensen, Ludwig Mogensen, Julia Mogensen, Anton Mogensen, William Senn and Dorothy Bower.

Alice I. Olson is teacher.

65 CARS LIVESTOCK SHIPPED IN 1929

Annual Report of Brainerd Livestock Shipping Association Submitted

James M. Cofield, manager of the Brainerd Livestock Shipping Association submitted the following report today covering the year's business of the association from January 1, 1929 to December 31, 1929:

Number of cars shipped, 65.

Head of cattle 829, weight 706065 pounds.

Head of calves 991, weight 126587 pounds.

Head of hogs 1830, weight 359466 pounds.

Head of sheep 841, weight 65193 pounds.

Total 1,257,311 pounds.

Paid for stock	$ 99,807.15
Paid St. Paul expense	5,823.79
Paid local expense	1,200.55
Gross receipts	106,804.61
Loss pro-rating	26.88
	$106,831.49

St. Paul expense classified:

Freight	$2,816.74
Insurance	9.75
Switching	237.25
Hay	253.19
Hauling crippies	1.90
Bedding	15.40
Yardage	685.79
Corn	444.12
State weighing	62.85
Hog inspection	5.80
Commissions	1,262.50
C and D	30.00
	5,825.29
Refund	1.50
Total	$5,823.79

Local expense classified:

Manager's commission	$ 764.57
Home expense	136.00
Sinking fund	299.98
Total	$1,200.55
174 memberships received	$43.50
Scale fee	1.00
Total	$44.50

S. & S. AUTO PARTS TO OPEN BUSINESS

Duluth Firm Establishes Branch Store in Ransford Hotel Block

HANDLE 140 LINES

Wholesale and Retail Business to be Done With Garages and Public

Equipped to handle 140 different lines of auto parts for all makes of cars, shop equipment, steel shelving, Quaker State Oil, the S. and S. Auto Parts Co. of Duluth will open business in Brainerd on Front street in the Hotel Ransford block Saturday.

The Brainerd wholesale and retail store is the second branch to be established by the company. The main offices and stores are located at Duluth with one branch office in Virginia.

W. P. Soneson, president of the firm was in the city today arranging details for the opening. All the while trucks continued to unload parts and equipment.

Leonard Gilbertson of Duluth has been named manager of the Brainerd store. He will be assisted by one clerk for the present. A salesman for the company will also make his headquarters in this city.

Mr. Soneson has already met many of the garage owners and car dealers in this city. He expects to derive much of his trade from that source.

The entry of the S. and S. Auto Parts store to the city of Brainerd will be of benefit to car owners who will not be required to wait while parts for their broken automobiles are being sent for out of the city.

"We can furnish parts for any car not more than six years back immediately. We can also furnish parts for cars of older date also but the owner will have to wait the customary few days," said Mr. Soneson.

The S. and S. Co. are the distributors for Quaker State oil in this district and also handle the steel shelving for the Berger Manufacturing Co. of Canton, Ohio and Vesta batteries.

Mr. Soneson invited anyone in Duluth between February 17 and 22 to visit the Duluth auto show and inspect the company's booth which carries an idea of the different lines the store handles.

FUNERAL RITES FOR FORMER RESIDENT

Burial of Mrs. Louise M. Wilson to be Conducted Here Thursday Afternoon

Funeral rites for Mrs. Louise M. Wilson who passed away at Redfield, S. D., will be conducted from the Whitney mortuary Thursday at 2 p. m., Rev. F. A. Kufus officiating. Interment will be at Evergreen cemetery.

Mrs. Wilson was born at Minden, Germany, on July 16, 1860 and came to America at the age of 15 years. She was united in marriage to William A. Wilson on January 15, 182. Mr. Wilson died on February 9, 1919. Both were former residents of Brainerd and pioneers in farming in the Pillager area.

Surviving are six children, Mrs. E. Molyneux, Grace City, N. D., Mrs. G. C. Russell, Rayenscry, Sask., Can., Henry and George Wilson of Pillager, Minn., Mrs. George Hix of Motley, and Charles Wilson of Redfield, S. D.

SPECIAL FINNISH SERVICES SUNDAY

Fremont P. Ward Will Speak at Meetings to be Held at Bethlehem Lutheran Church

On Sunday afternoon and evening, Fremont P. Ward, construction engineer, U. S. public buildings, will speak at the Bethlehem Lutheran church South Seventh street. Mr. Ward will speak under the auspices of the Finnish Apostolic Lutheran church. Singing will be in Finnish.

The services, which will be in the English language, will be held at 2 o'clock in the afternoon and at 7:30 o'clock in the evening, on Sunday, February 9.

While here Mr. Ward, who is a construction engineer, will inspect the local post office building.

Everyone is cordially invited to attend these services.

REMOVE TO TOLEDO

Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Lind, Formerly of Brainerd, Now in New Home

Friends of Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Lind, both of whom grew up in Brainerd, will be interested to learn that they are now residing in Toledo, O., where Mr. Lind is in charge of the patent department of the Surface Combustion Company, one of the largest manufacturers of industrial heating furnaces in this country.

Mrs. Lind, nee Jennie Mysen, will be remembered for her musical activities while in Brainerd. She has become favorably known in musical circles in Toledo.

The steak tastes better when it is broiled on each side

A LITTLE at a time

HILLS BROS. Coffee tastes better—has a matchless flavor—because it is roasted a few pounds at a time, never in bulk. This continuous method — Controlled Roasting — is exclusive to Hills Bros.

Fresh from the original vacuum pack. Easily opened with the key.

HILLS BROS COFFEE

© 1930

HERE'S A TIP FOR YOU!

A Thrilling New Serial

"MASTER OF MONEY"

By

ROY VICKERS

Starts In Friday's

DAILY DISPATCH

Don't fail to begin this enthralling story of the part money plays in the drama of the love of two men for a woman. It will sure surprise everybody.

Remember "Master of Money" Starts Friday

Become a Regular Subscriber Now

Daily Dispatch, Brainerd, Minn.

Please send the Daily Dispatch to

Name _____

Address _____

$ _____ enclosed for same. Or will remit _____

Why not Phone your Order?

You Save.. in buying

KC Baking Powder

Same Price for over 38 years

25 ounces for 25¢

You save in using it. Use less than of high priced brands.

MILLIONS OF POUNDS USED BY OUR GOVERNMENT

More Women Each Year

are making use of Bank Service

Here in Brainerd, the Citizens State Bank particularly invites the accounts of women, and makes a special point of providing service which is to their liking in every respect.

Are you enjoying the convenience of an account at this conveniently located, splendidly equipped bank?

CITIZENS STATE BANK OF BRAINERD

"Oldest and Largest State Bank in Crow Wing County"

"STORM-TOSSED"

BY HELEN SCHERMERHORN YOUNG

CHAPTER XXXV.

DICK took the lead. He had more force in his makeup. Ned always recognized it, and depended on it. Hadn't it always been old Dick who carried the ball over the line when the others failed?

They rode on through the hot day—barely stopping for lunch. They had to reach town before sundown—that would mean they could see the new well and get the one and only train back in the morning—but they'd have news tonight——

"Dick—with those whiskers of yours you do look like a horse-thief—or even a sheriff of the early days—in fact, you could look like almost anything." Ned laughed. "I can picture you stealing the lady of your desire, swinging her over your saddle and galloping off across the plains with her to your lair."

Why did Ned say things like that? He pretended to laugh. It was hollow. He had to reply in kind.

"You look like a big Swede, Ned. I might flatter you and say a Viking—your beard is as blond as your hair—and curly, too. You'd make a hit up North."

"Wouldn't it be a hot joke to go home with these facial decorations of ours, Dick? I can hear Enid laugh now—when she would see us."

Enid laugh?—when would be hear Enid laugh?

"We're almost there, old boy," exclaimed Ned, looking at his wrist watch.

"We've made good time. We can keep to our schedule. There will be plenty of daylight to see the well."

"Won't be bad sleeping in a regular bed, either."

"If you call those things at the so-called hotel beds," said Dick.

"Just so we can get Tampico on the wire—I don't care what happens," Ned said almost under his breath.

"Yes," murmured Dick and dug his boot into his horse's ribs.

Five-thirty and the town reached.

They didn't wait to go into the hotel, but rode directly to the railroad station. A few sleepy Mexitans dozed on the shady side.

The office closed at five. They inquired where the operator lived. Quickly they went to his house.

Yes—he would be very glad to do anything for them that he could—but the office where he had to put through the call down the line closed at five-thirty also. There was no way of getting Tampico—either by telephone or telegraph until morning.

They walked slowly down the dusty narrow street. Neither spoke.

"We might as well ride out to the well," Dick said with a heavy scowl between his dark eyebrows.

"Yes—we'll get that over with," agreed Ned.

They went for their horses.

* * *

Dick couldn't remember much about it afterwards—it was so terrifically sudden—instantaneous—like the flame in which the devil appears on the stage in the opera of "Faust"—they said after the investigation that a cigarette had been dropped somewhere near and that the gas had caused it—but they were on the derrick floor—Ned was right by him—and then that sheet of flame had risen from nowhere—he could feel it singeing his beard—and then the fire right around them—like a wall—and the roar of it—Ned was there—he saw him drop—he must get to him—how heavy he was—he mustn't fall until he dragged Ned out of it—he couldn't—by God he wouldn't—can't breath—the pain in his lungs—funny every heart beat felt like a knife—God—Ned was heavy—had to shut his eyes—was he going in the right direction—Ned—Enid—

* * *

If Dick could have come to see her every day and sat by her side in the evening and held her hand and looked at their son with her, the three weeks in the hospital would have been heaven.

But Dick—and poor Ned? Where were they? They had gone on that long trip inland. When would they receive her letters and had Dick received the wire that Dave had sent announcing the baby's birth? And when would she tell Dave and Pauline? They'd been so sweet to her. Every day at the hospital—with flowers or something good to eat—

Then she had left the hospital.

Pauline had her bed all turned down when she got there and in the next room was a crib for the baby.

Now, she could see him all the time. Watch him while he slept and see Miss Tobin bathe him in the mornings. Now he was hers and wasn't under the regime of hospital discipline. He was her own baby—she could hold him—all she pleased.

One day they went to buy the baby-carriage. That was a very exciting day. No—she wouldn't have a white pram. That was too effeminate. He was a man child. Her son, Dick. She bought a gray one—very long, so that he could stretch out his little legs as he grew, and deep, so that the wind would not blow on him.

After that, Miss Tobin put him liars. Something might happen to the baby. The tortured feeling when you have a dread—an almost certain knowledge—a conviction that something is going to happen—

Enid was having a terrible dream when Miss Tobin brought the baby to her the next morning. What a blessing to wake up and see the sun shining through the bourgainvillea at the window. After all it was only a dream.

But the heavy feeling would not go away. She could not swallow her breakfast very well.

What were they going to do today? Oh, yes. Toby was going to teach Enid how to give him a bath. Toby would go with her to Serana for a while, and then she would get a regular baby's nurse. That might be the thing to do. But why couldn't she take care of her baby herself?

It was ticklish business—that first bath. Enid was very nervous and when she took her baby boy in her hands and turned him over on his little stomach, she sighed a great sigh of relief when she knew to sleep in it and Enid sat by him out in the patio in the sun.

Ned Was There—He Saw Him Drop.

They would have been glorious days—if Dick could have come home at night and taken her in his arms and then they could have stood by his crib and looked at him when he was going to sleep.

Eagerly she watched the postman. Each time she heard a step at the door she looked for the maid to bring her a telegram. Why didn't she hear?

And the telephone—they telephoned messages sometimes. Perhaps it would come that way. One night—very late—it had rung. Surely that was something. She slipped on her dressing-gown and went to her door. Dave was answering it. She listened. She musn't get a chill, either. It would be bad for the baby. Dave came upstairs. "Please excuse it," the operator had said. "Wrong number."

It was hard for her to get to sleep again.

She wished that times were not so efficient and so bent on health measures. She wished that she had been like her grandmother—with her baby sleeping on her bosom, instead of in the nursery with Miss Tobin. Why was it supposed to be bad for children to sleep close to their mother? All baby animals did. Perhaps it was better. But this night—if she could only have held her son in her arms—she knew she could get to sleep. Everything seemed so strange. There were noises—why it wasn't nearly so bad at Serana after all. There the noises were only those made by nature. Here there might be burglars. Something might happen to the baby. The tortured feeling when you have a dread—an almost certain knowledge—a conviction that something is going to happen—

Enid was having a terrible dream when Miss Tobin brought the baby to her the next morning. What a blessing to wake up and see the sun shining through the bourgainvillea at the window. After all it was only a dream.

But the heavy feeling would not go away. She could not swallow her breakfast very well.

What were they going to do today? Oh, yes. Toby was going to teach Enid how to give him a bath. Toby would go with her to Serana for a while, and then she would get a regular baby's nurse. That might be the thing to do. But why couldn't she take care of her baby herself?

It was ticklish business—that first bath. Enid was very nervous and when she took her baby boy in her hands and turned him over on his little stomach, she sighed a great sigh of relief when she knew she had done it successfully—without dropping him. Then she broke out into a perspiration and looked at Toby with wonderment and respect in her eyes. How easily she handled him. How soon could she do it like that?

Then Toby had put him in his pram and told Enid to go out in the sun and lie in the deck-chair. She would bring her an egg-nog.

The house was quiet. Dave and Pauline had gone back to Serana. Toby and she would take the baby down in a few days. Pauline wanted to have everything ready for her.

Toby brought the egg-nog and the morning papers and laid them on the small table by Enid.

As Enid raised the glass to her lips, she glanced at the paper. There it was. She read it. Then she put down her glass and read it over again.

"Amalgamated Press Report."

San Francisco man risks life for friend. "Tampico, Mexico. Richard Grant of San Francisco almost loses life in heroic effort to save his friend E. Grier in burning oil-well. Grier died shortly after Grant had carried him to safety. Grant will recover."

She didn't speak. She didn't cry. She looked up into Miss Tobin's face. They were close, these two young women.

"What is it, Mrs. Grier?" asked Miss Tobin bending over her.

Enid handed Miss Tobin the paper and pointed to the short paragraph.

(To be concluded tomorrow)

Copyright, 1929, by Helen Schermerhorn Young. Distributed by King Features Syndicate, Inc.

When You Are Sixty-Five

By JANE OSBORN

(Copyright)

BARRY FULTON had definitely planned to stop at the Rosary Flower shop and the box office of the Empire theater on his way home from the office that night. Ever since he had known that on the first payday in September he would receive an increase of forty dollars a month in his pay envelope he had planned to make just those stops on his way home. But something had happened when Mr. King, the general manager of his concern, had called Barry Fulton into his room to speak about his new salary and his new duties, and to give him a bit of advice. So Barry Fulton boarded the surface car at the corner nearest his office and went straight home—that is, he went home, if going to a boarding house like Mrs. Drew's could be called "going home."

As he had thought of that first evening after the increase in salary Barry definitely planned calling on Mabel Low, but this plan, too, had fallen under the weightier influence of that interview with Mr. King. So Barry went to his small room on the third floor. There he took from his coat pocket a crispy new bankbook.

He turned to the first page and regarded the first and only entry: September 1, $42.30. Then he drew from his pocket a little card of celluloid bearing an image of the building occupied by the Provident Savings bank and beneath it a table showing just how much money one would have to save a week if he wished to accumulate certain fortunes.

At sixty-five, worth $50,000.

Barry Fulton fondled the thought. Fifty thousand dollars! It was enough to make one dizzy. He stood up and took the step that brought him in front of his little oak bureau, and gazed with a bit of awed approval at the image in the mirror of this man who would be worth so great a fortune.

Then came rapping on his door—a maid to say that some one wanted to speak with him on the telephone.

It was Mabel Low.

"Hello, Mabel. Why, yes, I did say something about coming around. Why—I—that is—you see, I've got a lot of new responsibilities at the office. Of course I always want to come—but—a fellow can't always do just what he wants to do. Why, yes. I'll be around. So long, Mabel."

Still he hadn't the slightest intention of taking any flowers and though he might occasionally take her to the "movies," as he had before done, he didn't intend to go to any regular shows, just because he was earning forty dollars more a month than he had previously earned. If he did, how in the name of common sense and the Provident Savings bank could he save $50,000?

For three or four months Barry continued to call on Mabel, trying all the time to remind himself that, after all, it was foolish to spend money on a girl who would probably accept his offer of marriage when the time came for him to make it, whether he took her to the theater and bought her flowers or not. And every month he put his neat little $42.30 in the bank.

Then one day when he called at Mabel's he was annoyed to find another caller there. Two dozen long-stemmed roses stood in a vase on the table.

And so it went. It became more and more obvious that Mabel had another suitor, and a suitor who was just rash and crude enough to think he could gain Mabel's affections by spending money on her. How much, thought Barry, would that fellow be worth when he was sixty-five?

That evening Barry sat alone in his room. He took the little celluloid card from his pocket as he had done often before. Idly his eyes went over the figures. Barry was twenty-five now. He counted out on his fingers—twenty-five, thirty-five, forty-five, fifty-five, sixty-five. Forty years. That was a long time, an unthinkably long time, and every month, for those forty years, he, Barry Fulton, would have to put his neat little $42.30 in the bank.

Sixty-five? There was something unattractive about the very sound of the syllables.

His own father had not lived to be sixty-five. An uncle who had had been a great spender, but had somehow contrived to make a quick fortune after he was fifty. But by sixty-five he was bald and fat—happy only in the happiness of his children and grandchildren.

The image of himself at sixty-five wedged itself into his musings—bald—stodgy—a bit rheumatic. And was this old fellow that haunted him to reap all the benefits of his forty years of sacrifice?

Barry Fulton dashed to the door, ran down the stairs to the back hall where the telephone was hidden.

"Mabel," he was soon saying; "Mabel, I've been pretty busy—new responsibilities. But I want to talk to you. How about dinner and the theater—what show would you like to see? And by the way, Mabel, do you like orchids and lilies of the valley, or just plain orchids, best?"

Running to Form

"Why, where is your wife?" asked the hostess, who was entertaining with an informal bridge party.

"Well, doggone if I didn't forget to bring her along," exclaimed the plumber. "I'll have to go back and get her."

LIVESTOCK, PRODUCE AND GRAIN MARKETS

SOUTH ST. PAUL LIVESTOCK

South St. Paul, Feb. 5.—(U.P.)—CATTLE—Receipts, 2,500. Market: Steers and yearlings in meager supply; medium weights $11.25; fully steady; yearlings $11; bulk all weight $10.75 down; fed cows slow, weak; other she stock about steady; heifers $7.50@8.75; low cutters and cutters $5@5.75; bulls 25c or more lower; best medium grades $8.25; stockers and feeders nominally unchanged. Calves, receipts, 3,500. Vealer market not fully established; bidding $11.50@14; improved quality considered.

HOGS—Receipts, 1,800. Market weak to 25c lower than Tuesday's average; 160-250 lbs $10@10.10; top $10.10, for sorted lightweights; few sales and most bids on heavy butchers $9.50@9.75; packing sows $8.25@8.50; pigs $10; light lights $10. Average cost previous market day $9.98; average weight previous market day 231.

SHEEP—Receipts, 1,000. Market: Late sales Tuesday on good and choice lambs fully $11.25 or 25c or more lower; few early $11.50; indications today about steady with Tuesday's late close; best fed lambs $11.50 or above.

CHICAGO LIVESTOCK

Chicago, Feb. 5.—(U.P.)—HOGS—Receipts, 31,000, including 8,000 direct. 10@15c lower; top $10.60; bulk 160-230 lb weights $10.35@10.55; 240-270 lb weights $10.20@10.35; 300 lb weights $10.

CATTLE—Receipts, 7,500. Calves, receipts, 2,500. Slightly better tone in steer trade but only dependable activity on strictly good and choice long feds, these scarce.

SHEEP—Receipts, 13,000. Market slow, opening fully steady; indications bulk fat lambs $11.75@12.25; few choice $12.50@12.65, some held higher; heavies $11.50 and below; fat ewes quotable steady.

CHICAGO PRODUCE MARKET

Chicago, Feb. 5.—(U.P.)—EGGS—Market firm. Receipts, 7,759 cases. Extra firsts, 41½c; firsts, 40@41c; ordinaries, 34@37c; seconds, 32c.

BUTTER—Market firm. Receipts, 9,737 tubs. Extras, 36c; extra firsts, 34½@35c; firsts, 33@34c; seconds, 31@32c; standards, 36c.

POULTRY—Market weak. Receipts, none in; two cars due. Fowls, 23c; springers, 25c; Leghorns, 21c; ducks, 16@17c; geese, 15c; turkeys, 25c; roosters, 18c; broilers, 27c.

CHEESE—Young Americas, 21c.

POTATOES—On track 306 cars; arrivals 99; shipments 817. Market about steady. Wisconsin sacked Round Whites, $2.50@2.60. Minnesota and North Dakota sacked Round Whites mostly $2.40. Idaho sacked Russets, $2.95@3.20.

ST. PAUL PRODUCE MARKET

BUTTER—Packing stocks, 18c; butterfat, 38c; firsts, 35c; extras, 36c.

EGGS—Firsts, 31c; seconds, 26c.

POULTRY—Hens, live, 15@22c.

The Pet Aversion

An entry in the intimate diary of George Sand—made nearly 100 years ago—reads:

"I'm glad I don't care for spinach, for if I liked it I should eat it, and I cannot bear spinach."

Wherein the great writer is no different from a little fellow I know, who came to visit his grandmother for the first time. As he crossed the threshold where his adoring relative was waiting to receive him with open arms, he looked up into her face and lisped:

"I don't like spinach."—Kansas City Times.

Detroit's Island Park

Before the American Revolution, Belle Isle, like Detroit, was a British possession. For some time after the Revolution its ownership was under dispute until the boundary between the United States and Canada was settled by treaty. Lieut. George McDougall took possession of it in 1762, afterward giving the Indians some rum, tobacco and other articles for a conveyance of the title. His family sold it to William Macomb in 1794 and Barnabas Campau purchased it in 1817 for $5,000. His heirs sold it to the city of Detroit in 1879 for $200,000.

ORDER LIMITING TIME TO FILE CLAIMS AND FOR HEARING THEREON

No. 3369

State of Minnesota, County of Crow Wing, ss., in Probate Court.

In the Matter of the Estate of Carolina W. Berklund, Decedent.

Letters Testamentary this day having been granted to Luther Berklund, and an affidavit of No Debts having been duly made and filed herein;

IT IS ORDERED, That the time within which all creditors of the above named decedent may present claims against her estate in this Court, be, and the same hereby is, limited to three (3) months from and after the date hereof; and that Monday, April 28th, 1930, at 10 o'clock A. M., in the Probate Court Rooms at the Court House at Brainerd, in said County, be, and the same hereby is, fixed and appointed as the time and place for hearing upon and examination, adjustment and allowance of such claims as shall be presented within the time aforesaid.

Let notice hereof be given by the publication of this order in The Brainerd Daily Dispatch, as provided by law and by mailed notice as provided by the rules of this Court.

Dated January 27th, 1930.

(Probate Court Seal) L. B. KINDER, Probate Judge.

Swanson, Swanson & Swanson, Attorneys, Brainerd, Minnesota. 202t3W

WOMEN SUFFERING BLADDER IRRITATION

If functional Bladder Irritation disturbs your sleep, or causes Burning or Itching Sensation, Backache, Leg Pains, or muscular aches, making you feel tired, depressed and discouraged, why not try the Cystex 48 Hour Test? Don't give up. Get Cystex today. Put it to the test. See for yourself how quickly it works and what it does. Money back if it doesn't bring quick improvement, and satisfy you completely. Try Cystex today. Only 60c. Johnson's Pharmacy and The Economy Drug Store. advt.

Try a Dispatch Want Ad For Best Selling Results

Dispatch Want Ads

Two cents per word for first insertion; one cent each issue thereafter.

HELP WANTED

WANTED—Competent maid who will go to Minneapolis. Call 682. 7226-208t2

WANTED—Reliable woman for general housework. Call at 403 Bluff Ave. Call 755-W. 7221-207t2

SALESLADIES — Real Silk can use two more neat appearing sales ladies in established local territory; references. Apply 708 Fidelity Bldg., Duluth, Minn. 7220-207t3

FOR SALE

FOR SALE — 3 cows. 1320 Norwood street S. E. 7228-208t3

FOR SALE—Property. 704 Oak St. S. 7185-203tf

FOR SALE — Female canary birds. 913 Main St. 7218-207t3

FOR SALE—Four fresh cows. Inquire Henry Roberts. 1702 Oak street. 7165-199tf

FOR SALE—All modern house. See or call A. C. Weber. Phone 495-J. 7208-205tf

FOR SALE—Two purebred Guernsey bull calves. W. D. Allston. Phone 243-M. 7209-205t9p

FOR SALE — Hudson coach, reasonable. 1716 Norwood street. 7219-207t3p

FOR SALE—One Guernsey bull calf, purebred. Gull Lake Dairy. Call 44-F-3. 7222-207t3

MONEY SAVERS
Bargains for January

Buick Coupe, 1923	$ 75.00
Dodge Touring, 1923	75.00
Whippet Light Delivery, 1928	200.00
Whippet Sedan, 1928	300.00
Reo Sedan, 1926	350.00
Chevrolet Sedan, 1928	400.00
Chevrolet Six Coach, 1929	475.00
Ford A Coupe, 1928	375.00
Ford Coupe, 1925	100.00

CONKLIN MOTOR CO.
Chevrolet Sales and Service
215 South Broadway Phone 236
7104-188t26

$1,000 INVESTOR'S SYNDICATE SAVINGS CERTIFICATE. Total of fourteen payments, amounting to $88.20 has been made. Will sacrifice for $70.00 cash. Call 722 between 5 and 7 P. M. tf

AUCTION — One of best teams of horses in Crow Wing county, weight 3300 lbs., 5 and 7 years old, also harness, sleighs and wagon, at Scotties Barn, 2 o'clock, Saturday. Chas. Gosse, owner. Conkin, auctioneer. 7227 208t3p

FOR RENT

FOR RENT — Modern room. Call 796-J. 7224-206

FOR RENT—Four room flat. Gruenhagen Co. 7130-194tf

FOR RENT—Two sleeping rooms 724 South 7th street. 7091-185tf

FOR RENT—5 room house. See Andy Wesley. 7212-206t3p

FOR RENT—Modern room. Phone 128-J. 7207-205tf

FOR RENT — Small store room in Gardner block. Phone 754-W. 7223-207t3

TWO furnished rooms for light housekeeping. 319 N. 9th street. 7225-208tf

FOR RENT — Furnished rooms for light housekeeping at 412 12th street S. E. 7075-182tf

FURNISHED apartment for rent. Apply Gorham Studio. 7149-197tf

FOR RENT—Sleeping room, modern, garage. Mrs. Ellen Yde, 706 North Broadway. 7213-206t3p

Plumbing and Heating
ON MONTHLY PAYMENTS
DE ROSIER & MAGNAN
Phone 405-W 414 So. Sixth St.

FOR RENT — All modern six room house, 423 North Broadway. J. R. Smith. Phone 39. 7197-203tf

FOR RENT—Room, also garage. Call 671-J. 7140-196tf

FOR RENT—House, 307 South 7th St. Inquire 210 South 7th. J. E. Brady. 6756-142tf

FOR RENT — Five room apartment, strictly modern. Adults only. 617 North 7th St. 7054-180tf

FOR RENT—Desirable 6 room cottage, modern except heat. 109 Main street. Garage. J. R. Smith. Phone 39. 7196-203tf

FOR RENT—Three room apartment, unfurnished, gas range and electric refrigerator. Adults only. E. O. Webb. 7139-196tf

FOR RENT—Attractively furnished and unfurnished steam heated apartments with gas stoves, electric lights and full bath room equipment. Centrally located store room, office space, farms for rent and sale. Insurance. Phone 1. Gould-Gray Co. 4446-255tf

MISCELLANEOUS

FOR wood sawing call Alfred Daniels. Phone 490-W. 7215-206t12p

WOOD sawing wanted. Phone 618-R. Fred Austin. 7216-206t30

WANTED—Sewing. Any kind. Call 980-M. 7198-204t6

SUPPOSE you had an ad, even no larger than this. Don't you think people would read it? You did.

PLUMBING and HEATING
All kinds of pipes, fittings and valves
Call 69
L. W. SHERLUND

BIG BODY WOOD
Seasoned jack pine and poplar $7.00 cord, delivered. 12 and 16 inch wood $5.00 load. Call 595.
MRS. A. GUSTAFSON
191tf

Beware of Jack Frost
Have That Radiator Repaired
The Right Way
BRAINERD RADIATOR AND BODY SHOP
617 Norwood Phone 223-W

A North Side Bargain

A very fine 7 room home, with furnace and bath, close in on North Side. Newly painted and in excellent condition. Priced for quick sale at

$2750

Convenient terms.

HITCH REALTY COMPANY
209½ South Sixth Street

Await News From Arctic Wastes

Siberian wastes may have claimed the life of Earl Dorland (inset), Lieut. Carl Ben Eielson's mechanic, but Mr. and Mrs. Dorland, his parents, won't believe it. They are seen here in their home, sitting before the radio, still hoping to hear of their boy's discovery in the Arctic.

(International Newsreel)

Stature Really Matter of Little Importance

When Japan emerged from splendid isolation and entered into competition with western nations, the abbreviated stature of the Nipponese was a source of worry to their leaders, remarks a writer in the Boston Globe.

They sent missions abroad to learn the tricks of occidental civilization.

One day a Japanese mission came home and reported that it had solved a great national problem. Weren't all the western peoples reared on a milk diet? Milk must therefore be the secret of raising a nation of tall men.

Immediately, the milk diet became the great Japanese hobby. The big-wigs in high government bureaus set the example. At intervals, they would enter carrying a tray of milk bracers.

"Ah," the bureaucrat would exclaim, as he tossed it off, and stretched himself.

But after an army of little runts had licked the Russians, the tallest nation in Europe, the Japanese stopped worrying about their stature.

Fair Enough

A poet says when he can't sleep he gets up and writes poems. That's fine. When we can't sleep we'll read them.—Detroit News.

"STORM-TOSSED"

BY HELEN SCHERMERHORN YOUNG

CHAPTER XXXV.

DICK took the lead. He had more force in his makeup. Ned always recognized it, and depended on it. Hadn't it always been old Dick who carried the ball over the line when the others failed?

They rode on through the hot day—barely stopping for lunch. They had to reach town before sundown—that would mean they could see the new well and get the one and only train back in the morning—but they'd have news tonight——

"Dick—with those whiskers of yours you do look like a horse-thief—or even a sheriff of the early days—in fact, you could look like almost anything." Ned laughed. "I can picture you stealing the lady of your desire, swinging her over your saddle and galloping off across the plains with her to your lair."

Why did Ned say things like that? He pretended to laugh. It was hollow. He had to reply in kind.

"You look like a big Swede, Ned. I might flatter you and say a Viking—your beard is as blond as your hair—and curly, too. You'd make a hit up North."

"Wouldn't it be a hot joke to go home with these facial decorations of ours, Dick? I can hear Enid laugh now—when she would see us."

Enid laugh?—when would be hear Enid laugh?

"We're almost there, old boy," exclaimed Ned, looking at his wrist watch.

"We've made good time. We can keep to our schedule. There will be plenty of daylight to see the well."

"Won't be bad sleeping in a regular bed, either."

"If you call those things at the so-called hotel beds," said Dick.

"Just so we can get Tampico on the wire—I don't care what happens," Ned said almost under his breath.

"Yes," murmured Dick and dug his boot into his horse's ribs.

Five-thirty and the town reached. They didn't wait to go into the hotel, but rode directly to the railroad station. A few sleepy Mexitans dozed on the shady side.

The office closed at five. They inquired where the operator lived. Quickly they went to his house.

Yes—he would be very glad to do anything for them that he could—but the office where he had to put through the call down the line closed at five-thirty also. There was no way of getting Tampico—either by telephone or telegraph until morning.

They walked slowly down the dusty narrow street. Neither spoke.

"We might as well ride out to the well," Dick said with a heavy scowl between his dark eyebrows.

"Yes—we'll get that over with," agreed Ned.

They went for their horses.

* * *

Dick couldn't remember much about it afterwards—it was so terrifically sudden—instantaneous—like the flame in which the devil appears on the stage in the opera of "Faust"—they said after the investigation that a cigarette had been dropped somewhere near and that the gas had caused it—but they were on the derrick floor—Ned was right by him—and then that sheet of flame had risen from nowhere—he could feel it singeing his beard—and then the fire right around them—like a wall—and the roar of it—Ned was there—he saw him drop—he must get to him—how heavy he was—he mustn't fall until he dragged Ned out of it—he couldn't—by God he wouldn't—can't breath—the pain in his lungs—funny every heart beat felt like a knife—God—Ned was heavy—had to shut his eyes—was he going in the right direction—Ned—Enid—

* * *

If Dick could have come to see her every day and sat by her side in the evening and held her hand and looked at their son with her, the three weeks in the hospital would have been heaven.

But Dick—and poor Ned? Where were they? They had gone on that long trip inland. When would they receive her letters and had Dick received the wire that Dave had sent announcing the baby's birth? And when would she tell Dave and Pauline? They'd been so sweet to her. Every day at the hospital—with flowers or something good to eat—

Then she had left the hospital.

Pauline had her bed all turned down when she got there and in the next room was a crib for the baby.

Now, she could see him all the time. Watch him while he slept and see Miss Tobin bathe him in the mornings. Now he was hers and wasn't under the regime of hospital discipline. He was her own baby—she could hold him—all she pleased.

One day they went to buy the baby-carriage. That was a very exciting day. No—she wouldn't have a white pram. That was too effeminate. He was a man child. Her son, Dick. She bought a gray one—very long, so that he could stretch out his little legs as he grew, and deep, so that the wind would not blow on him.

After that, Miss Tobin put him liars. Something might happen to the baby. The tortured feeling when you have a dread—an almost certain knowledge—a conviction that something is going to happen—

Enid was having a terrible dream when Miss Tobin brought the baby to her the next morning. What a blessing to wake up and see the sun shining through the bourgainvillea at the window. After all it was only a dream.

But the heavy feeling would not go away. She could not swallow her breakfast very well.

What were they going to do today? Oh, yes. Toby was going to teach Enid how to give him a bath. Toby would go with her to Serana for a while, and then she would get a regular baby's nurse. That might be the thing to do. But why couldn't she take care of her baby herself?

It was ticklish business—that first bath. Enid was very nervous and when she took her baby boy in her hands and turned him over on his little stomach, she sighed a great sigh of relief when she knew to sleep in it and Enid sat by him out in the patio in the sun.

Ned Was There—He Saw Him Drop.

They would have been glorious days—if Dick could have come home at night and taken her in his arms and then they could have stood by his crib and looked at him when he was going to sleep.

Eagerly she watched the postman. Each time she heard a step at the door she looked for the maid to bring her a telegram. Why didn't she hear?

And the telephone—they telephoned messages sometimes. Perhaps it would come that way. One night — very late — it had rung. Surely that was something. She slipped on her dressing-gown and went to her door. Dave was answering it. She listened. She musn't get a chill, either. It would be bad for the baby. Dave came upstairs. "Please excuse it," the operator had said. "Wrong number."

It was hard for her to get to sleep again.

She wished that times were not so efficient and so bent on health measures. She wished that she had been like her grandmother—with her baby sleeping on her bosom, instead of in the nursery with Miss Tobin. Why was it supposed to be bad for children to sleep close to their mother? All baby animals did. Perhaps it was better. But this night—if she could only have held her son in her arms—she knew she could get to sleep. Everything seemed so strange. There were noises—why it wasn't nearly so bad at Serana after all. There the noises were only those made by nature. Here there might be burglars. Something might happen to the baby. The tortured feeling when you have a dread—an almost certain knowledge—a conviction that something is going to happen—

Enid was having a terrible dream when Miss Tobin brought the baby to her the next morning. What a blessing to wake up and see the sun shining through the bourgainvillea at the window. After all it was only a dream.

But the heavy feeling would not go away. She could not swallow her breakfast very well.

What were they going to do today? Oh, yes. Toby was going to teach Enid how to give him a bath. Toby would go with her to Serana for a while, and then she would get a regular baby's nurse. That might be the thing to do. But why couldn't she take care of her baby herself?

It was ticklish business—that first bath. Enid was very nervous and when she took her baby boy in her hands and turned him over on his little stomach, she sighed a great sigh of relief when she knew she had done it successfully—without dropping him. Then she broke out into a perspiration and looked at Toby with wonderment and respect in her eyes. How easily she handled him. How soon could she do it like that?

Then Toby had put him in his pram and told Enid to go out in the sun and lie in the deck-chair. She would bring her an egg-nog.

The house was quiet. Dave and Pauline had gone back to Serana. Toby and she would take the baby down in a few days. Pauline wanted to have everything ready for her.

Toby brought the egg-nog and the morning papers and laid them on the small table by Enid.

As Enid raised the glass to her lips, she glanced at the paper. There it was. She read it. Then she put down her glass and read it over again.

"Amalgamated Press Report."

San Francisco man risks life for friend. "Tampico, Mexico. Richard Grant of San Francisco almost loses life in heroic effort to save his friend E. Grier in burning oil-well. Grier died shortly after Grant had carried him to safety. Grant will recover."

She didn't speak. She didn't cry. She looked up into Miss Tobin's face. They were close, these two young women.

"What is it, Mrs. Grier?" asked Miss Tobin bending over her.

Enid handed Miss Tobin the paper and pointed to the short paragraph.

(To be concluded tomorrow)

Copyright, 1929, by Helen Schermerhorn Young. Distributed by King Features Syndicate Inc.

When You Are Sixty-Five

By JANE OSBORN

(Copyright)

BARRY FULTON had definitely planned to stop at the Rosary Flower shop and the box office of the Empire theater on his way home from the office that night. Ever since he had known that on the first payday in September he would receive an increase of forty dollars a month in his pay envelope he had planned to make just those stops on his way home. But something had happened when Mr. King, the general manager of his concern, had called Barry Fulton into his room to speak about his new salary and his new duties, and to give him a bit of advice. So Barry Fulton boarded the surface car at the corner nearest his office and went straight home—that is, he went home, if going to a boarding house like Mrs. Drew's could be called "going home."

As he had thought of that first evening after the increase in salary Barry definitely planned calling on Mabel Low, but this plan, too, had fallen under the weightier influence of that interview with Mr. King. So Barry went to his small room on the third floor. There he took from his coat pocket a crispy new bankbook.

He turned to the first page and regarded the first and only entry: September 1, $42.30. Then he drew from his pocket a little card of celluloid bearing an image of the building occupied by the Provident Savings bank and beneath it a table showing just how much money one would have to save a week if he wished to accumulate certain fortunes.

At sixty-five, worth $50,000.

Barry Fulton fondled the thought. Fifty thousand dollars! It was enough to make one dizzy. He stood up and took the step that brought him in front of his little oak bureau, and gazed with a bit of awed approval at the image in the mirror of this man who would be worth so great a fortune.

Then came rapping on his door—a maid to say that some one wanted to speak with him on the telephone.

It was Mabel Low.

"Hello, Mabel. Why, yes, I did say something about coming around. Why—I—that is—you see, I've got a lot of new responsibilities at the office. Of course I always want to come—but—a fellow can't always do just what he wants to do. Why, yes, I'll be around. So long, Mabel."

Still he hadn't the slightest intention of taking any flowers and though he might occasionally take her to the "movies," as he had before done, he didn't intend to go to any regular shows, just because he was earning forty dollars more a month than he had previously earned. If he did, how in the name of common sense and the Provident Savings bank could he save $50,000?

For three or four months Barry continued to call on Mabel, trying all the time to remind himself that, after all, it was foolish to spend money on a girl who would probably accept his offer of marriage when the time came for him to make it, whether he took her to the theater and bought her flowers or not. And every month he put his neat little $42.30 in the bank.

Then one day when he called at Mabel's he was annoyed to find another caller there. Two dozen long-stemmed roses stood in a vase on the table.

And so it went. It became more and more obvious that Mabel had another suitor, and a suitor who was just rash and crude enough to think he could gain Mabel's affections by spending money on her. How much, thought Barry, would that fellow be worth when he was sixty-five?

That evening Barry sat alone in his room. He took the little celluloid card from his pocket as he had done often before. Idly his eyes went over the figures. Barry was twenty-five now. He counted out on his fingers—twenty-five, thirty-five, forty-five, fifty-five, sixty-five. Forty years. That was a long time, an unthinkably long time, and every month, for those forty years, he, Barry Fulton, would have to put his neat little $42.30 in the bank.

Sixty-five? There was something unattractive about the very sound of the syllables.

His own father had not lived to be sixty-five. An uncle who had had been a great spender, but had somehow contrived to make a quick fortune after he was fifty. But by sixty-five he was bald and fat—happy only in the happiness of his children and grandchildren.

The image of himself at sixty-five wedged itself into his musings—bald—stodgy—a bit rheumatic. And was this old fellow that haunted him to reap all the benefits of his forty years of sacrifice?

Barry Fulton dashed to the door, ran down the stairs to the back hall where the telephone was hidden.

"Mabel," he was soon saying; "Mabel, I've been pretty busy—new responsibilities. But I want to talk to you. How about dinner and the theater—what show would you like to see? And by the way, Mabel, do you like orchids and lilies of the valley, or just plain orchids, best?"

Running to Form

"Why, where is your wife?" asked the hostess, who was entertaining with an informal bridge party.

"Well, doggone if I didn't forget to bring her along," exclaimed the plumber. "I'll have to go back and get her."

LIVESTOCK, PRODUCE AND GRAIN MARKETS

SOUTH ST. PAUL LIVESTOCK

South St. Paul, Feb. 5.—(U.P.)—CATTLE—Receipts, 2,500. Market: Steers and yearlings in meager supply; medium weights $11.25; fully steady; yearlings $11; bulk all weight $10.75 down; fed cows slow, weak; other she stock about steady; heifers $7.50@8.75; low cutters and cutters $5@5.75; bulls 25c or more lower; best medium grades $8.25; stockers and feeders nominally unchanged. Calves, receipts, 3,500. Vealer market not fully established; bidding $11.50@14; improved quality considered.

HOGS—Receipts, 1,800. Market weak to 25c lower than Tuesday's average; 160-250 lbs $10@10.10; top $10.10, for sorted lightweights; few sales and most bids on heavy butchers $9.50@9.75; packing sows $8.25@8.50; pigs $10; light lights $10. Average cost previous market day $9.98; average weight previous market day 231.

SHEEP—Receipts, 1,000. Market: Late sales Tuesday on good and choice lambs fully $11.25 or 25c or more lower; few early $11.50; indications today about steady with Tuesday's late close; best fed lambs $11.50 or above.

CHICAGO LIVESTOCK

Chicago, Feb. 5.—(U.P.)—HOGS—Receipts, 31,000, including 8,000 direct. 10@15c lower; top $10.60; bulk 160-230 lb weights $10.35@10.55; 240-270 lb weights $10.20@10.35; 300 lb weights $10.

CATTLE—Receipts, 7,500. Calves, receipts, 2,500. Slightly better tone in steer trade but only dependable activity on strictly good and choice long feds, these scarce.

SHEEP—Receipts, 13,000. Market slow, opening fully steady; indications bulk fat lambs $11.75@12.25; few choice $12.50@12.65, some held higher; heavies $11.50 and below; fat ewes quotable steady.

CHICAGO PRODUCE MARKET

Chicago, Feb. 5.—(U.P.)—EGGS—Market firm. Receipts, 7,759 cases. Extra firsts, 41½c; firsts, 40@41c; ordinaries, 34@37c; seconds, 32c.

BUTTER—Market firm. Receipts, 9,737 tubs. Extras, 36c; extra firsts, 34½@35c; firsts, 33@34c; seconds, 31@32c; standards, 36c.

POULTRY—Market weak. Receipts, none in; two cars due. Fowls, 23c; springers, 25c; Leghorns, 21c; ducks, 16@17c; geese, 15c; turkeys, 25c; roosters, 18c; broilers, 27c.

CHEESE—Young Americas, 21c.

POTATOES—On track 306 cars; arrivals 99; shipments 817. Market about steady. Wisconsin sacked Round Whites, $2.50@2.60. Minnesota and North Dakota sacked Round Whites mostly $2.40. Idaho sacked Russets, $2.95@3.20.

ST. PAUL PRODUCE MARKET

BUTTER—Packing stocks, 18c; butterfat, 38c; firsts, 35c; extras, 36c.

EGGS—Firsts, 31c; seconds, 26c.

POULTRY—Hens, live, 15@22c.

The Pet Aversion

An entry in the intimate diary of George Sand—made nearly 100 years ago—reads:

"I'm glad I don't care for spinach, for if I liked it I should eat it, and I cannot bear spinach."

Wherein the great writer is no different from a little fellow I know, who came to visit his grandmother for the first time. As he crossed the threshold where his adoring relative was waiting to receive him with open arms, he looked up into her face and lisped:

"I don't like spinach."—Kansas City Times.

Detroit's Island Park

Before the American Revolution, Belle Isle, like Detroit, was a British possession. For some time after the Revolution its ownership was under dispute until the boundary between the United States and Canada was settled by treaty. Lieut. George McDougall took possession of it in 1762, afterward giving the Indians some rum, tobacco and other articles for a conveyance of the title. His family sold it to William Macomb in 1794 and Barnabas Campau purchased it in 1817 for $5,000. His heirs sold it to the city of Detroit in 1879 for $200,000.

ORDER LIMITING TIME TO FILE CLAIMS AND FOR HEARING THEREON

No. 3369

State of Minnesota, County of Crow Wing, ss., in Probate Court.

In the Matter of the Estate of Carolina W. Berklund, Decedent.

Letters Testamentary this day having been granted to Luther Berklund, and an affidavit of No Debts having been duly made and filed herein;

IT IS ORDERED, That the time within which all creditors of the above named decedent may present claims against her estate in this Court be, and the same hereby is, limited to three (3) months from and after the date hereof; and that Monday, April 28th, 1930, at 10 o'clock A. M., in the Probate Court Rooms at the Court House at Brainerd, in said County, be, and the same hereby is, fixed and appointed as the time and place for hearing upon and examination, adjustment and allowance of such claims as shall be presented within the time aforesaid.

Let notice hereof be given by the publication of this order in The Brainerd Daily Dispatch, as provided by law and by mailed notice as provided by the rules of this Court.

Dated January 27th, 1930.

(Probate Court Seal) L. B. KINDER, Probate Judge.

Swanson, Swanson & Swanson, Attorneys, Brainerd, Minnesota. 202t3W

WOMEN SUFFERING BLADDER IRRITATION

If functional Bladder Irritation disturbs your sleep, or causes Burning or Itching Sensation, Backache, Leg Pains, or muscular aches, making you feel tired, depressed and discouraged, why not try the Cystex 48 Hour Test? Don't give up. Get Cystex today. Put it to the test. See for yourself how quickly it works and what it does. Money back if it doesn't bring quick improvement, and satisfy you completely. Try Cystex today. Only 60c. Johnson's Pharmacy and The Economy Drug Store. advt.

Try a Dispatch Want Ad For Best Selling Results

Dispatch Want Ads

Two cents per word for first insertion; one cent each issue thereafter.

HELP WANTED

WANTED—Competent maid who will go to Minneapolis. Call 682. 7226-208t2

WANTED—Reliable woman for general housework. Call at 403 Bluff Ave. Call 755-W. 7221-207t2

SALESLADIES — Real Silk can use two more neat appearing sales ladies in established local territory; references. Apply 708 Fidelity Bldg., Duluth, Minn. 7220-207t3

FOR SALE

FOR SALE — 3 cows. 1320 Norwood street S. E. 7228-208t3

FOR SALE—Property. 704 Oak St. S. 7185-203tf

FOR SALE — Female canary birds. 913 Main St. 7218-207t3

FOR SALE—Four fresh cows. Inquire Henry Roberts. 1702 Oak street. 7165-199tf

FOR SALE—All modern house. See or call A. C. Weber. Phone 495-J. 7208-205tf

FOR SALE—Two purebred Guernsey bull calves. W. D. Allston. Phone 243-M. 7209-205t9p

FOR SALE — Hudson coach, reasonable. 1716 Norwood street. 7219-207t3p

FOR SALE—One Guernsey bull calf, purebred. Gull Lake Dairy. Call 44-F-3. 7222-207t3

MONEY SAVERS

Bargains for January

Buick Coupe, 1923	$ 75.00
Dodge Touring, 1923	75.00
Whippet Light Delivery, 1928	200.00
Whippet Sedan, 1928	300.00
Reo Sedan, 1926	350.00
Chevrolet Sedan, 1928	400.00
Chevrolet Six Coach, 1929	475.00
Ford A Coupe, 1928	375.00
Ford Coupe, 1925	100.00

CONKLIN MOTOR CO.

Chevrolet Sales and Service

215 South Broadway Phone 236

7104-188t26

$1,000 INVESTOR'S SYNDICATE SAVINGS CERTIFICATE. Total of fourteen payments, amounting to $88.20 has been made. Will sacrifice for $70.00 cash. Call 722 between 5 and 7 P. M. tf

AUCTION — One of best teams of horses in Crow Wing county, weight 3300 lbs., 5 and 7 years old, also harness, sleighs and wagon, at Scotties Barn, 2 o'clock, Saturday. Chas. Gosse, owner. Conkin, auctioneer. 7227 208t3p

FOR RENT

FOR RENT — Modern room. Call 796-J. 7224-206

FOR RENT—Four room flat. Gruenhagen Co. 7130-194tf

FOR RENT—Two sleeping rooms 724 South 7th street. 7091-185tf

FOR RENT—5 room house. See Andy Wesley 7212-206t3p

FOR RENT—Modern room. Phone 128-J. 7207-205tf

FOR RENT — Small store room in Gardner block. Phone 754-W. 7223-207t3

TWO furnished rooms for light housekeeping. 319 N. 9th street. 7225-208tf

FOR RENT — Furnished rooms for light housekeeping at 412 12th street S. E. 7075-182tf

FURNISHED apartment for rent. Apply Gorham Studio. 7149-197tf

FOR RENT—Sleeping room, modern, garage. Mrs. Ellen Yde, 706 North Broadway. 7213-206t3p

Plumbing and Heating

ON MONTHLY PAYMENTS

DE ROSIER & MAGNAN

Phone 405-W 414 So. Sixth St.

FOR RENT — All modern six room house, 423 North Broadway. J. R. Smith. Phone 39. 7197-203tf

FOR RENT—Room, also garage. Call 671-J. 7140-196tf

FOR RENT—House, 307 South 7th St. Inquire 210 South 7th. J. E. Brady. 6756-142tf

FOR RENT — Five room apartment, strictly modern. Adults only. 617 North 7th St. 7054-180tf

FOR RENT—Desirable 6 room cottage, modern except heat. 109 Main street. Garage. J. R. Smith. Phone 39. 7196-203tf

FOR RENT—Three room apartment, unfurnished, gas range and electric refrigerator. Adults only. E. O. Webb. 7139-196tf

FOR RENT—Attractively furnished and unfurnished steam heated apartments with gas stoves, electric lights and full bath room equipment. Centrally located store room, office space, farms for rent and sale. Insurance. Phone 1. Gould-Gray Co. 4446-255tf

MISCELLANEOUS

FOR wood sawing call Alfred Daniels. Phone 490-W. 7215-206t12p

WOOD sawing wanted. Phone 618-R. Fred Austin. 7216-206t30

WANTED—Sewing. Any kind. Call 980-M. 7198-204t6

SUPPOSE you had an ad, even no larger than this. Don't you think people would read it? You did.

PLUMBING and HEATING

All kinds of pipes, fittings and valves

Call 69

L. W. SHERLUND

BIG BODY WOOD

Seasoned jack pine and poplar $7.00 cord, delivered. 12 and 16 inch wood $5.00 load. Call 585.

MRS. A. GUSTAFSON

191tf

Beware of Jack Frost Have That Radiator Repaired

The Right Way

BRAINERD RADIATOR AND BODY SHOP

617 Norwood Phone 222-W

A North Side Bargain

A very fine 7 room home, with furnace and bath, close in on North Side. Newly painted and in excellent condition. Priced for quick sale at

$2750

Convenient terms.

HITCH REALTY COMPANY

209½ South Sixth Street

Await News From Arctic Wastes

Siberian wastes may have claimed the life of Earl Dorland (inset), Lieut. Carl Ben Eielson's mechanic, but Mr. and Mrs. Dorland, his parents, won't believe it. They are seen here in their home, sitting before the radio, still hoping to hear of their boy's discovery in the Arctic.

(International Newsreel)

Stature Really Matter of Little Importance

When Japan emerged from splendid isolation and entered into competition with western nations, the abbreviated stature of the Nipponese was a source of worry to their leaders, remarks a writer in the Boston Globe.

They sent missions abroad to learn the tricks of occidental civilization.

One day a Japanese mission came home and reported that it had solved a great national problem. Weren't all the western peoples reared on a milk diet? Milk must therefore be the secret of raising a nation of tall men.

Immediately, the milk diet became the great Japanese hobby. The bigwigs in high government bureaus set the example. At intervals, they would enter carrying a tray of milk bracers.

"Ah," the bureaucrat would exclaim, as he tossed it off, and stretched himself.

But after an army of little runts had licked the Russians, the tallest nation in Europe, the Japanese stopped worrying about their stature.

Fair Enough

A poet says when he can't sleep he gets up and writes poems. That's fine. When we can't sleep we'll read them.—Detroit News.